By John Ingle

It's no surprise the base is now home to the Air Force's largest NCO Academy, which made history the aforementioned October morning when 285 non-commissioned officers of Class 20-1 began a professional military education journey to further grow as leaders and mentors.

Creating a Cyber Secure Home

1 SECURING YOURSELF

Cyber attackers have learned that the easiest way to get something is to simply ask for it. As a result, someone seeking your trust, confidence, or money will use social engineering to trick you into giving them what they want.

Phishing emails are usually designed to lead you into clicking on a linked attachment or clicking on a malicious link. These emails can be very convincing. They may appear to come from a friend or organization you know. Sometimes cyber attackers even use details from your social media accounts to craft customized phishing attacks.

Someone calls you pretending to be Microsoft tech support. They claim that your computer is infected, when they are really just cybercriminals that want access to your computer or want you to buy their fake anti-virus software.

"As technology becomes more important in our personal lives, so does securing it. Here are some fundamental steps you should always take to help protect yourself and your family."

2 SECURING YOUR HOME NETWORK

Your Wi-Fi router plays a critical role in protecting your home network. It's the central hub that connects all the devices that can connect to your wireless network at home.

Always change the default admin password on your Wi-Fi router to a strong password only you know.

Configure your Wi-Fi network so that if anyone wants to join it, they have to use a password. In addition, always configure your wireless network to use the latest encryption, which is currently WPA2.

The owners of all the devices connected to your home network, including baby monitors, gaming consoles, TVs or perhaps even your car.

3 SECURING YOUR COMPUTERS / DEVICES

There are some steps to protect any device connected to your home network:

Ensure all devices are protected by a strong PIN or password and always running the latest version of the software. Whenever possible, enable automatic updates.

If possible, have two computers at home, one for parents and one for kids. If you are sharing a computer, make sure you have separate accounts for everyone and that kids do not have privileged access.

Consider always having a firewall and anti-virus installed, enabled and running the latest version.

Before disposing of computers or mobile devices, be sure they are wiped of any personal information. For mobile devices, this can be done by restoring the option for a secure reset of the device.

4 SECURING YOUR ACCOUNTS / PASSWORDS

You must truly have a tremendous number of accounts online and on your devices and computers. Here are some key steps to protecting them:

Always use long passwords that are hard to guess. Use passwords that are unique. These are passwords that have multiple words, such as "My Way is My Outfit."

Use a different password for each of your accounts and devices.

Can't remember all of your online passwords? The solution is to use a password manager to securely store them. This is a computer program that securely stores all of your passwords in an encrypted vault.

Use two-step verification whenever possible. Two-step verification is when you need a password and something else to log in to your account, such as a code sent to your smartphone.

On social media sites, avoid only what you want the public to see. Assume anything you post will eventually be seen by your parents or boss.

5 WHAT TO DO WHEN HACKED

No matter how secure you are, secure or not, you may be hacked.

Create regular backups of all your personal information. If your computer or mobile device is hacked, the only way you can recover all of your personal information may be from backups.

If one of your online accounts has been hacked, immediately log in and change the password to a strong, unique password. If you no longer have access, contact the company.

Monitor your credit cards. If you see any charges you do not recognize, call the credit card company right away.
