

Pass in Review

Airline revises military fare

HONOLULU — Hawaiian Air Vice President of Marketing and Sales Al Keahi announced that the airline has filed a revision to its military fare tariff with the Civil Aeronautics Board.

The revision, effective immediately, will include members of the State of Hawaii National Guard units and all U.S. Armed Forces Reserve units based in Hawaii when they are on their annual active duty status.

The military fare (YM) amounts to approximately a 25 percent discount off the full fare and is good for any flight on any day. The passenger need not be in uniform but must present his military I.D. card to purchase the discount ticket. In order for members of the National Guard or a military reserve unit to take advantage of the discount, it is necessary for them to present their annual training orders at the time of purchase.

The intent of the filing is to give military personnel the opportunity to utilize their free weekends between training to travel home. Annual training summer camp is usually on Oahu and periodically on the Big Island at the Pohakuloa Training Area. Military personnel from throughout the state participate. The discount creates a stimulus to return home on their weekend passes.

"The idea of including these 'weekend warriors' in the YM tariff actually came from one of our own employees," Keahi said. "Cliff Flores, a reservations sales agent, made the suggestion recently through our employee community survey. He felt that many summer camp participants would welcome the opportunity to return home for the weekend between training if they could fly at the military discount."

League accepts nominees

Nominations for the Honolulu Council of Navy League Awards are being taken until Friday to honor 60 outstanding Navy, Marine Corps and Coast Guard junior officers and senior enlisted personnel.

Commanding officers from Hawaii-based commands and ships have been invited to select nominees on the basis of each individual's outstanding performance of duty, individual achievement, excellence in leadership, participation in community activities and military bearing and appearance.

The winners will be honored by the Navy League during a luncheon to be held Oct. 30 at the Hibiscus Ballroom in the Ala Moana Hotel.

Details of the awards program are contained in COMNAVBASEPEARLNOTE 5060 of July 23, 1981.

Maritime exercise underway

WASHINGTON — The South Atlantic, North Atlantic and East Coast phases of the largest U.S. maritime exercise in recent years — Exercise Ocean Venture 81 — are underway.

The South Atlantic phase has been in progress for a month and will continue until Sept. 26. Argentina, Brazil, Colombia, Uruguay and Venezuela are participating with United States units in combined naval task force operations through their normal participation in exercise Unitas XXII under the command of U.S. Commander, South Atlantic. U.S. participation includes units from the U.S. Air Force, Strategic Air Command.

The East Coast phase, under control of Commander, U.S. Second Fleet, involves U.S. anti-submarine warfare operations off the Virginia Capes, now through Sept. 19.

The North Atlantic phase, conducted Aug. 18 through Sept. 1, was under the operational command of Commander U.S. Second Fleet as carrier battle groups, initially operated against each other and then joined together for an opposed trans-Atlantic crossing. Units from the Tactical Air Command, SAC and the U.S. Coast Guard, along with units from Canada, The Federal Republic of Germany, the Netherlands, Portugal and the United Kingdom were also involved.

Ocean Venture 81 is the result of combining a series of previously scheduled exercises into a compressed time period in order to provide realistic and integrated training in a war-at-sea scenario.

Ocean Venture 81, in which more than 120,000 men and women, 250 ships and 1,000 aircraft from 14 countries will participate, is designed to demonstrate and improve the capability of U.S. and Western maritime forces to protect and maintain free use of sea lanes of communication.

G.I. Bill deadline nears

Time is running out for almost 900,000 Veterans to use educational benefits of the GI Bill, now in its 37th year. About one-fifth of the 4.3 million eligible veterans will lose their eligibility for benefits this year, according to the Veterans Administration.

The law permits a veteran to use the education benefits within 10 years following discharge, or by Dec. 31, 1968, whichever is earlier.

Since June 22, 1944, when the first measure was signed, 18 million veterans have received assistance under the GI Bill at a cost of $61 billion. This year the GI Bill will assist the education of more than 800,000 veterans.

Lateral moves and SRBP linked

HQMC, WASHINGTON — In one of the most significant enlisted manpower management changes in recent years, effective Oct. 1, both lateral moves and Selective Reenlistment Bonus payments will be made according to specific military occupational specialties, and not the overall occupational field.

ACCORDING TO manpower officials here, all lateral moves will be administered utilizing the same three zones used under the SRBP program. Due to this revision in the lateral movement program, Marines reenlisting for, or requesting, a lateral move in an undermanned MOS, will have a better opportunity for a bonus payment.

In the past, MOSs were categorized either "over," "balanced" or "short" by grade or grade groupings (E1-E3, E4-E5, E6, and E7). The results of this method often conflicted with the SRBP program which used "years of service" categories (Zone A, 2-6 years; Zone B, 7-10 years; and Zone C, 11-14 years) to determine if a particular occupational field should be awarded a bonus.

FOR EXAMPLE, MARINES may be listed in a "short" MOS by grade in the previous MOS Imbalances Bulletin (1220 series bulletins), thus restricting them from a lateral move out of the field. However, their skill may be listed as "over" in the appropriate SRBP zone, making them ineligible for a bonus.

The new lateral movement order (MCO 1220.5E) and current MOS Imbalance Bulletin 1220 will remedy this situation by combining the three zones with the criteria for lateral movement. With the new imbalance bulletin utilizing the same categories as the SRBP a Marine whose MOS is listed as "short" and who otherwise meets the eligibility requirements for a bonus payment, will be offered he same to reenlist.

ACCORDING TO THE order,

the lateral movement program "is designed to assist in meeting grade and year of service requirements among MOSs and within the occupational fields... retention of qualified Marines and the quantity and quality of skills needed to accomplish the overall mission."

All potential reenlistees who are eligible for a lateral move will be informed of that eligibility, along with the benefits of the program and those "short" MOSs for which they qualify.

For detailed and complete information regarding the lateral movement program, see MCO 1220.5E.

Security

Commandant emphasizes vital need for operational secrecy

HQMC, WASHINGTON — Security is an integral part of every Marine Corps exercise or operation, and in White Letter No. 9-81, the Commandant of the Marine Corps has emphasized that fact.

"SURPRISE IS A fundamental principle of war and can represent the decisive advantage in military operations," stated General Robert H. Barrow. "Tactical or strategic surprise requires effective denial of information to the enemy through continuous concealment of capabilities and intentions. Operations security is the principal means of achieving this end."

The Commandant underscored the fact that OPSEC is "a command responsibility" and should be incorporated into daily staff functions. "The requirement for OPSEC extends beyond Fleet Marine Force commanders; every element of the supporting establishment involved in the support, deployment or tactical employment of FMF units must ensure that an active and effective OPSEC program is maintained."

GEN BARROW STRESSED the significance of "surprise and security" during FMF deployments in response to crises. "In such deployments, the concealment of intentions can be greatly enhanced through frequent readiness or deployment drills and exercises," he explained. "The goal is for drills and exercises to become routine so that an actual alert, recall or crises contingency deployment provides little cause for attention or alarm."

Of extreme significance to the Commandant is the fact that OPSEC can be refined by close liaison with public affairs officers. "Early coordination with public affairs officers will prevent erroneous or inappropriate responses to press inquiries and will enhance security," he stated. "The judicious and limited release of information with regard to drills, exercises, alerts and deployments cannot be over-emphasized.

"FINALLY, A CRITICAL element in maintaining OPSEC is the continued sensitivity of the individual Marine to its importance and necessity," added the Commandant. "Training should teach Marines to emphasize to their families the nature and importance of operations security."

Concluding, the Commandant urges all Marines "to ensure that OPSEC is an integral part of every operation and exercise, and that secrecy and security are achieved at all times."

Amendment affects enlisted Marines

Change alters entitlement to allowance

HQMC, WASHINGTON — Enlisted Marines may reap benefits from the Defense Officer Personnel Management Act. Starting Sept. 15, it will mean more money for enlisted Marines while away from their permanent duty station.

ON THAT DATE, DOPMA (Public Law 96-513) changes Federal Law (Title 37 USC, Sec 402 (B)), dealing with enlisted service member entitlement to basic allowance for subsistence. The change entitles enlisted Marines to BAS while on authorized leave, confined in a hospital, or while performing travel under orders away from their duty station, other than field or sea duty.

With the addition of DOPMA, the option to provide subsistence in kind when members are in any of the above situations, no longer exists.

