I have not been in trouble, and I need a job very bad to support my wife and kid. My parents cannot afford to support us always. Please if there is anything you could do for us in regards to my discharge. I would be very grateful for what ever could be done.

Armed Forces Students Will View Landing

More than 400 students and faculty members from the National War College and the Armed Forces Staff College will arrive at Camp Lejeune Nov. 2 to witness a battalion-sized landing demonstration at Onslow Beach and a helicopter demonstration at the Engineer Stockade area.

The group is scheduled to arrive at 7:45 a.m. at the New River Marine Air Facility, and will proceed by bus to Onslow Beach where elements of the Eighth Marines, commanded by Col. R. E. Cary, will be put ashore from ships of Amphibious Squadron 10.

Air support will be provided by elements of the 2d Marine Aircraft Wing from Cherry Point and by helicopters from the Air Facility at New River.

Following the two-hour landing demonstrations, the spectators will be taken to the Engineer Stockade area for the helicopter-borne assault demonstration, scheduled to conclude at 12:20 p.m.

The group will depart Camp Lejeune following lunch at Headquarters Battalion messhall.

Ceremonies, Parade Will Mark Event

Change of Command ceremonies are slated for the famed 2d Marine Division and the Marine Corps Base tomorrow morning on the Hadnot Point Parade Ground.

In colorful ceremonies scheduled to begin at 10:30 a.m. the colors of the 2d Division will be handed to

For the story of General Berkeley's tour as CG of the 2d Marine Division, see pages 6 and 7.

Maj. Gen. Frederiek L. Wieseman by Maj. General James P. Berkeley. Passing of the Division colors to General Wieseman will also mark the assumption of command of the Marine Corps Base by General Berkeley. More than 5,000 Division personnel will participate in a giant parade and review.

On hand to witness the changes will be Vice Admiral A. G. Ward, Commander, Amphibious Forces Atlantic and Lt. Gen. Robert B. Luckey, who last week relinquished command of the Marine Corps Base and was transferred to Norfolk to become Fleet Marine Force, Atlantic, commanding general on Oct. 31.

Included among the other dignitaries who will be in the reviewing stand are Lt. Gen. Joseph C. Burger, USMC (Ret.), and Mrs. Burger, Maj. (See COMMAND CHANGES, Page 2)

Members Of BLT 3/2 Say 'See Naples'

NAPLES, ITALY, Oct. 8—In Italy people say, "See Naples and die." They believe that after you have seen Naples you have seen the most beautiful sight there is to see on earth.

The only thing more beautiful would be Heaven and the Marines of the 3rd Battalion, Second Marines, are not going to argue.

They finished their first "port of call" in Naples on Oct. 8.

Battalion Landing Team 3/2 is touring the Mediterranean as the amphibious arm of the U. S. Sixth Fleet. During their six-month tour of duty, BLT 3/2 will make many "ports of call" as part of the "people-to-people" program.

During their stay in Naples, the Marines went on guided tours of Pompeii, Capri and Rome. They were first taken up Mt. Vesuvius and then on a tour of the ruins of the City of Pompeii.

The tour of Capri consisted of stops at Mt. Tiberius, Villa Jovis (the only villa of 12 built by Augustus and Tiberius for themselves that is preserved in its entirety today), the Blue Grotto, Ana Capri, Mt. Solare and, of course, the world famous beaches of Capri.

Rome, the longest tour, was considered to be most fascinating. The Marines were given an audience with Pope John XXIII. They visited the world's largest cathedral, St. Paul's, besides seeing the Cathedral of St. Peter Basilica, said to have the largest dome in the world. They also went to the Coliseum and the Catacombs.

In Naples they visited some of the beautiful churches, the San Carlos Opera Company, and the Headquarters of the Allied Forces of Southern Europe.

The battalion is now en route to Malta.

87th Session Passed Bills Aiding Corps

WASHINGTON, D. C. — A number of bills affecting the military were passed during the first session of the 87th Congress which just adjourned.

Following are those bills which affect the Marine Corps:

Public Law 87-385 — Amends the Uniform Code of Military Justice by specifying the authority for prosecuting members of the Armed Forces who pass bad checks. The amendment removes some of the problems involved in pleading or proving bad check cases.

Public Law 87-207 — This is the "forgiveness bill" which applies to those who, in good faith, received a family separation allowance between February and September 1958, when the allowance was withdrawn.

