

WHAT WE BELIEVE

We believe in digital transformation

We will transform as the Navy transforms. We will lean forward in all that we do, including the digital revolution upon us.

Data is at the center of a dramatic warfare transformation. We are connective tissue that binds the Navy's shore-based intellectual resources to the warfighter in the digital environment.

We are developing unprecedented data integration so data analytics, machine learning and predictive analysis can provide the Navy with insights into and knowledge of our operations like never before.

We are strengthening the interaction with industry, private research and development labs and our academic partners to accelerate the Navy's digital transformation.

In all of the products we deliver, our solutions will incorporate practicality, agility and cybersecurity to enhance our role as a trusted agent for Navy data.