THE PURPOSE OF THE law is to provide the same treatment to enlisted service members as is currently available to officers regarding their entitlement to BAS.

The majority of Marines benefiting from the change will be those attending formal school training and participating in the Unit Deployment Program. According to manpower officials here, the change will not only benefit temporary additional duty Marines in their pockets, but will have a positive morale effect.

Currently, enlisted Marines on TAD to a camp, base or station where government dining facilities are available, do not receive any additional money for subsistence. If Marines elect not to dine in these facilities, they must use their own money to dine elsewhere.

WITH THE NEW entitlement to BAS, enlisted Marines will be given an allowance for dining at a food establishment of their choice.

According to the Department of the Navy, "the per diem/BAS amendment represents a significant improvement for enlisted members in a TAD status. It is also important to note that in addition to the meal portion of per diem, enlisted members will also receive their BAS and be able to use this amount of money for meals as they see fit."

The change will affect more than 4,500 Marines in the Unit Deployment Program on Okinawa, and approximately 1,255 Marines at Iwakuni.

New sergeant major posted

CAMP H.M. SMITH, Hawaii — Sergeant Major Raymond Morgan assumed SgtMaj John Olexa's post as the Fleet Marine Force, Pacific Sergeant Major during a ceremony held here Aug. 26.

Retiring after more than 30 years active duty, SgtMaj Olexa plans to reside with his wife and three of their six daughters in Fallbrook, Calif.

Beginning his career in 1944, SgtMaj Morgan served in the Atlantic, European and Pacific Theaters through June 1946. After World War II, the sergeant major was discharged.

He returned to active duty in March 1950, and from January 1951 to February 1966 SgtMaj Morgan served with the 2d Marine Division, Camp Lejeune, N.C.; Inspector-Instructor Staff, Trenton, N.J. and Los Angeles, Calif. in addition to serving a number of tours with the 3d MarDiv overseas.

From August 1969 to September 1970 the sergeant major was once again serving with the 3d MarDiv in Vietnam and then in Okinawa.

In September 1977, SgtMaj Morgan served as Station Sergeant Major, MCAS Yuma, Ariz., until he reported for duty here.

SgtMaj Morgan is married to the former Natalie Wilmot of Litchfield, Minn.

SHOWING THE WAY — The Station Chapel's newly erected cross draws attention to the chapel's presence. The cement cross replaces the termite-infested wooden cross that was attached to the chapel.

Cement cross guides the faithful's footsteps

Many signs catch the eyes of Marine Corps Air Station Chapel located in Kaneohe Bay residents.

They vary from simple traffic signs to elaborate displays of important or semi-important information.

One plain white sign has no words or other devices emblazoned on it, yet tells many observers that nearby is a refuge, a counselor and a place of worship.

THE SIGN is a simple symbol that has been seen throughout the United States since the first pilgrim came to this continent seeking religious freedom. The sign is a newly erected cross in front of the Station Chapel located in Building 1090.

The new cement cross replaces the termite-infested wooden one that was attached to the chapel itself.

And, according to Commander John Newton, Senior Station Chaplain, the new cross draws more attention to the chapel because its separation from the building gives it a higher visibility.

The cross was designed and constructed by personnel from the Facilities Department according to Cecil Hasegawa, Maintenance General Foreman. Steel rebars reinforce the cement cross and give it the strength to stand in the stormy winds that often pummel the Air Station.

But of course the cross is more than an engineering feat that will withstand the stormy winds that lash the earth; it represents the Station Chapel.

"A lot of people don't know where the chapel is so the cross will help them find it," said Lieutenant Commander Leroy Gilbert, Station Protestant Chaplain. "We hope that the new cross will act as a reminder that there is a religious activity center here."

Marine Corps' toughest billet

by Sgt Inez Stoner

The toughest job in the Marine Corps is not described in any MOS manual. It's a job without pay and there are no schools which you can attend to make you more proficient.

IF YOU DECIDE TO "reenlist," and many do, you won't get a monetary bonus. And if you're thinking about taking 30 days of leave every year, well, forget it.

The toughest job in the Marine Corps is not that of an infantry or artillery man and you won't find it in the motor pool or on the flight line.

You will, however, find it on the "home front." Yes, without a doubt, the toughest job in the Marine Corps is being a Marine Corps wife. And if you don't believe me, just ask one.

Sure, I could go down the list and tell you about all the things that the Marine Corps wife has to put up with. We could talk about the low pay and the long hours, the weekend duties, unfamiliar duty stations and lengthy deployments. But behind the mountain of cammies that have to be ironed is another mountain that has to be conquered.

BEING A MARINE CORPS wife means more than you might think. There's more to it than fixing dinner and washing clothes for a nine-to-five husband.

Being a Marine Corps wife at times means giving birth without your husband there to share the moment. It means celebrating anniversaries alone and fixing the car by yourself when you don't know the difference between a gas cap and a distributor cap.

Often it means being both mother and father to the children and trying to explain to them why daddy can't take them to the beach this weekend because he's on duty.

THE BEST BUDGET MANAGER in the world is the wife of a corporal trying to feed a family of four.

Being a Marine Corps wife means standing behind your husband when re-enlistment time rolls around. It means standing beside him when he puts on a new stripe. And sometimes, it means standing in front of him to lead him in the right direction when the going gets rough.

The Marine Corps wife must take over the roll of her husband while he is away on deployment or temporary additional duty. And, she must do it all, without him realizing that she really can do it all without him, and at the same time reassuring him that he is always needed.

A MARINE'S EGO is such a delicate thing that the Marine Corps wife must have an abundance of tact. While the husband is away, the Marine Corps wife must take the helm in all matters, but upon his return, she must tactfully, but immediately take the back seat.

For the Marine Corps wife the sacrifices are many, but the rewards are just as plentiful and at times can completely eclipse the heartaches.

Weekend duties quite often even out with an equal number of 72-or 96-hour passes. As you mark off each passing day on the calendar while he's away, the anticipation usually prompts an all out assault on the housework in preparation for his arrival. And as you watch your husband get off the ship after a long deployment, you suddenly forget the fact that he missed your daughter's first birthday party.

ALTHOUGH YOUR PERSONAL family may be temporarily separated, you will find, at no better time than this, that you have another family you can depend on. That Marine Corps family is always there to fill the void when you're "on your own."

It's a tough job and the woman who can handle the pressures, the pains, the joy, the separations and the reunions is a truly remarkable woman.

There are no commendations or medals suitable for the woman who marries a Marine, lives the life of a Marine Corps wife and still has dinner on the table by six... or eight... or 10... or whenever he gets off duty!

"Giving The Jarheads Whatfor"

SOUNDS LIKE SOMETHING was slipped into the water cooler in the Red Star newsroom in Moscow.

The newspaper published by the Soviet Defense Ministry pulled out the stops the other day in condemning the Reagan Administration's budget to extend the capability of the U.S. Marine Corps. The Marines, belittled Red Star, are "willing to murder, knife and rape, casting aside honor and conscience and forgetting everything that makes man different from an animal."

Then the Soviet newspaper warmed up. The Marine Corps' deployment "is a forceful proof of the hegemonistic course and aggressive schemes of U.S. imperialism and it's striving to bend other nations to its will by force of arms." The Red Star Stylebook, of course, requires at least one "hegemonistic" per paragraph and no doubt it's a short-tenured scribbler there who lapses into the passive voice in his writing.

BUT ITS SCATHING broadside seemed even more energetic than the standard Soviet hoo-hah. The traditional role of the Marine Corps has been "paving with fire and sword the way for American capital" and as having "wrought havoc (nice phrase, that) and practiced brute arbitrariness everywhere." Well, the Soviets are journeymen in both those qualities, of course, and when it comes to planning "fresh military ventures," as the defense ministry's mouthpiece alleged, Red Star staffers in Afghanistan are up-to-date in observing such exercises.

The paper's barrage was communist boilerplate, to be sure, while a Chevy Chase hostess might not wish to invite a platoon of line company Marines to a cocktail party, the Soviet characterization is risible. What it might accomplish, though, is to infuse another degree of esprit in a force that takes justified pride still in considering the profession of arms something other than a way to draw a paycheck.