Public Law 87-103 — Makes reenlistment bonuses more uniform by changing the Career Compensation Act of 1949 to read "three months" instead of "90 days." Some men missed out on re-up bonuses when they signed up on the 91st or 92d day following release. The law is retroactive.

Public Law 87-374 — This "trailer bill" authorizes payments up to 36 cents a mile for mobile home moves. The old limit was 20 cents a mile.

Public Law 87-381 — Overhauls the Uniform Services Contingency Option Act (now the Retired Serviceman's Family Protection Act) to broaden coverage. The old 18-year cut-off rule is modified to permit an option election to be made three years prior to retirement; a new provision is set up for those who make an election with less than 18 years service; the waiting time for changes or revocations is reduced from five to three years; and withdrawal is provided for in cases of severe financial hardship.

Public Law 87-140 — Authorizes a retired member to have his house-hold effects shipped to a location other than that originally selected, provided he pays any excess charges above the original cost.

Public Law 87-132 — Cuts the duty-free allowance from $500 to $100 for service men and their families returning from overseas tours.

Public Law 87-84 — Extends direct and guaranteed home loan programs for WWII veterans to July 26, 1967, and for Korea veterans to Feb. 1, 1975. It also provides $1.2 billion to continue the program through fiscal 1967.

Public Law 87-102 — Makes the end of military duty effective from midnight on the day of discharge.

Public Law 87-123 — Provides for the expanded assignment of Marine Corps supply-duty-only officers to unrestricted duty.

Polk To Head Staff NCO Toastmasters

A six-member nucleus of the Camp Lejeune Staff NCO Toastmasters conducted their first meeting last week with such enthusiasm that membership doubled at the second meeting last Tuesday evening at the Base Hostess House.

The elected temporary club officers are MSgt. Ken Polk, President; GYSgt. Ray Laurie, Educational Vice-President, and GYSgt. Israel Nurenberg, Secretary-Treasurer.

The Toastmasters considered their wives as the first important business matter. The wives of Toastmasters have been invited to attend a dinner meeting once every three months.

Membership is still open to Staff NCO's and civilian personnel employed at Camp Lejeune. The club is a non-profit educational organization dedicated to increase the leadership and public speaking potential of its members. Toastmasters meet every Tuesday evening between 7 and 9 at the Base Hostess House. Interested persons may phone Sergeant Polk at 7-3380 or Sergeant Laurie at 346-3312 for further Toastmaster information.

Bogus Money Found In The Lejeune Area

Military personnel and dependents in this area are urged by the Base Provost Marshal to examine all $10 bills before accepting them as a safeguard against counterfeit bills of this denomination now circulating in this area.

The phony bills all bear the seal of the Federal Reserve Bank of New York on their face. On the reverse side the green ink appears washed out. Two small green dots appear in the upper left margin of the counterfeit paper.

Persons must not accept the imitation money, the Provost Marshal stressed. Once in their possession, recipients of phony bills have lost $10. Unwary victims who receive counterfeit money in change are not to pass it again in an attempt to recoup their loss, the Provost Marshal added. If this is done, the individual is guilty of a felony; passing counterfeit money. Instead, they must take the bogus paper to the nearest law-enforcement agency and tell how and where they received it.

For information on where to deliver bogus money, contact the Base Provost Marshal's office or call the Military Police Desk Sergeant at 7-5151.

GOOD MORNING—MSgt. Gordon H. Long, Camp Lejeune's unofficial greeter, waves to one of the 10-thousand people that pass in and out of the main gate every morning and evening. His friendly smile and wave has contributed to the morale of Marines and civilians alike since May, 1961, when he was assigned as NCOIC of the Gate Section, Marine Corps Base.

MSgt. Gordon H. Long Base's Smiling Gateman

By PFC W. T. GARTNER

How do you feel when you wake up in the morning? Are you grouchy? Yell at your children? Have some nasty remark for a friend in the barracks? If this description fits you, then you are not alone. Most of us are somewhat the same. There is a Marine on this base who not only wakes up in a good mood every morning, but he gets up an hour and a half early to make other people happy. His name is MSgt. Gordon H. Long, USMC, NCOIC of the Camp Lejeune Gates. If you are a married Marine or a civilian employed at Camp Lejeune there is a good chance you have seen him directing traffic at the main gate during the early morning or evening traffic rush. A Marine that seems to have a perpetual smile on his face, he also has a knack for making other people smile.

