GUESS WHO?

I am an actress born in Florida on March 5, 1974. Before earning my big break, I starred in many B movies and sold food at the mall. I gained mainstream recognition for movies like “Training Day” and “Girl in Progress.”

HOROSCOPES

- ARIES — Mar 21/Apr 20
Aries, you are inspired and ready to take on the world. Make the time to thank the people who spurred your motivation, then get moving toward your goals.
- TAURUS — Apr 21/May 21
Taurus, your positive outlook can help not only you, but also others. Where some people only see problems, you see all the possibilities lying ahead of you.
- GEMINI — May 22/Jun 21
Gemini, everyday things seem magical to you this week. This may be because you’re looking at the world through the haze of happiness spurred on by new love.
- CANCER — Jun 22/Jul 22
Cancer, you have been biding your time, but the moment to take a calculated risk has finally arrived. Since you have done some thorough research, it should be smooth sailing.
- LEO — Jul 23/Aug 23
Transparency is your middle name this week, Leo. Others know just what is going on in your life and in your head. This may encourage others to be more open.
- VIRGO — Aug 24/Sept 22
Virgo, since you don't want to be misunderstood in any way, you need to be very careful in how you express your thoughts this week. Clarify details, if necessary.
- LIBRA — Sept 23/Oct 23
Chances for success in all areas of your life are magnified by your innovative spirit, Libra. Keep the good ideas flowing and bring others into your future plans.
- SCORPIO — Oct 24/Nov 22
Confidence is on the rise, Scorpio, and that may lead you to take a few risks. There may be great gains to be had, or not much change. However, it can be worthwhile to try.
- SAGITTARIUS — Nov 23/Dec 21
Intentions aimed at distant goals may keep you busy in the long run, Sagittarius, but this week direct your focus to items that will provide the most immediate results.
- CAPRICORN — Dec 22/Jan 20
Capricorn, you have enough sense to balance your imagination with reality. Take your clever ideas and figure out a practical way to make them work.
- AQUARIUS — Jan 21/Feb 18
Aquarius, although the destination is in view, you have not yet developed a plan to get there. Be sure you include integrity in your decisions and skip shortcuts.
- PISCES — Feb 19/Mar 20
Pisces, conformity is certainly not your thing. But at some point this week, you'll need to go with the flow. Find a way to make it your own.

Marines with SPMAGTF-CR-CC regularly conduct crisis response training to enhance mission readiness.

Did you know...
Date: 23 October 1983: At 0622 an explosive-laden truck slammed into the BLT headquarters building in Beirut, Lebanon, where more than 300 men were billeted. The massive explosion collapsed the building in seconds, and took the lives of 241 Americans--including 220 Marines. This was the highest loss of life in a single day for Marines since D-Day on Iwo Jima in 1945.

MCAS Beaufort is in Tropical Cyclone Condition V for 2018 Atlantic Hurricane season until November 30. This year is predicted to be a near or below normal season due to a late season El Niño developing. NOAA is predicting 9-13 named storms. 4-7 will become Hurricanes. 0-2 will become major Hurricanes.

Monitor the latest forecasts and briefings from the National Weather Service in order to prepare your family for any extreme weather affecting our area or along your route during vacation travels. Reduction in predicted storms does not reduce the risk...it only takes one. Be Prepared!

couldn’t have done it without the support of our volunteers, Provost Marshal officers and sponsors such as Hargray and USAA,” said Charlotte Gonzalez.

“I love my job and being able to help out within the community,” said Staff Sgt. Adam N. Falmoe with PMO. “It is important that PMO shows their support so that families feel safe and children recognize us from events like this.”

The Fall Fest was open to all eligible members within the Tri-Command and their families. Attendees dressed up for a costume contest and took part in several different activities to include pumpkin decorating, hayrides, and bounce houses. MCCS also had booths displaying different resources and programs they had to offer.

“Coordinating events such as Fall Fest provides a fun way to bring the military community together and provide them with valuable information about resources that they have available to them,” said Charlotte Gonzalez.

Gunnery Sgt. Christopher Martinez hugs and kisses his wife goodbye before departing Marine Corps Air Beaufort for Exercise Trident Juncture 18, Oct. 23. Exercise Trident Juncture is a large-scale NATO exercise taking place across Norway, Finland, and Sweden. The month-long exercise is held to increase interoperability and understanding with NATO partner nations. Martinez is the aviation ordnance chief with Marine All-Weather Fighter Attack Squadron 224. VMFA(AW)-224 will be participating in Exercise Trident Juncture.

A conference was held Oct. 20 for all of the participating nations to finalize the schedules, increase over all understandings of the exercise and to allow the senior leaders to meet each other. Over the span of a month the exercise will continue making its way through Norway, Sweden and Finland. Sixty-five ships, more than 10,000 vehicles and more than 150 aircraft will be used throughout the duration of the exercise.