IT IS PROBABLE, INDEED, that drill instructors and gunnery sergeants throughout the Corps may be reading the Red Star Dispatch to their troops — both for laughs and to get the martial juices flowing.

Providing intermediate maintenance for the 1st Marine Brigade is a big task, but not too big for the expert repairmen of Maintenance Company, Brigade Service Support Group, 1st Marine Brigade.

Maintenance Company is comprised of approximately 242 Marines. They are grouped into different work sections such as ordnance, motor transport, electronics, headquarters, maintenance, and general maintenance and supply.

Situated comfortably in a new $6 million complex, Maintenance Company could probably be considered as a hospital for sick equipment since "patients" ranging from calculators to typewriters, jeeps to amphibious assault vehicles, and handguns to huge howitzers, are brought there to be nursed back to health.

In addition to performing third and fourth echelon maintenance, the unit also provides repairmen for deployments and contact teams to repair equipment while in the field.

To enhance their repair capabilities, Maintenance Company recently added a machine called a Dynamometer that will enable them to repair and test any engine in the Brigade.

Future looks brighter for disabled veterans

The Veterans Administration is working to make life easier for disabled persons. Futuristic robotic aids are a key focus of the new Rehabilitative Engineering and Development Center in Palo Alto, Calif.

THROUGH combined efforts, Dr. Andre Perkash, Director of the VA Spinal Cord Injury Service, and Dr. Larry J. Leifer, Director of the VA Rehabilitative Engineering Development Center, are developing a robotic arm with a highly sensitive two-fingered hand, programmed by the user to perform any manual task. The arm is intended to replace prosthetic devices capable of performing only limited tasks, and promises, Leifer says, "to give the severely disabled person control of all the gadgets in our society."

A spin-off of the robotic device is the "intelligent" wheelchair. Ultrasound sensors and a micro-computer enable it to follow a wall at a constant distance and avoid running into things. It can also follow someone down the hall and stop if the person stops.

THE REHABILITATIVE Engineering Development Center is a joint enterprise of the VA and Stanford University's Schools of Medicine and Engineering. Accomplishments to date include the Optacon reading aid for the blind and a computerized heart monitoring system.

Perkash commented, "As we get further into 1981, the United Nations International Year of Disabled Persons, I believe we can say that things are certainly looking up for such persons. We're on the threshold of developing some marvelous devices that will enrich the lives of disabled persons and will make it easier for them to function normally and competitively in our society and in other societies and cultures."

Kickboxing match set

by LCpl Charlie Marshall

Private First Class Thomas Lopez of Company B, 1st Battalion, 3d Marines, will try to strip the current Hawaiian welter weight champion, Fred Cresantos, of his title in a full contact kickboxing match Sunday.

ALTOGETHER 12 bouts and one exhibition match, sanctioned by the World Karate Association, are scheduled at Conroy Bowl, Schofield Barracks, with the main event, Lopez vs. Cresantos.

PFC Lopez, fighting in the 145-pound open class, has an amateur record of 18 wins and 2 losses. He got his start in the Bronx, N.Y., eight and one half months ago as a boxer, and has studied Tae Kwon Do.

The Hawaiian Professional Heavyweight Kick Boxing Champion, Dana Goodson, refers to his as a "good fighter and a gentleman. He doesn't have much flash," says Goodson, "but he has excellent technique. It should be a dynamite fight."

A SECOND Marine entered into the competition is PFC Eric Coludrovich of the same company. Fighting in the novice 145-pound class, PFC Coludrovich has sparred with professionals in Mississippi. He fought once in a semi-contact bout but lost the close decision.

The third Marine fighter and the most experienced from the company is Corporal Rolando DeLaRosa. His experience received from fighting with the 1st Marine Division Karate Team and in the South Texas Championships should make him well qualified to go up against the light weight division title holder who has seven professional matches under his belt.

DANA GOODSON spoke highly of the Marines' preparations for the bouts. "They should do well. All the matches are pretty even but the Marines show good spirit and keep themselves physically fit."

Cpl DeLaRosa speaking for the Marines said, "At the time of the bout we will have had only 10 good training days. We're in pretty good shape, but we still need to polish our style. We're not going to be push-overs and if they think so, we have a surprise for them."

Fighters from the Army and Air Force will also have their shot at the seven championships on the line.

"WE HAD championship bouts last month in Hilo and I'm trying to schedule more matches for the end of this year. After the program starts running smoothly we will send fighters to the mainland and have their champions fight here. We have the potential for a well organized league," Goodson concluded.

H & R BLOCK TO OFFER TAX SCHOOL IN HAWAII

Thousands of people are earning money in their spare time as income tax preparers. H & R Block, the world's largest income tax preparation service, is offering a basic income tax course starting September 9 and 10 with morning, afternoon and evening classes available at 12 area locations. During the 12 week course, students will study all phases of income tax preparation and receive actual experience in preparing individual returns.

Experienced Block personnel will teach current laws, theory and application as practiced in Block offices nationwide. There is a classroom lecture on each subject and practice problems at every level. Courses are programmed to teach students increasingly complex tax problems as study progresses. Students will find the course both interesting and challenging.

Anyone may enroll. There are no restrictions or qualifications. Courses are ideally suited for housewives, retired persons, teachers or persons wanting to increase their tax knowledge.

Qualified course graduates may be offered job interviews for positions with Block. Many accept employment with Block because of the flexible hours available. However, Block is under no obligation to offer employment, nor are graduates under any obligation to accept employment with H & R Block.

The modest course fee includes all textbooks, supplies and tax forms necessary for completion of the school. Certificates will be awarded upon successful completion of the course. The course is licensed by the Hawaii Department of Education.

Registration forms and brochures for the income tax course may be obtained by contacting the H & R Block offices at 98-1268 Kaahumanu St., Pearl City, telephone 487-0450, or 662 Ala Moana Blvd., Honolulu, telephone 521-4383.

Uncle Sam combats federal fraud

Promising careers of three armed forces members and a civilian employee were suddenly interrupted when they were caught cheating Uncle Sam recently.

A BELOW-THE-ZONE 0-4 selectee had been receiving married rate BAQ for a number of years since his divorce. His protests of "I forgot to stop it," and "honest mistake" were undercut by his annual recertifications of dependency in the years following his divorce. In addition to his Article 15, he must reimburse the government the amount of overpayment — and he will do it from an O-3's pay.

Staff noncommissioned officer, described as a sure bet for E-8, packaged concrete blocks and shipped them as household goods in his do-it-yourself permanent change of station move. The inflated weight brought him several extra "bonus" dollars. He got an Article 15, suspended bust and a sizeable forfeiture — several times the amount of his "bonus."

AN E-3 selected for special career training reported the theft of his stereo system from his dormitory room. He filed a claim and was reimbursed for the loss. Investigation later revealed the E-3 had sold his stereo to a friend and faked the theft in a scheme to finance a costly new system. His official statement concerning the theft and false claim for reimbursement resulted in an Article 15 and an other than honorable discharge — nor will he go to college at Uncle Sam's expense.

The civilian employee, recently promoted and in line for supervisory duties, filed temporary additional duty vouchers claiming air travel and non-availability of government quarters. He was paid accordingly, but the truth was that he used his privately owned vehicle and stayed on base with a friend. His airline and motel receipts were false. He was fired.

THE PLAIN fact is that the Department of Defense loses huge amounts of money and resources each year through fraud and its noncriminal correlates, waste and abuse. Who is responsible? There are many popular theories, but the largest contributors, by far, are dishonest people.

These criminals are a small percentage of the honest, professional service family, but their illegal acts disproportionately account for a huge share of the annual loss. Who pays for the acts of these crooks? You do!

WHAT CAN YOU do? If you see or suspect an irregularity, discuss it with your commander or other unit official. Or call the local criminal investigation office.

The federal government is gearing up for war against fraud, waste and abuse. The services have already won some battles.