Master Sergeant Long has other duties to perform beside his traffic directing, which is strictly voluntary. He and his assistant do all the administrative work for all the gates. This includes processing all traffic citations, posting all base information, granting visitor passes, conducting a weekly tour of the three gates and finally maintaining a state of police at the three gates.

Sergeant Long started his Marine Corps career October 16, 1940. This was not his first military experience. He was in the U. S. Army for 17 months in 1934-1935, and joined the Civilian Conservation Corps in 1938 as a 1st Sergeant for a period of one year. Sergeant Long also performed stunts as a semi-pro baseball player and a travelling salesman. His first duty station was Camp Elliott near San Diego, California where he served as a cook.

During World War II, Sergeant Long served with a Special Weapons section, Seventh Marines. He saw action on Guadalcanal, New Guinea and Cape Gloucester. In May of 1944, he returned to the states and was assigned as Mess Sergeant at Camp Lejeune, N. C.

In 1946 Sergeant Long turned to new endeavors. He became NCOIC of Police and Forestry, Quantico Va., where he remained until 1951. Then back to combat, this time it was the Korean Conflict. Included among his many medals and ribbons is the Korean Presidential Unit Citation. While in Korea, he acted as Commander of the Guard in Pusan. Once again he returned to this country. He reported to Marine Barracks, 8th and Eye Streets, Washington, D. C., where he served as Superintendent of Building and Grounds.

The next assignment for this hard-working Marine was Security Guard School in 1956. Upon graduation he was assigned to Embassy Duty, Dominican Republic. He served as NCOIC of the Marine Security Guard. While he was there his winning smile and his ability to perform his duties with zeal and proficiency earned him the respect and loyalty of every member of the Ciudad Trujillo Embassy. These traits also earned him two letters of commendation from two United States Ambassadors, William T. Pfeiffer and Joseph S. Farland.

The North Carolina born Leatherneck met his wife in Ciudad Trujillo, the former Haydee C. Contin, a 1958 graduate of the University of the Dominican Republic, attaining a degree in law. Sergeant Long named their first child Lemuel C. in honor of the famous Marine Corps general, Lemuel C. Shepherd. The couple has another boy, Juan Jeffrey, 18 months old. Also, Sergeant Long has two children by a previous marriage, Frances Marie, 24 and Lt. Melvin H. Long, USMC, a graduate of the Naval Academy, Annapolis, Md. Right now the young Marine officer is attending Basic School, Quantico, Va.

General Wieseman, a combat veteran of World War II in which he won the Legion of Merit and Bronze Star, both with Combat "V", reports here from Headquarters Marine Corps where he served as Deputy Chief of Staff (Plans), since January 1960.

Prior to his Washington assignment, the general served from May to November of 1959 as commanding general of the 1st Marine Brigade at Kaneohe Bay, Hawaii.

He was promoted to major general in November 1959 and returned to the United States and was assigned to Headquarters Marine Corps.

A veteran of 32 years in the Marine Corps, General Wieseman entered the Corps as an enlisted man in 1925 immediately following his graduation from high school in Palmyra, Wis. He was appointed to the U. S. Naval Academy in July 1927 and commissioned a Marine second lieutenant June 4, 1931.

During the early years of his career, the general was active in sports, playing on the Parris Island football team, and serving as coach of the basketball team for two seasons. He was also a member of the Quantico Rifle and Pistol Team and later pulled two tours with the Parris Island Rifle and Pistol Team. His assignments during World War II were with the 1st Marine Division and later with the 1st and 3d Amphibious Corps. He saw action on Guadalcanal where Marine spearheaded America's offensive drive in the Pacific.

He was awarded the Bronze Star for services as Assistant Chief of Staff (Supply) for the 1st Amphibious Corps in the Solomon Islands area from August to December 1943.

For meritorious service as logistical officer on the Staff of the Commanding General of the 3d Amphibious Corps from December 1943 to August 1944, during which time he took part in the assault on Guam, he was awarded the Legion of Merit.