“While participating in the large-force NATO training exercise, we will be working with both NATO forces and DoD forces for air-to-air and air-to-ground operations,” said Capt. Tyler Schroeder, weapon systems officer and scheduling officer with VMFA(AW)-224. “The whole purpose of doing this is to increase our ability to work with our partner nations and improve our efficiency at deploying and attaching to other units, whether it be Marines or other NATO forces.”

Exercises like this are unique and a great opportunity according to Schroeder. The Marines of VMFA(AW)-224 will be working on their core skills but in a different environment, with different units and on a much larger scale than ever before.

“For the Marines in our unit, this exercise is a great way for them to get out and have a great experience and to travel,” Newell said. “While they are there, from an operational standpoint, it’s also very important for them to realize that the Marine Corps is very fast paced and they need to be accustomed and ready to deploy at any given moment. As a unit, we pride ourselves on completing the mission, having the confidence in ourselves and each other..”

WWII Marine veteran finally comes home

Story and photos by Lance Cpl. Noah Rudash,
Marine Corps Base Camp Pendleton

CAMP PENDLETON, Calif.. — Pauline Stewart was 13 years old and sitting in class, when a teacher stated that a “military man” wanted to speak to her. This is how the now 82 year old, remembers the day when she received the news about her brother’s death, U.S. Marine Corps Sgt. Millard Odom.

In November 1943, Odom was a member of Kilo Company, 3rd Battalion, 2nd Marines, 1st Marine Division, and landed at Tarawa, a part of the Gilbert Islands. The battle of Tarawa lasted approximately 72 hours killing roughly 1,000 Marines and Sailors and wounding more than 2,000.

Odom was born on Aug. 21, 1917 in Batesville, Arkansas, and died at the age of 26. Odom was identified, Aug. 20, 2018 and was killed on the first day of the battle, November 20, 1943 during World War II.

After retrieving his remains, the Defense POW/MIA Accounting Agency recovered Deoxyribonucleic Acid (DNA) samples on August 2, 2018, and Odom’s DNA was a match with his sister and his niece. To further confirm his identity, they tested 25 of his teeth, finding out he had early signs of scoliosis.

The family grieved in silence, holding their breath as they took it all in. The skeletal remains, DNA samples and finding out he had scoliosis (because it runs in the family) made it clear to his family and the DPAA that it was Sgt. Odom.

It was initially reported at Tarawa that Odom was killed by a gunshot wound to the neck, but after further investigation, determined that he was in fact killed by a ballistic injury possibly caused by explosives.

U.S. service members who died in Tarawa were later buried in cemeteries on the island. Odom was thought to be buried in Cemetery 33, but the 604th Quartermaster Graves Registration Company who conducted remains recovery operations on Betio, Kiribati, between 1946 and 1947, stated Odom’s remains were not identified. The unidentified remains found on Tarawa were sent to the Schofield Barracks Central Identification Laboratory, Honolulu, Hawaii, for identification in 1947. By 1949, the remains that had still not been identified were interred in the National Memorial Cemetery of the Pacific in Honolulu.

On Feb. 27, 2017, DPAA dug up Tarawa Unknown X-273 from the National Memorial Cemetery of the Pacific and sent the remains to the laboratory. Scientists from DPAA and the Armed Forces Medical Examiner identified Odom’s remains.

Odom’s name is recorded on the Tablets of the Missing at the Punchbowl in Honolulu, along with the others killed and lost in WWII.

Stewart’s spirit was lifted knowing that her brother had finally been identified, and experienced closure almost 70 years after first learning of her brother’s ultimate sacrifice to his country. Sgt Odom will be fittingly buried later this year. Stewart said, “I’m not going to die yet, not until I see my brother again.”

The DPAA continues to strive to fulfill our nation’s obligation in accounting for missing personnel around the world, and provides timely and accurate information to their families. More than 400,000 service members died during WWII and roughly 72,000 service members are still unaccounted for, but not forgotten.

UNIVERSAL
ORLANDO RESORT™

HALLOWEEN
NIGHTS™

SELECT NIGHTS: 14 SEPTEMBER - 3 NOVEMBER

As the sun sets on days filled with thrills in all of Universal's theme parks, the night awakens with a frightening chill at Universal Studios Florida™. It's the world's premier Halloween event - bringing together stories and visions of the most notorious creators of horror and taking them to the next level. This year, time twists and turns on itself-ripping cinematic greats, cult classics and even original nightmares from decades past into a new era of fear with more terrifying haunted houses than ever, sinister scare zones and outrageous entertainment.