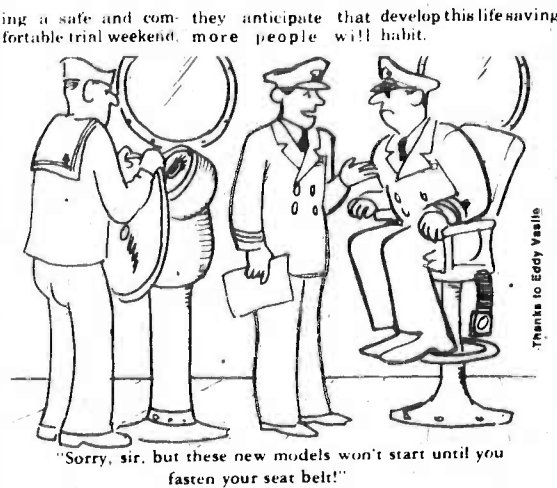

If the war is won, the vigilance and awareness of all members is needed. — taken from an article appearing in Lowry Airman Lowry Air Force Base, Colo.

Make it click—buckle up

This summer the National Safety Council and the Department of Defense are asking the public to make a special effort to wear their safety belts over the Labor Day weekend.

"Make it click—buckle up" is a national campaign to ask people to use their safety belts.

By getting people to use their safety belts over this dangerous period, DoD officials hope that people will realize that safety belts are easy to use—they take just six seconds to click on. After once experi-

ALL ABOUT HAIR...

Everyone wants beautiful shiny bouncy hair, and the basis of healthy hair is its condition. If most people are willing to condition their hair to death to achieve this goal. While many heads of hair need conditioning, most people could achieve this goal by the use of a good shampoo. Often times people use an alkaline shampoo and then try to correct the resulting situation with an expensive conditioner. The first step to healthy hair is finding the right shampoo for your individual needs and then using it long enough to let it do its job. The most important thing to consider in buying a good shampoo is its pH. Now what is pH? pH stands for POTENTIAL HYDROGEN and it measures whether a substance is acid or alkaline a pH chart has a scale of 0 to 14, from 0 to 7 is acidic and from 7 to 14 is alkaline. When something is called pH balanced that means it has a pH of 7 which is neutral. Human hair is at its greatest strength, luster, and elasticity when in a slightly acidic state which varies from 4.5 to 5.5 on the pH scale. But it is not enough to say that a shampoo should have an acid pH. We must also be aware of the need to replace protein that is destroyed in the hair through chemical services and harsh elements. Many of the shampoos on the market are acid balanced and contain protein, but very few have both of these elements. Also the protein used must be hydrolyzed protein. In other words it must have a low molecular weight that allows the protein to be absorbed by the hair, not just coat the surface. A few years ago you couldn't buy a good protein shampoo in the drugstore, but now many companies are trying to copy professional shampoos. So why buy a coppy in a beauty salon? Many of these shampoos have plastics and resins that coat the hair and scalp. When you first use them you have shiny bouncy hair but after a few weeks your hair becomes limp and gets dirty much faster and many times the excess buildup will cause your scalp to peel. Thus the necessity to change shampoo every week. As professionals we have at our disposal all the best results with the REDKEN and NEXUS products. Everyone in our salon is trained to help you select which of these shampoos is best for you, so please feel free to give us a visit!!!!

Next week — customized shampoo's — how to deal with oily and dry conditions, also chemically damaged hair. Till then have a very nice week!!!!

The Officers' Wives Club is sponsoring the event. Reservations are not necessary and the cost is 25 cents.

The Sign-up Coffee is designed to acquaint prospective members with upcoming activities and to afford them the opportunity to meet other officers' wives.

Beatrice Krauss from Lyon Arboretum will discuss "Plants Used By The Ancient Hawaiians" during the Armed Services YMCA Outreach's weekly Women's Awareness Program Sept. 9 from 9 to 11 a.m. Topics will include plants used for eating, dyeing cloths, and medicinal purposes. The discussion will be held in Building 455 at the Air Station.

Transportation and child care are available, but reservations are necessary. For reservations or information, call Armed Services YMCA Outreach at 254-4719/4965.

Armed Services YMCA Outreach is sponsoring a demonstration by Francis Tom, Certified Food Executive, entitled "Hawaiian Pupus and Decorative Vegetable Carvings." The demonstration will be held Sept. 16 from 9 to 11 a.m. during the weekly Women's Awareness Program, in Building 455 on the Air Station. There will be a charge of $1 per adult, which includes admission and many tasty samples.

Transportation and child care are available, but reservations are necessary. For reservations or information call 254-4719/4965.

BEYOND THE GATES — "Cosmic Curiosities" will be featured at the new Planetarium show beginning Tuesday, at the Bishop Museum Planetarium. The night sky may appear to the naked-eye observer as a peaceful panorama of placid stars. In reality, astronomers' telescopes reveal a universe filled with a great variety of celestial objects.

Shows daily, Monday through Sunday, at 3:15 p.m. and Friday and Saturday at 8 p.m. Call Bishop Museum at 847-3511 for further information and admission fees.

CHEAP SHOTS — PEARL HARBOR, HI. — The Pearl Harbor Navy ship that starred in a television episode of Hawaii Five-O with Jack Lord, will be the September Visit Ship at Pearl Harbor.

The sailors of the frigate USS Whipple will welcome visitors aboard for guided tours through the ship's spaces Saturday from noon until 4 p.m.

A key job of the Whipple is anti-submarine warfare. It has the most up-to-date long range underwater sound detection equipment in the fleet as well as highly sophisticated radar and communications systems.

The Whipple also holds the distinction of rescuing 410 Vietnamese refugees from a 60-foot fishing boat in the South China Sea several years ago. This was one of the largest in the history of the Pacific Fleet.

Visitors coming to Pearl Harbor should enter through Nimitz (the Main) Gate where directions and maps to the 438 foot ship will be provided by the Marine sentry.

Reservations are not required and ample free parking is available near the ship. Large groups are also welcome. A shuttle bus from downtown and the Arizona Memorial Visitors Center is also available by calling 947-5015.

New Programs and Faculty Expanded

Dramatic Growth for Hawaii Pacific College

"Hawaii Pacific College has grown dramatically these past several years," says Hawaii Pacific College President Chaff G. Wright. "Student enrollment has led the way. The College's overall student body reached a record high of 1,971 for the spring semester of 1981. This represents a tenfold increase from 1972, when the College had approximately 200 students."

"However, our expansion has not been limited to our student body alone," Wright continues. "Since 1976 Hawaii Pacific College has doubled its full-time faculty, enlarged its downtown campus facilities, established a new computer center for student use, fielded an intercollegiate athletic program, and has expanded its curricular offerings in business administration and liberal arts."

At the June 25, 1981, meeting of the College's Board of Trustees, Wright announced that the College's faculty had completed a year-long curriculum development project. Hawaii Pacific's liberal arts curriculum has been expanded to include new majors in English, the Social Sciences, the Humanities, American Studies, and Teaching English as a Second Language. HPC's successful School of Business Administration was also carefully studied, and new academic concentrations were developed. Majors in Accounting, Economics, Management, Management Science, Computer Science, and Travel Industry Management have been added to the curriculum. In sum, approximately 40 courses have been added to the overall HPC curriculum.

In order to support Hawaii Pacific's expanded curriculum, Wright announced that the College has hired three new full-time faculty. Joining HPC this fall are Dr. Patricia Clancy, Mr. Robert Lally, and Mr. Roger Prince. Also joining the faculty as an Adjunct Professor of Travel Industry Management is Dr. Edward M. Barnet. The College also employs approximately 70 adjunct faculty who, while working professionally in the business world or for other institutions, teach part-time in their areas of expertise.

President Wright reported to the College's trustees that Hawaii Pacific's administration has been reorganized and enlarged to meet the needs of an expanding student body and faculty. Dr. Wilbert L. Hindman is the College's new Dean Emeritus. Dr. Hindman, 69, leaves his current post as Academic Dean on September 1, 1981, in his new capacity as Dean Emeritus. Dr. Hindman will advise and assist the College's academic programs and will also teach for the Business Administration School. Francis S. Logan, who is spending the summer at the University of Southern California in Los Angeles completing doctoral degree requirements, will return to HPC this fall as the new Dean of Academics. Logan has served in the capacity of Assistant Dean for the past five years and is well versed in academic administration according to Wright. To assist Dean Logan, Dr. Arnold R. Lipkind will serve as Assistant Dean for On-campus Programs and Dr. Helen G. Chapin will hold the position of Assistant Dean for Off-campus Programs.

In outlining Hawaii Pacific's growth and expansion plans to the Board of Trustees, President Wright stated, "We are all very pleased with the progress Hawaii Pacific has made. Our increases have resulted from intensive planning efforts. Several years ago our trustees, faculty, and staff committed themselves to the careful development and growth of Hawaii Pacific College. Our recent successes have been a product of this commitment."