Following World War II, the general served with the 12th Service Bn., and later as commanding officer of the 3d Marines in North China. While there, he served as Representative of the Commander, Naval Forces Western Pacific, in successful negotiations with Chinese communists for the release of a Marine plane crew shot down and held prisoner in Shantung Province in 1948.

He also served overseas with the 3d Marine Division in Japan during the Korean conflict, returning to the United States in May 1954.

Besides the Legion of Merit and Bronze Star, both with Combat "V", the general's medals and decorations include: the Presidential Unit Citation, American Defense Service Medal, American Campaign Medal, Asiatic-Pacific Medal with four bronze stars, World War II Victory Medal, China Service Medal, the United Nations Service Medal, and the Chinese Order of the Cloud and Banner.

General Wieseman and his wife, the former Dorothy Estella Bateman of Hughesville, Pa., have one, John T.

SET FOR 100TH—SSgt. Ronald R. Benoit, 2d Force Reconnaissance Co., Force Troops, sets himself for his 100th jump since becoming a recon man four years ago. He passed a personal milestone by making his 100th jump at Mile Hammock Bay Tuesday. (Photo by Cpl. M. C. Emmett)

Benoit Makes 100th Jump; Wants To Land In Aircraft

A 31-year-old staff sergeant from 2d Force Reconnaissance Co., Force Troops, marked a milestone in his Marine Corps career Tuesday when he made his 100th jump as a recon man. SSgt. Ronald R. Benoit, who believes "recon is about the greatest outfit there is," made his memorable jump from a helicopter during training exercises with the Camp Lejeune recon unit Tuesday morning at Mile Hammock Bay.

All of his jumps have been made since he graduated from the school at Ft. Benning, Ga., barely more than four years ago.

The Brunswick, Maine, native, a former infantryman and a Korean veteran, has made all of his jumps with either First Force Reconnaissance Co., or 2d Force Reconnaissance Co.

The 14-year veteran of Marine Corps service has just returned from Germany where he participated in an Escape and Evasion problem with jump-men from the Army and Air Force.

He has attended a long list of Marine Corps schools that include

Scuba Diving, Jump Master, Pathfinder, Ranger, and Escape and Survival as well as the regular jump course at the Georgia Army Base.

Donors should refrain from eating fatty foods such as gravies, creams, and fried foods before giving blood. They are encouraged to eat something light.

Australian Colonel To Visit Force Units

Lt. Col. Russell George Patrick St. Vincent McNamara, of the Royal Australian Army, will visit Force Troops and tour that unit's facilities November 6-10.

Capt. J. T. Stewart Jr., has been designated as escort officer.

Planning Is Required For GED Testing

The General Education Development tests are the product of the United States Armed Forces Institute and are designed to determine whether or not an individual possesses the equivalent of a high school education or one year college.

The satisfactory completion of the tests will not, in most cases, enable a Marine to enter college as a high school graduate. However, there are some colleges that will accept the USAFI certificate in lieu of a high school diploma.

Personnel possessing a USAFI certificate and planning to enter college should check with the registrar of the college he is interested in to see if his certificate will be honored.

Fast becoming a problem concerning the GED tests is the three-week mailing factor. Heretofore, Marines have taken the test a week or so before their discharge not realizing that it takes approximately three weeks for the tests to be graded and returned. For the men seeking immediate employment this means approximately a three-week wait for his certificate from USAFI Headquarters in Madison, Wis., before he can apply for jobs requiring a high school diploma.

The Base Education Office administers the GED tests en masse at announced testing periods.

There is also the problem of those who flunk the first test. When a Marine fails his tests and wants to try again it is necessary to send to Madison for a re-test. This takes three weeks; just enough time for him to be shipped out, miss the testing period and again another set-back.

These things should be taken into consideration by the individual proposing to take the tests. The Base Education Office is established to help solve these problems aforementioned and stand ready to assist in any education problem any Marine may have. The office number is 7-5121.

Marines Will Re-Take Old Battleground

PARRIS ISLAND, S. C.—A joint effort on the part of Marine Corps, Navy, Army, Air Force, and National Guard units will play a major role in day-long activities scheduled at Hilton Head Tuesday, Nov. 7, to commemorate the battle of Port Royal Sound.

