Story and photos by Sgt. Michael J. Dator

Cherry Blossom festivals are yearly events held throughout the Korean peninsula. Cherry blossom trees only blossom once a year. They mark the onset of spring and bring colorful additions to the Korean landscape.

This year, members of the 2nd Infantry Division Band and the 2nd ID Tae Kwon Do Demonstration Team performed April 17 at the 2011 Gyeonggi Province Cherry Blossom Festival in Suwon.

"We're doing this demonstration today to represent U.S. Forces on the peninsula and to show goodwill towards the Korean community," said 2nd Lt. Dawn V. Herron platoon leader for the TKD team.

"This is our first public performance for 2011, so we're really pumped-up to be here," Herron added.

The TKD team gave a demonstration that included choreographed fight scenes, as well as acrobatic wood-breaking stunts. The Korean crowd cheered and applauded as team members performed increasingly complex moves.

As the demonstration came to an end, the 2nd ID Band took stage and performed songs from a variety of popular music genres including, rock, country, blues, and Korean pop songs.

"We love playing these kinds of shows because it gives us a chance to get out and show our stuff to the local community," said Sgt. 1st Class Paul H. Baker the musical team leader with the 2nd ID Band. "We were asked by the provincial governor to come out and play, so we were really excited to be here."

Other events throughout the festival included traditional Korean folk songs and dance.

The next 2nd ID Band performance is scheduled for Children's Day, a Korean holiday, May 5 at the Gyeonggi English Village.

The 2nd ID TKD team is currently recruiting new members.

COMMANDER'S CORNER

Have you thanked a KATUSA today?

By Maj. Gen. Michael S. Tucker

2nd ID Commander

Last week we celebrated Warrior Friendship Week and I have to say, by all accounts it was a tremendous success.

Few of you had the opportunity to attend the KATUSA Hall of Fame and Best KATUSA Dinner last week, so I thought I would share some of my thoughts with you about these very special Warriors who serve alongside us every day.

The Korean Augmentation to the United States Army program literally began under fire in 1950 when South Korean President Syngman Rhee and Gen. Douglas MacArthur agreed to send battlefield commanders desperately needed Korean soldiers to fill holes in depleted American units during the early stages of the Korean War. At the height of the program there were more than 27,000 KATUSAs serving alongside American Soldiers.

To date, now on this, the 60th Anniversary of the Korean War, more than 500,000 KATUSAs have served alongside American Soldiers, more than 250,000 of these in the 2nd Infantry Division.

Nowhere else in the world will you see an alliance like ours. An alliance strengthened by the fact that Soldiers from different nations serve together every day, full-time, side-by-side in each other's units. It is no exaggeration to say that we could not accomplish our mission here on the Korean peninsula without the dedicated hard work and outstanding accomplishments of our KATUSA brothers.

At the dinner I had the pleasure of inducting one of these former Warriors, Mr. Han Seong Chil, into the KATUSA Hall of Fame. Mr. Han, served as a KATUSA with the 1st Battalion, 32nd Infantry Regiment on Camp

Howze in 1974, and like each of the inductees before him, is truly an inspirational patriot who continues to serve his country as a volunteer and goodwill ambassador.

In addition, 24 of your KATUSA comrades, one from each unit, were recognized as 2nd Infantry Division Best KATUSAs. These great Soldiers are superb examples of why this program is so successful today. I have no doubt that one day one of them will be inducted into the Hall of Fame as well.

KATUSA Soldiers not only increase our war-fighting capability, they offer each of us a better understanding of Korea and its people. They become a link at squad-level to the rich Korean culture.

And when you depart Korea I hope you do so with priceless memories of long-term friendships with your KATUSA brothers-in-arms that endures throughout your careers and your lives.

Our KATUSA Soldiers are unique and what set us apart from every other division in the United States Army. Their service helps make us stronger and better at executing our forward-deployed mission than any other unit in the United States Army. My thanks go out to each and every one of them for their continued service to the 2nd Infantry Division, the ROK Army, and the Republic of Korea.

The KATUSA program represents all that is good about the 2nd Infantry Division and our strong one-of-a-kind alliance with the ROK Army and the good people of Korea. They are truly what make us, Second to None!

Warriors celebrate 60 years of KATUSA's work

Korean Language Editor

Throughout its 60-year history the Korean Augmentation to the U.S. Army has become an integral part of the United States Forces Korea. In recognition of its history the annual KATUSA Hall of Fame and Best KATUSA awards were held April 20, at Camp Casey.

Han Sung-chil, this year's inductee to the KATUSA Hall of Fame, joined the Army Feb 1, 1974. After basic training he was assigned to A Co., 1st Battalion, 17th Infantry at Camp Howze.

He was later transferred to 32nd Infantry where he served as the first KATUSA noncommissioned officer at the recreation center.

During his years in the Army, he experienced something that current KATUSAs can only read about in history books.

"My most memorable incident would be the Panmunjom ax murder incident, which occurred on August 18, 1976," said Han. "It was a near-war situation and it made me realize the importance of the Korea-U.S. alliance for our nation's defense."