"We have a strong people-oriented administration which will greatly assist the College in its continued development. Our faculty is especially well qualified, and we are very pleased that we have been able to increase significantly the number of full-time faculty at the College. And finally, the entire HPC community is gratified that this College is emerging as an important educational resource for the state of Hawaii."

President Wright also reported that HPC is doing quite well financially. Wright stated, "For the fifth consecutive year HPC has posted a surplus of revenues over expenditures. This means that the College continues to be debt-free, and with our current surplus we will be able to finance internally our growth and development."

President Wright added that, "I am very happy to say that generous contributions from our many supporters and benefactors have added approximately $300,000 to the College's Endowment Fund. Our Endowment Fund, which was established just two short years ago, now has a value of $574,000."

Under Edward Barnet's Leadership

HPC Launches Travel Industry Management Program

Hawaii Pacific College President Chaff G. Wright today announced that the College will be offering a new degree program in Travel Industry Management. The first course for the new Travel Industry Management program will be offered beginning with the fall semester of 1981. President Wright also announced that Dr. Edward M. Barnet, former Dean and founder of the Travel Industry Management School at the University of Hawaii, will join Hawaii Pacific as a special consultant to this program and as an Adjunct Professor of Travel Industry Management.

Dr. Barnet will launch the first course entitled (TIM 300) "Management of Travel Industry Institutions, Agencies, and Their Infra-structure." This course is designed to be the keystone course for Hawaii Pacific's new program and will give students a panoramic survey of the travel and visitor industries. Dr. Barnet will cover such topics as travel demand and supply; policies; organization; personnel; facilities; methods and controls of such related institutions as airlines, hotels, restaurants; journalism; finance; marketing; land development; statistical analysis; political complexities; trade associations; and environmental protection.

Hawaii Pacific will also offer several other courses under the Travel Industry Management program this coming year. These courses include: (TIM 310) Hotel and Resort Management, (TIM 320) Food and Beverage Management, (TIM 330) Travel Industry Marketing, (TIM 340) Travel Institutional Controls, and (TIM 399) Selected Topics in Travel ### Industry Management.

A major component of Hawaii Pacific's new Travel Industry Management program is an internship program. Under this program students are required to complete a minimum of 750 hours of paid work experience in the travel industry. HPC's Cooperative Education Program will place students in visitor industry jobs. In this way, college baccalaureate degree graduates will be well prepared to enter travel and visitor industry jobs upon graduation.

Dr. Barnet stated, "The travel industry calls for highly qualified personnel. This is especially true because the industry is faced with many serious economic challenges to its future success. Travel Industry Management graduates will have to understand the techniques of business management as well as cultural and social impacts in terms of the history and mores of the people in each destination area. Requirements in the arts and sciences are mandatory as are courses in computer science, sociology, and the like. The role of key functionaries who make the travel industry work cannot be left out of the mosaic that combines many small enterprises into a pattern called the travel industry, an industry of colossal size and significance. For example, travel today can be spoken about in truly dramatic terms; via the airline industry in 1981 may lose close to one billion dollars, yet the total travel industry makes travel the largest single item in world trade. For Hawaii it generates 25% of the gross state product! Travel is an industry that is labor intensive even though one Boeing 747 may be worth over $50 million and hotels are rising at a cost of well over $100,000 per room. Such vital statistics dramatize the need for more and better educated people to cope with world resource development in this field."

Dr. Barnet continued, "Because the travel industry is so vital to the state of Hawaii, I am very happy to assist Hawaii Pacific College with its new Travel Industry Management program. Many more local residents need the opportunity to receive a quality education for this important industry. I look forward to working with the College in developing this new program. I also look forward to the opportunity to work with young men and women who wish to prepare for careers in the travel and visitor industries."

Dr. Barnet comes to Hawaii Pacific College with a very impressive background. He has earned two degrees from Harvard (B.S. and M.B.A.) and holds a Ph.D. from Columbia University. Dr. Barnet's academic experience includes professorships at Buffalo, Toronto, Columbia, Northwestern, Michigan State, and the University of Hawaii. Barnet was in the military in Panama and Europe in World War II. And he also has industrial experience in retailing, wholesaling, and manufacturing. He is a member of the board of the Friends of the East-West Center, Lanakila Rehab Center, and the Tongg Publishing Company. He is the outgoing president of the Waikiki Rotary Club.

HPC Athletics: Winding Up and Winging

HPC Basketball Coach Tommy Asinai

Hawaii Pacific College continues to expand its athletic program. The 1981-82 academic year will see the "Sea Warriors" embark upon their third season in the National Association of Intercollegiate Athletics (NAIA), fielding what is hoped to be a vastly improved team in basketball. In addition, HPC will have teams in volleyball, golf, softball, and for the first time, in baseball.

What began just short years ago as a pretty much hit-or-miss athletic endeavor has developed into a first-class sports program under Athletic Director Pedro "Pete" Velasco, Jr., literally a living legend in the Hawaii sports fraternity.

The main athletic attraction at HPC has been basketball. This season, the "Sea Warriors" will be operating under new head coach Tommy Asinai, a long-time name in Hawaii sports circles. Tommy has a storied background, having attended at Iolani School, Hawaii Preparatory Academy and Kaimuki High School. He then attended Ohio State University and did his coaching apprenticeship in both basketball and football at the Kamehameha Schools. This past year, Tommy was an aide in the HPC volleyball program and was a key factor in the "Sea Warriors" success in both the men's and women's volleyball efforts.

Tommy Asinai's philosophy is in perfect tune with HPC. "Education first," he says. "But if we're putting an athletic team on the floor or on the field, let's make it a winning effort."

Except for those fine players who have graduated, the likes of Willie Carter and Conrad Shidaki, Tommy expects to welcome back a majority of those from last season's squad.

In the meantime, Athletic Director Velasco and Chief Recruiter John Awong, Jr., have not been idle. It appears the incoming crop of newcomers in both basketball and volleyball will make the "Sea Warriors" most competitive during the coming year.

A new and exciting sport HPC hopes to develop during the '81-82 academic year is baseball. In another major step forward, the downtown college has signed on Pat Kuniyoshi, a product of the University of Hawaii and Lihoua High School, to guide its baseball fortunes as head coach. Pat plans to get the baseball program off and running during the Spring months of 1982.

The Hawaii Pacific golf team will be teeing it up again in the Fall. Coaches Jim Lathrop and Wes Alnutt hope to have a good group for HPC's second on the links. Expected back are low handicappers Kenny Goo, Alden Kunimitsu and Kaleo Evans on the men's team, while distaffer Gwen Fletcher also is expected back. Gwen, a transfer from Colorado State University, had a super year at HPC in 1981, annexing among other things, the championship of the Sheraton-Molokai's Women's Open.

The men's softball team will be back in action this Autumn. The "Sea Warriors" softballers, with a number of returning veterans, will be defending

Career Education Through CO-OP Education

AT HAWAII PACIFIC COLLEGE, Cooperative Education is an important option in the academic program. The primary objective of the "Co-op" program is to provide an opportunity for students to alternate academic study with off-campus employment. The program helps students earn funds that may be needed to support and complete their education by providing various business and government positions. The downtown location of the College is ideal as it is where most jobs are available for student placement. It also gives them off-campus experiences that enrich their total education and academic and/or career goals. The cooperative education experience enables students to blend theory with practice and gives classroom experience relevance not usually available in today's college setting. Students who are already employed within their career field may bring their current job into the Cooperative Education Program.

Don Barlow, Director of the program, has announced that students can earn up to twelve units of elective credits, six in lower-division courses and six in upper-division courses. Three credits are earned each semester for jobs requiring at least twenty hours of work per week. The credits are included in the 120 credits necessary to graduate.

In addition, the Cooperative Education office assists students in the Travel Industry Management Program by obtaining positions in tourist-oriented companies. This would include job opportunities in hotels, travel companies, food service companies, retail stores, and other positions within the travel industry. Students taking the TIM program are eligible for the Internship Program and can earn three credits per semester for four semesters to a total of twelve academic credits.