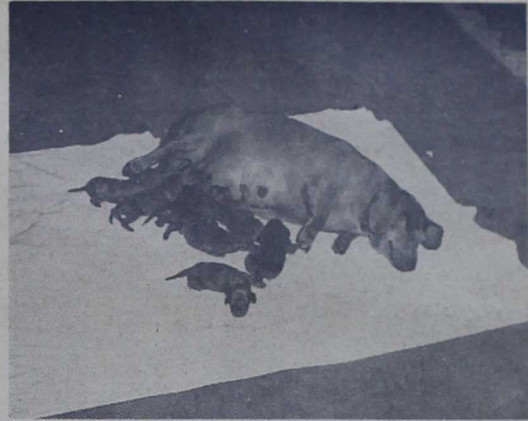

Highlight of the day will come when two companies of the 2d Bn., Sixth Marines, 2d Marine Division, from Camp Lejeune start an amphibious-vertical envelopment invasion in the Forest Beach area.

Armed Forces participation in the affair which commemorates the Nov. 7, 1861 attack on this area by Flag Officer Samuel F. Du Pont's Union fleet of 20 warships, and 14,000 men, is being coordinated by Col. Harry S. Popper, Parris Island Legal Officer.

One company of Leathernecks will storm over the beach from LVTP-5 landing craft while the other stages a vertical envelopment landing from helicopters. The 12 copters will come from Marine Air Group-26 at Marine Corps Air Facility, New River, N. C.

Close air support will be provided before and during the 45 minute landing operation by aircraft from Marine Air Group-32, Marine Corps Air Station, Beaufort.

Following the assault which will be culminated when the attacking forces converge on a fortified position set up near the beach head, equipment used by the Marines will be put on display for the public.

Long Little Doggie's Litter Literally Astounds Owner

If daddy dogs passed out cold, did back-flips, and handed out cigars like human papas, there would probably have been a new world's record set last week for fainting, another for doing acrobatics, and the South would have doubled its tobacco crop next year. And all because Trudie, a four-year-old mama dachshund brought seven little pups into the world in a single litter.

This may not sound like much of a feat for a hound, but you have

'Whitebait' Helps Test Allied Strength

American and British Marine Forces stormed ashore at Bomba, Libya early this month in the second phase of "Whitebait," an amphibious operation designed to coordinate and hone the striking strength of the allies.

Sixteen U. S. Sixth Fleet ships, 1,800 U. S. Marines from Battalion Landing Team 3/2 and 550 British Royal Marines from Malta participated in the five day exercise.

The operation was under the command of Vice Admiral David L. McDonald USN, Commander of the U. S. Sixth Fleet.

to consider the average dachshund litter is about three or four. As you know, if you own a mama dachshund, there are facilities for feeding only four at a time, and around chow time, the line at the feed bag reminds you of the front door of a department store at the opening of a nylon sale.

Trudie, or just Trudie to her friends, surprised her owners, Col. and Mrs. L. A. Ennis, last week with Schultzie, Schwartzie, Schottzie, Fritzie, Martini, Heidi, and Schickelgruber.

It was Trudie's third litter. The first two had four pups each, evenly divided between males and females. The last litter, an unusually large one, saw the boys outnumber the girls six to one.

The latter litter of little puppies scared the daylight out of the mama dachshund. "She wouldn't go back in the same room with them, at first," said Mrs. Ennis.

But, then, you should see the disbelief on a woman's face after she just gave birth to quadruplets!

Negligent Driving Paves The Road To Misfortune

One way to beat our enemies might be to give every reckless Marine driver an automobile and turn them loose on foreign soil. It probably would not bother the drivers since they seem to have no hesitancy about killing fellow Marines with their cars.

A Marine died in the car in the adjacent picture but the driver lived.

He did not get off lightly, however. An investigation showed that he was responsible for the accident and he was tried by a General Courts Martial for negligent homicide.

This week the results of that trial were published:

"Reduction in rank to private ..."

"Four months imprisonment at hard labor ..."

Fined $70 a month for four months ..."

Bad Conduct Discharge ..."

To those who might think, "Is that all he got?" we suggest reading a letter written to the Commanding General this week from a Marine who received a BCD nearly three years ago. The letter is on Page One of this issue.

Unfortunately, punishing the offender will not bring the dead to life. The driver of the car has to live with this fact the rest of his life—that his carelessness took the life of a friend and ruined his own career. He is a marked man in society and in his own heart.

If his conscience does not punish him for killing a friend, then society will punish him, as it does all who receive DDs and BCDs, by refusing to employ or trust him.