"Last time I visited Camp Casey was 36 years ago when I was serving as a KATUSA," said Han. "I cannot describe how honored I am to be here again with our proud KATUSA Soldiers. I am truly grateful for this opportunity and I will never forget this moment."

Han is currently the president of the Busan KATUSA club and works as a manager at a tax office.

Another crucial part of the event was the Best KATUSA awards. Twenty-four award-winning KATUSAs and their parents were invited to this event.

Cpl. Min Kyung-han, an operations specialist assigned to B Company, Division Special Troops Battalion, was among the 24 winners.

Min spent his junior high and high school years in Canada. He is currently working at the liaison office which is comprised of 19 KATUSAs with an NCOIC.

When asked what helped him win the award, Min answered that it was probably the fundamentals that got him the award.

"People around me advised me to always remember that I am a Soldier," said Min. "With that in mind, I always tried to do the small things right. I paid attention to detail and kept a neat appearance at all times.

KATUSA Soldiers gather March 16 at the Chapel on Camp Red Cloud for Private's Day. KATUSAs play an important role in 2nd ID.

One of the first details I did was escorting the parents of the Best KATUSA winners. Since then I always wanted to win the award myself. I am very pleased that I accomplished it."

Min said being a KATUSA is a great privilege and that if you stay open-minded you can learn a great deal.

"I once heard Lt. Col. Durham, our Division Special Troops Battalion commander say that in the Army, people get promoted not because of what they have done, but because they believe that they can take on the role of a new position," said Min. "If we all think about what we can do in our positions, we will all become better Soldiers."

Min's father, Min Hyung-ki, said he did his military service in one of the Republic of Korea's Army field units. He originally wanted his son to be in the ROK Army as well.

After learning that being a KATUSA is an important role in strengthening the alliance.

He is now very proud of his son for doing such a wonderful job as a KATUSA.

"I hope he finishes strong with his military service and keeps up with the good work after ETS.

Maybe he will be on the KATUSA hall of fame one day," said Min Hyung-ki with a chuckle.

2nd ID NEO exercise scheduled May 19-22

2nd CAB Public Affairs

The annual non-combatant evacuation operations exercise, Courageous Channel, is just around the corner. Courageous Channel is an exercise which prepares Department of Defence Family members and non-emergency essential DOD civilians for an emergency.

As part of the exercise, all DOD affiliated dependants – whether or not they are command sponsored – must process through one of four evacuation control centers from May 19-22.

It is voluntary for U.S. embassy personnel, DOD retirees, contractors and their Families.

Any other U.S. civilians with base access can participate.

The evacuation control centers and operation hours are as follows:

Camp Casey Hanson Field House, Camp Red Cloud fitness center, USAG-Yongsan's Collier Field House and Camp Humphreys' Zoekler fitness center.

Families must bring all passports and required paperwork to the ECC for processing.

U.S., allies remember Kapyong

Story and photos by
Staff Sgt. John Brown

1st HBCT Public Affairs

At the invitation of the 2nd Battalion of Princess Patricia's Canadian Light Infantry, members of the 1st Battalion, 72nd Armor Regiment spent April 24 paying tribute to the Soldiers who fought the Battle of Kapyong in 1951.

This was the 60th anniversary of the Battle of Kapyong.

"The Chinese had attacked on a broad front, and had initially overrun a number of the forward UN positions," said 2nd Lt. Colin B. Marcum, the unit historian for 1-72nd Armor, referring to the attack in 1951. "Regardless, the (allies) had ultimately prevailed despite being outnumbered by a factor of five to one."

For their actions during the battle, the 2PPCLI, A/1-72nd Armor and the 3rd Battalion of the Royal Australian Regiment were awarded the U.S. Presidential Unit Citation.

"Today, the battle is regarded as one of the most famous actions fought by the Australian and Canadian Armies in Korea," said Marcum.

So on Easter Sunday morning, 56 former members of the 2PPCLI made the journey back to the site of the valley they had fought to hold. Among them was Canadian Senator Yonah Martin, senator for British Columbia.

"Being of Korean decent, I am deeply honored to be attending this commemorative event," said Martin. "Although Korea is half a world away, the friendship between Canada and South Korea has been growing for more than half a century and is strengthened by our shared history during the Korean War. Sixty years ago, Canada answered Korea's call for help. I am very pleased to know that the contribution of Canadian Veterans is so well respected and honored in Korea. The ultimate sacrifices of 516 Canadians and the achievements of every soldier in Korea will not be forgotten."

Following the ceremony, current Soldiers from the 2PPCLI and 1-72nd Armor followed Ivan Duguay, a former member of the Canadian Army and a professor of English at Semyung University, on a tour of the battlefield. Duguay has been studying the Korean War battlefields for some time.

He started hiking battlefields with a friend, and that led to him researching battles his own countrymen had fought, Duguay said.