Football Guide

Schedules for Preps, Pros, Colleges

Preps poised for crown chase

By DENNIS
ANDERSON
Sun Press Sports Editor

The 14-week process whereby the bright prospects of August are turned into the shattered dreams of November for tens of thousands of Islanders is underway.

High school football season has begun.

At the end, one team will stand supreme. One group of alumni will triumphantly pour their beer in the Aloha Stadium parking lot. Years from now, one group of fans will remember each key play 10 yards longer than it really was.

For the other two hundred thousand or so, wait 'til next year.

The official elimination process begins the weekend after Labor Day. The games played last weekend and on the coming weekend are just tuneups; their results can be very illuminating or very misleading.

Which two teams will glare across the line at each other in the Prep Bowl on Nov. 27?

Will Waianae represent the OIA for the fifth time in the last seven years?

Will Kamehameha be the ILH champ for the sixth time in the last eight years?

Or will another Iolani rise from nowhere like in 1980? Or another Kaiser as in 1979?

We've provided special "blanks" in our listing of the high school football schedules on the next few pages. The idea is that you can fill in the blanks with the score as the games are played during the season, thus have a handy way of keeping track of your favorite prep team all fall.

The answers will unfold, with agonizing slowness for some and terrifying speed for others, over the next three months.

It's hard to find anybody who won't go with Waianae as the team to beat in the OIA. It's a pretty safe bet. In Larry Ginoza's 16 years as coach of the Seairiders, they have won 133 games, lost 17 and tied 5 and taken home the Big Trophy in three of the eight Prep Bowls that have been played (Kamehameha also has three).

But there are others who share the attitude of Nanakuli High coach Dick Engler, who with refreshing candor quips: "Waianae is always the team to beat, so look for Nanakuli to do just that."

Other pretenders to the throne? Depends on who you ask.

Kaiser, Farrington, Castle, Kahuku, Radford, Leilehua, Waipahu. Even McKinley, Pearl City, Kalaheo and Mililani are unbeaten in league play as of today.

In the ILH, the only team somebody doesn't favor is Pac-5, and they've got 37 returning lettermen from a team that defeated Kam last year!

Some of the best high school players ever to pull on cleats in Hawaii graduated last June (and the University of Hawaii, happily, got 12 of the top 15, as is reported elsewhere in this section).

But there are ones just as good or even better stepping into their shoes: Kamehameha and Iolani of Kaiser, Hire of Pearl City, Pappalardo of Castle, Milwood of Mililani, Ho of Kalani and a dozen others, known and unknown ... yet.

Behind them are still more. Pearl City, Leilehua and Kalaheo have ninth grade players this year — all products of Pop Warner football — who figure prominently in varsity plans.

In the regular pages of the five regional editions of today's Sun Press, the football outlook at the 10 public high schools within the reach of the Sun Press are reported in detail.

Their successes ... and their failures ... and their prospects for the next game will be reported each Wednesday throughout the fall in the Sun Press.

Come on along with us.

It's going to be a heckuva interesting football season.

Here's your schedule of NFL '81 TV games

Armchair quarterbacks in Hawaii will have a selection of nearly 75 regular-season National Football League games to watch on television this fall.

In addition, present plans call for the post-season playoffs and Super Bowl to be beamed live to Hawaii via satellite.

KHON-TV (Channel 2) and KGMH-TV (Channel 9) plan to carry some 30 games live — or nearly so — on Sunday mornings, while KITV-TV (Channel 4) lists on its schedule 22 of the so-called Monday Night Football Games, which also will be staged on a few other nights of the week again this season.

Channel 2 has provided the San Press with a list of all NFL games it plans to televise this fall, although the list is subject to change during the season. A station official said all games will be televised live.

Channel 9 has furnished a list of games it plans to televise during September and part of October. A station spokesman said other games — including a number of Sunday morning doubleheaders — will be selected as the season progresses to assure Hawaii residents that they will see the week's most crucial contests.

The official said Channel 9's telecasts will be delayed by about 90 seconds — unlike last year, when the station touched off a furor among fans by delaying telecasts here by 30 minutes so that additional commercials could be inserted.

The Monday night games on Channel 4 (there also will be some games on Thursday, Friday and Sunday nights) will all be delayed by about 2-3 hours, and are slated to begin at 6 p.m. (Hawaii time).

Here is the 1981 NFL schedule, with games scheduled to be televised in Hawaii listed in bold:

1,700 kids to tackle HYSL action

More than 1,700 players on 57 to 65 teams will begin play Sept. 19 in the ninth season of Hawaii Youth Sports League (HYSL) tackle football competition.

The league is coordinated by the U.S. Army Support Command at Fort Shafter but includes more civilian teams (in 10 communities) than military (eight communities).

Boys and girls play in four ages divisions:

Termite — 8 and 9 year olds, 80 pounds maximum.

PeeWee — 10 and 11 year olds, 110 pounds maximum.

Midget — 12 and 13 year olds, 135 pounds maximum.

Bantam — 14-16 year olds, 165 pound maximum.

The age limits were lowered one year in each age division this year.

Nobody is cut in the HYSL. The first 30 players to sign up are on a team; if many more sign up, another team must be formed.

Coaches are required to use each player in at least eight plays in each game.

Most of the teams also have cheerleader squads.

The HYSL season annually concludes with the Pan American Bowl at Aloha Stadium, this year on Dec. 12.

In the Pan American Bowl format, four teams each play one-half in each game; there were 22 teams involved last year including visitors from the Mainland and Guam.

There are HYSL franchises ranging from Kahala to Kailua to Schofield Barracks to Makakilo — 18 communities in all.

There is no cost for obtaining an HYSL charter, but teams are assessed for officials and equipment.

Paul Nishimoto, at Fort Shafter, is the HYSL commissioner.

A unique aspect of HYSL sports is that there are no official standings and no champions declared. "The game is the thing," says Nishimoto.

Island talent will aid Rainbows' 1981 chances

By STEVE TODD

When UCLA assistant Dick Tomey was hired as the University of Hawaii's 17th head football coach prior to the 1977 season, there was some concern that the quest for Division I respectability might jeopardize the team's "island" flavor. Tomey's first four-year cycle at the helm of Rainbow Warrior Football, however, has proven those fears to be groundless.

Consider the squad's latest fall roster. More than half of the 112 student-athletes on the team graduated from Hawaii high schools. There's a "home-grown" Jesse Sapolu for every "imported" Gary Allen, a Falaniko Noga for every Steve Lohor.

"We don't have any kind of quota as far as Hawaii athletes are concerned," said Tomey, who has led the Rainbow Warriors to a 25-19 mark in his first head coaching assignment. "We're looking for athletes who can play Division I football and, obviously, you can find a lot of them right here."

According to the roster, Tomey has found at least 57 Division I candidates in the state and at least two others with roots in Hawaii who played high school ball on the Mainland. Those 57 hail from 25 different schools — 18 Oahu Interscholastic Association, five Interscholastic League of Honolulu and two outer-island institutions.

"I think those numbers mean a lot of things," said Tomey. "They mean our local scouting has improved, we've developed a better working relationship with high school coaches and, more importantly, they mean that more of the top athletes want to stay home."

"When I accepted this job, it seemed that most of the blue chip athletes were heading for Mainland schools," added Tomey. "Now they realize that they can play a high level of football without going anywhere."

"They see what our teams have achieved over the past four years, they see the great turnouts at Aloha Stadium, they see the new facilities and see that our program is gaining in recognition and respect. They want a part of it. They want to play for their family, friends and the people of Hawaii."

Tomey feels the last recruiting drive netted 12 of the top 15 seniors in the state.

The current roster includes 43 OIA veterans, 11 from the ILH and three from the Neighbor Islands.

OIA representatives include: Campbell — K Lee Larsen, DT Reggie Robinson; Castle — OG Ransen Borges, DB Aui Fitsemanu, ILB Doug Kyle, OLB Alvis Satele; Farrington — DL William Danielson, NG Falaniko Noga, OG Jesse Sapolu, DT Semeri Ulufale; Kahuku — DT Kesi Afalava, DB Louis Santiago; Kailua — WR Charles Sumner, Kaimuki — DB Ricker Mikami; Kaiser — OLB Bryan Almadova, WR John Goetas, NG Larry Goetas, C Parson Iosua, DB Richard Miano, TB Boyd Yap; Kalaheo — WR Merv Lopez; Leilehua — WR Kyle Mosley; McKinley — DT Don Crichton; Mililani — DB Lloyd Ingram; Moanalua — P Tom McCarthy, FB Watson Tanuvasa; Pearl City — C Brian Derby; Radford — OG Adam Joy, DB Matt Manana, OL Geoff McDonald, DT Jack Sims, DB Marty Sims, K Richard Spelman; Roosevelt — WR Ray Butler; Waialua — C Noland Baker, OT Raschad Galimba; Waianae — QB Michael Beasley, ILB Nathan Fletcher, OL Quentin Flores, DT Emlen Kahoano, DB Max Manesfaiga, DT Mark Tuinei; Waipahu — OLB Andy Moody.

ILH candidates include: Danien — OLB Brian Cambra, ILB Ana Tuiaoso; Iolani — DB Dirk Apao; Kanehameha — OL Keith Ah Yuen, OG Tim Clark, DB Nathan Dudoit, OT Kani Kaui; Maryknoll — OLB Greg Larsen; St. Louis — TB Dino Arellano, C Doug Nomura, TB Russell Valente.

Outer-islanders include: Kapaa (Kauai) — OL Bernard Carvalho; Waiakea (Hawaii) — OT Samson Kela, DB Kalei Young.

Two other residents, who prepped on the Mainland, are quarterback Vince Acochido of Kailua and fullback Danny Lei of Waianae.

Hawaii's investments certainly have paid big dividends in recent seasons. Just one Western Athletic Conference team and two members of the PAC-10 can match the Rainbow Warriors' three consecutive winning seasons. The 'Bows earned their finest Division I record in 1980 by posting an 8-3 mark which included six wins in the last seven contests.

Recent intersectional wins or near wins against such powers as Arizona State, Arizona, South Carolina, West Virginia, USC and Temple have generated record interest in the UII program. People who were wondering five years ago if the Rainbow Warriors could fill Aloha Stadium are now wondering whether a 50,000-seat stadium can adequately meet the future demand. Average home attendance has increased 112 per cent during Tomey's tenure — from barely 20,000 fans per game to nearly 43,000. With a better WAC beginning, attendance records could be surpassed for the fifth straight season.

Pop Warner play begins

Pop Warner Football began with four boys teams in Philadelphia in 1929.

This month, tens of thousands of teams nationwide, including boys and girls, will open the 52nd season of Pop Warner Football.

About 50 teams will kick off the 25th season of Oahu Conference Pop Warner Football on Sept. 19.

There are also Pop Warner leagues on Kauai, Maui and the Big Island and many of the teams travel for interisland games after their regular season concludes. Some travel to the Mainland.

Official weigh-ins will be held this weekend and most teams still have room for players, according to Oahu Pop Warner Commissioner Duane Radford.

Persons interested in the program may telephone Radford at home, 395-4191, or at work, 671-2841.

"There are a couple of teams that will not be able to enter the league unless they get a few more players. Girls can play, too," noted Radford.

Release of the schedule has been delayed because of the uncertainty of some teams, Radford said.

Pop Warner dropped its Pantam Division on Oahu this year because of declining interest and now fields teams at two age levels:

Pee Wee is for 9-12 year olds; minimum weight is 65 pounds, maximum for 11 year olds is 100 pounds and maximum for 12 year olds is 84.

Midgets is for 11 to 14 year olds; minimum weight is 90 pounds and maximum is 130 for 13 year olds and 110 pounds for 14 year olds.

Most teams have cheerleader squads and Pop Warner also has a national scholarship program.

Play on Oahu is in four divisions. The North covers from Waianae to Waipahu and Mililani; the West from Pearl City to Palama; the South from Punchbowl to Hawaii Kai and the East from Waimanalo to Hauula.

In November, the four division champions play off and the two winners in each age division and the two winners in Pee Wee and Midgets meet in the annual Mele Kalikimaka Bowl at Aloha Stadium.

Last year, Pearl City won the Midget Division in a special tie-breaker over Wahiawa after the teams deadlocked 8-8 and Palama defeated Hawaii Kai for the Pee Wee title.

This year's Mele Kalikimaka Bowl game is scheduled Dec. 20.

It will include cheerleading contests between, before, after and at halftime of the two games.

'Bows are WAC contenders

At least on paper, the 'Bows resemble serious conference contenders. The consensus of football preview magazines holds that Hawaii will trail only defending champion Brigham Young in the final WAC standings. One publication even installed the Rainbows as favorites, a point which leaves Tomey with mixed emotions.

"You have to favor BYU again," he said of the Holiday Bowl winner. "BYU hasn't lost a really meaningful conference game in three years. Still, if somebody picks us No. 1 it means that our program is gaining some recognition and respect. I feel that's a tribute to what our players have achieved during the past few seasons."

Hawaii has no fewer than 40 lettermen in camp, but graduation created some major question marks. The team must replace starters at quarterback, center, long-snapper and guard. It must replace three frontliners in the secondary, a defensive tackle and an all-around kicking specialist. Substitutes must also be found for team leaders such as Blane Gaisson, Mike Stennis, Jim Asmus and Ed Riewerts.

The UH returns 15 starters (seven on offense, eight on defense) and a comparable number of other players with starting experience.

The quarterback situation should be in capable hands, but the big question this fall is "Whose down?"

The major candidates are UCLA transfer Bernard Quarles (6-2, 205, Jr.) and freshman redshirt Raphael Cherry (5-11, 200), but the former missed the start of fall drills because of an appendectomy and the latter went down the next day with a hamstring pull. Both could be ready for the Sept. 19 opener, but the issue, and the starting role, are still much in doubt.

With Quarles and Cherry sidelined, most of the signal-calling duties have been passed on to converted wide receiver Tim Lyons (6-2, 205, Jr.), who may redshirt this season and Oregon transfer Andy Page (6-0, 210, Jr.), who was earmarked for free safety.

Tailback Gary Allen (5-10, 175, Sr.) and fullback David Toloumu (6-0, 195, Sr.) will lead what could be the most impressive herd of running backs in UH history. Allen, a two-time All-WAC performer, already holds the career records for rushing and all-purpose running. Toloumu, who has started at both tailback and fullback, is a nationally-ranked kickoff return specialist.

Other talented candidates include former UCLA starter Anthony Edgar (5-10, 175, Jr.), UCLA transfer Danny Lei (6-1, 230, Jr.), Oregon transfer Reggie Young (6-1, 205, Jr.), lettermen George Fletcher (5-10, 190, So.) and James Moore (6-0, 195, Sr.), walk-on Dino Arellano (5-7, 165, So.) and freshmen Watson Tanuvasa (6-0, 240) and Boyd Yap (5-10, 180). Several other promising candidates give the positions important depth they did not have a year ago.

The key to the Rainbow ground attack, of course, is the offensive line and the 1981 edition could be quite formidable. All-WAC guard Jesse Sapola (6-3, 250, Jr.) heads an impressive lineup of guards and tackles which includes returning starters Jim Mills (6-8, 260, Jr.) and Bernard Carvalho (6-3, 260, So.), Arizona State transfer Kani Kawaahi (6-2, 250, Sr.), JC transfer Jim Donovan (6-1, 245, Jr.), former starter Keith Ah Yuen (6-3, 255, Sr.) and several good-looking underclassmen.

Noland Baker (6-1, 225, Sr.) and JC transfer Danny Browne (6-0, 225, Jr.) seem to have the edge at center, although the search for a capable long-snapper continues.

The wide receiver corps returns intact with 1980 starters Merv Lopes (6-1, 175, Sr.) and Ron Pennick (5-9, 175, Sr.) leading a deep group which includes lettermen Duane Coleman (6-0, 180, So.) and Joe Nobles (5-10, 160, So.). Freshman Walter Murray (6-4, 185) may be the fastest athlete ever to play for the UH.

Starter Dave Barbour (6-4, 220, Sr.) is receiving stiff competition at tight end from JC transfer Chris Fife (6-4, 230, Jr.), walk-on Ken Moore (6-5, 220, Jr.), sophomore Kent Untermann (6-4, 225) and freshman Danny Brown (6-5, 240).

Redshirt Lee Larsen (6-0, 180, Jr.) and Richard Spelman (5-8, 175, So.) could help with the placekicking duties.