Members of the 1st Battalion of the 72nd Armor Regiment and 2nd Battalion of Princess Patricia's Canadian Light Infantry line the entrance to the Korean War Memorial for the Canadian Forces as Soldiers of the Battle of Kapyong enter the commemoration ceremony on April 24th, during the battle's 60th anniversary.

Sgt. Adrian Valenzuela, team chief, 6th Battalion, 52nd Air and Missile Defence, and Pvt. Kenneth Williamson, gunner, 6-52 AMD, fire on a moving target April 16 at Deachon Beach in the Boryeong province.

The targets were remote-controlled airplanes flown by contractors. The planes allow for a controllable target, and are able to land and refuel if they are aloft too long.

"Shooting a missile and destroying a moving target is one of the most thrilling things I have ever done," said Pfc. Bryan Roney, a crewmember from 6-52nd AMD.

During the event, E Battery qualified all 24 crews on the M3P .50 caliber machine gun and fired Stinger missiles at airborne targets.

Medics from 6th Battalion, 37th Field Artillery Battalion also held Combat Lifesaver course for the battery.

President to award posthumous MEDALS OF HONOR

Story by Jasmine Chopra

Army News Service

The White House announced that the president will present the nation's highest award for valor to the families of two Korean War heroes.

A White House ceremony is scheduled for May 2, to award Medals of Honor to recognize the bravery of Army Pfc. Anthony T. Kaho'ohanohano and Pfc. Henry Svehla. Their actions ultimately cost them their lives, yet saved countless others and inspired their comrades to fight on against overwhelming odds.

Kaho'ohanohano displayed extraordinary heroism near Chopra-Ri, Korea, Sept. 1, 1951, while assigned to Company H, 17th Infantry Regiment, 7th Infantry Division. Because of the enemy's overwhelming numbers, friendly troops were forced to execute a limited withdrawal. As the men fell back, Kaho'ohanohano ordered his squad to take up more defensible positions and provided covering fire for them.

Although painfully wounded in the shoulder during the initial enemy assault, Kaho'ohanohano gathered a supply of grenades and ammunition and returned to his original position to face the enemy alone. Kaho'ohanohano delivered deadly accurate fire into the ranks of the onrushing enemy.

When his ammunition was depleted, he engaged the enemy in hand-to-hand combat until he was killed.

Svehla distinguished himself June 12, 1952, near Pyeongyang, Korea, while serving as a rifleman with Company F, 32d Infantry Regiment, 7th Infantry Division. During intense enemy automatic weapons and small fire, Svehla leapt to his feet and charged the enemy positions, firing his weapon and throwing grenades as he advanced. He inflicted heavy casualties.

Fragments from a mortar round exploding nearby wounded Svehla seriously in the face. Despite his wounds, he refused medical treatment and continued to lead the attack.

He was mortally wounded when an enemy grenade landed near him.

Those who receive the Medal of Honor must display "conspicuously by gallantry and intrepidity at the risk of life above and beyond the call of duty."

Pfc. Kaho'ohanohano's surviving family members include his sister Elaine Kaho'ohanohano, his brother Eugene Kaho'ohanohano, and his nephew George Kaho'ohanohano of Hawaii.

Pfc. Svehla's surviving family members include his sister Dorothy Mathews of Texas, his sister Sylvia Svehla, and his nephew Anthony Svehla of New Jersey.

Warrior Friendship Week

Story by Sgt. Mark A. Moore II
Assistant Editor

The 2nd Infantry Division's annual Warrior Friendship Week ended April 22 with an awards ceremony at Camp Casey's Hanson Fitness Center. Teams comprised of Korean Augmentation to the U.S. Army and U.S. Soldiers competed in basketball, golf, wrestling, kimajun, joku, tug-of-war, and relay races. Several Korean cultural events and demonstrations were also held on the final day.

Warrior Friendship Week provides Soldiers with a unique opportunity to strengthen the bonds between U.S., Republic of Korea and KATUSA Soldiers, one warrior said.

"When we compete as a team we are able to strengthen our friendships," said Pfc. Tayla A. Luiz, a combat medic with Division Special Troops Battalion, Headquarters Support Company, 2nd Infantry Division on Camp Red Cloud. "Knowing each other on a more personal level makes us want to help each other more when we work together in our specific job fields,"

Friendship and strong bonds are important in building team and unit cohesion.

Understanding the cultural differences between U.S., KATUSA and ROK Soldiers helps to further strengthen these bonds, the 2nd Infantry Division commander said.

"Warrior Friendship Week gives Soldiers a better understanding of the cultural differences between us," said Maj. Gen. Michael S. Tucker, 2nd ID Commander. "KATUSA and ROK Soldiers are like our brothers, we could not complete our mission without them."

"I like how we were able to come together today to participate in Warrior Friendship Week," said Pfc. Daniel E. Wheeler an infantryman with A Company 1st Battalion, 72nd Armor Regiment stationed on Camp Casey.

"It brought American and KATUSA Soldiers together as a team, that's the most important part. We won today because we worked as a team."