Nose guard will be one of the strongest positions on defense with three quality returnees. Falaniko Noga (6-1, 220, So.) earned All-WAC honors as a freshman last season and shared the "Warrior of the Year" award with Larry Goetas (6-1, 220, Jr.). Itai Satama (5-11, 215, Jr.) started for two seasons, but missed out of 1980 with a knee injury.

A shortage of defensive tackles plagued the squad last year, but there should be plenty of depth in 1981. Returning starter Reggie Robinson (6-2, 230, Sr.) will be joined by former UCLA starter Mark Tuinei (6-5, 250, Jr.), former UH starters Kesi Afalava (6-3, 255, So.) and Semeri Ululufe (6-1, 250, Sr.) and letterman Tony Holyfield (6-3, 255, Sr.).

Marcus Turver (6-0, 235, Sr.) and Andy Moody (6-2, 195, Sr.) are three-year starters at outside linebacker, but are being pushed hard by sophomore James Elias (6-1, 185). Other capable candidates include JC transfer Johnny Taylor (6-3, 235, Jr.), letterman Bryan Almada (6-0, 195, Jr.) and sophomore Anthony Woodson (6-2, 210).

The inside corps returns both starters in Doug Kyle (6-1, 220, Sr.) and Steve Lehor (6-1, 210, Jr.). Nathan Fletcher (6-0, 220, Jr.), Carl Stokes (6-3, 195, So.) and Carl Kenney-brew (6-1, 215, Jr.) add good depth and experience.

The secondary lost three starters to graduation with cornerback Dana McLemore (5-10, 180, Sr.), one of the WAC's top punt returners, being the sole holdover. Mark Kafentzis (5-10, 190, Sr.), Vernon Gearing (5-11, 180, So.), Verlon Redd (6-1, 185, Sr.), Andy Page, Dino Babers (6-1, 195, Jr.), Fred Hemphill (6-4, 170, So.) and Daryl Williams (5-8, 180, So.) will be the main challengers for the remaining starting slots and there appears to be excellent potential in a number of other candidates.

JC All-American Frank Natividad (6-3, 195, Jr.) and Tom McCarthy (6-2, 190, So.) could handle the punting chores.

The season opens at Aloha Stadium on Sept. 19, with the Rainbow Warriors hosting Cal State-Fullerton. Hawaii plays Idaho on Sept. 26, then travels to Laramie to meet Wyoming in the Oct. 10 WAC opener.

Those old familiar names will dominate college ranks

By MIKE BRYSON

Those old familiar names — Notre Dame, Oklahoma, Michigan, Alabama, Ohio State, UCLA, Nebraska and Southern California — are expected to dominate the warfare for supremacy of college football in 1981.

And, all indications point to a torrid chase among these traditional powers for the No. 1 ranking handed out by the wire services — so tight, in fact, that it'll undoubtedly take a bowl-game victory to determine the country's top team.

For years, these teams have been the toast of college football — at least until Georgia's upstarts grabbed the No. 1 ranking last season, via phenomenal Herschel Walker, an unblemished 12-game season and a narrow escape of Notre Dame in the Sugar Bowl.

Walker, who does just everything except collect ticket stubs for the Bulldogs, is back and should have another sensational season.

But, a huge contingent of fellow teammates who provided him vital support last year has graduated and, consequently, the Bulldogs may have troubles even cracking the top 15 in 1981.

One guy who would dearly love to fill that Bulldog void is Alabama's venerable Paul "Bear" Bryant, who has turned out more great football teams in his 37 seasons than Baskin and Robbins has flavors.

Actually, Bryant has two shots at posterity this season — guiding his team to the No. 1 ranking and becoming the winningest college football coach in history.

Bryant enters the season only eight victories shy of the famed Amos Alanzo Stagg's all-time victory record of 314. Glenn "Pop" Warner ranks second on the all-time list with 313.

There are strong indications that the aging Bryant may achieve both of his goals. Alabama returns an abundance of talent this fall, and the Bear reportedly has been keeping his team occupied with a rigorous training program.

Although it's expected to be season's end before the No. 1 champ is determined, an early season showdown — pitting Notre Dame against Michigan on Sept. 19 — could set the tone for the season.

Bear's quest heads NCAA TV games

Hawaii's residents will get an opportunity to see Alabama's Paul "Bear" Bryant launch his 1981 quest to become the winningest college football coach in history.

Alabama's game with Louisiana State Saturday night is scheduled to kick off the KITV-TV (Channel 4) coverage of NCAA games this season. The game is scheduled to begin at 6 p.m.

Only a few NCAA contests are set at this point. Stanford will face Purdue starting at 9 a.m. on Sept. 12.

As in previous years, ABC — whose affiliate locally is KITV — and the NCAA will announce on Mondays the college games that will be shown on TV the following Saturday.

In addition to the regular NCAA schedule, KITV also will telecast the three University of Hawaii road games — at Wyoming, San Diego State and Texas-El Paso.

FITNESS BOUND?

The term fitness often conjures up thoughts of pain, grimaces, suffering and unpleasant activities. It doesn't have to include any of these. For our purpose, fitness is a rather encompassing term synonymous with "optimal health." To be optimal it should be fun, pleasant, stress reducing and effective. It should encompass three main areas: exercise, proper diet, stress reduction, as well as the other controllable risk factors. It must be individualized to the participants needs and goals. # Bryant seeks Stagg mark

A former high school coach, named Gerald "Fuzzy" Faust, a deeply religious man out of the Knute Rockne mold, has assumed leadership of the Fighting Irish.

And, he has inherited a host of returnees from that team that nearly knocked off Georgia in last January's Sugar Bowl before succumbing 17-10.

Faust and Notre Dame's wide-open attack could become the talk of the football world this season. Then again, the Irish might just be silenced by one of the most wicked schedules around.

In addition to that vital clash with Michigan, the Irish also have matches with Louisiana State, Southern California, Purdue and Penn State, all capable of stopping Notre Dame.

Michigan has been tabbed the team to beat in the Midwest — if not the country — thanks to a wealth of returning defensive and offensive warriors.

The catch is that the Wolverines have the same problem as Notre Dame — a killing schedule.

Michigan must close its regular season against Ohio State, which traditionally has been a stumbling block for Coach Bo Schembechler.

Ohio State, by the way, could be a national contender despite the devastating losses of some experienced players because of graduation.

Some experts say the Buckeyes could wind up as a very ordinary team — but Earle Bruce, who is attempting to continue the fabled Woody Hayes era, is well aware that the word "ordinary" simply isn't accepted in Buckeye land.

Oklahoma reportedly was down the past two seasons — although it managed an 82-42 score in one Big Eight game last season.

But reports from the training camps indicate that Coach Barry Switzer's 1981 version of the Sooners could be one of his finest ever.

Oklahoma has early season tests against Southern Cal and arch-rival Texas, which could be a big problem because the Sooners traditionally get off to a slow start.

If Oklahoma makes it past those games — and against always-tough Nebraska — the Sooners could have their best team since the national championship years of 1974-75.

Nebraska, which boasts talent and depth, could fly high in the rankings early in the season. But, the Cornhuskers tackle Oklahoma late in the campaign at Norman, and nobody but Oklahoma ever wins at Norman.

Southern California and UCLA will be the class of the Pacific 10 in what could be a thriller race for the Rose Bowl.

Stanford's offense has great potential, and Washington, Arizona, Arizona State and Oregon also have the capabilities of contributing to an extraordinarily tight title chase.

Independents Pittsburgh and Penn State will be the teams to watch from the East, while other teams that have a chance of making it big this year include Baylor, Florida, Arizona and Brigham Young.

BYU, which will show off its talents hopefully with a trip to Hawaii residents at Aloha Stadium on Nov. 11, is led by quarterback Jim McMahon, who already holds dozens of records and is on the verge of becoming the all-time passing and total offense leader of college football.

Schedules of the major college teams are on pages 18, 19, 20, 21, 22, 23.

ARE YOU HAVING FUN???

Why Not Take The Fun Test To See?

1. Do you sit home watching TV & do nothing to do?
2. Do you leave parties when people stop dancing because you don't know how?
3. Are you looking for a mild form of fun, too?
4. Do you dance now, and still find it to be unenjoyable?
5. Or do you watch other people have fun?

If you have answered "yes" to questions, give us a call and let show you how easy it is to put with our Football Season S.