Justice is not vengeful, but society is. No one who receives anything but an Honorable Discharge from the service is trusted by civilians. They feel, and rightly so, that such men cannot and will not accept responsibility. They do not employ such people because they feel that their attitude will be the same toward their civilian job as it was toward the service. Businessmen just do not take that kind of a chance.

The Commanding General has made it clear, through orders and regulations, that such offenses will be exhaustively investigated and that the guilty will be punished. Each Marine killed on the road means one less trained American to face our enemies.

We cannot afford such casualties.

Chaplain's Corner

William N. Hawly of the University of Chicago tells the story of a young man named Charles Farrow who embezzled $15,000 of his brokerage firm's funds. He lived in the country club district of Harritown with his wife and two children, and everyone in the town was impressed with the way in which this family lived and worked together.

But suddenly the good impressions were all swept away. The court indicted Farrow for embezzlement and the city papers capitalized on the story. He was convicted and sentenced to imprisonment in the state penitentiary for two years.

Farrow was a member of the vestry and church law required that his seat be declared vacant and that someone be elected to complete his term, but Richard Atwood, a fellow vestryman, protested against such action and confessed to his priest and the vestrymen that 30 years ago he did exactly what Farrow did. He approached the vice president of his firm and confessed what he had done, and to his great amazement the vice president accepted him without mentioning the crime to anyone and he covered the firm's losses out of his personal funds until Atwood could make payment.

Atwood said: "I hope Farrow's catastrophe can give our parish the shaking it needs and prepare for a new kind of life in our church—life that looks honestly and with forgiveness at failure and death and despair and loneliness."

The priest agreed with Atwood, and Farrow's place in the vestry was kept open for him. On the day of his parole Farrow was preoccupied with his confused feelings and thoughts, and he was unprepared for what awaited him outside the prison gate. There stood his priest and the men of the vestry. They wanted to assure him of their support in the days ahead, when he would strive to regain an acceptable place for himself in the business and social life of the community.

The priest explained to Farrow that the church was not whitewashing his crime. Farrow had committed a crime against society and against the laws of God, and he deserved to be punished for it. He also told Farrow that during the early months of his imprisonment most of those who were considered as his friends had washed their hands of him; but then something happened to the priest, to the vestrymen and to others in the church—it was Mr. Atwood who reminded them that "a church is not a church until it is a community of forgiveness, and it cannot be a community of forgiveness until we first recognize and confess our human frailties, our pride in our self-sufficiency."

If You Ask Me:

WHICH ORGANIZATION WOULD YOU LIKE YOUR UP DONATION TO BE SENT?

ALEXZENIE GANT, Central Area Library—I would like my donation to the United Fund to be given to the Onslow-Camp Lejeune Retarded Children. I feel that any donation to this Association is for a worthy cause. I don't think the average person realizes how widespread this handicap is. Those to whom the care of these people is entrusted certainly need all the cooperation we can give.

MAXINE PERRINE, Medical Research Lab—That is hard to say. Each one is deserving in its own field. For this reason I would not choose a particular organization. They work with different groups, provide a variety of services and are equally worthy. They all need the combined support which we have the opportunity to give when we contribute to the United Fund.

GYSGT. M. H. CROWL, 1st Sgt. of WM Co.—For the United Fund Drive, I would designate the Salvation Army to receive my donation for the following reasons. The Salvation Army helps many people in need and are always willing to provide for the poor. They never ask for anything in return. They spread joy to many underprivileged children at Christmas who otherwise would never have a merry and joyous holiday season.

SGT. HERMAN J. FOGLE, Training Aids Library—My United Fund donation is going to the Onslow-Camp Lejeune Retarded Children Fund because every time I see a retarded child something touches my heart and makes me want to do something to help them. To think that I might have been one makes me realize that it is the responsibility of every person to see that these small children are given the very best of care. If it were not for charitable agencies such as the United Fund these small children would often go hungry and would not get the proper medical care that they deserve and need so badly. When I think that my child could have been one of these less fortunate ones it makes me proud to say that I gave to the United Fund. It gives me a good feeling to be able to help some child in my small way.

SGT. JAMES W. PARK, Base Post Office I chose to donate to the Onslow County-Lejeune Retarded Children Fund because this is an organization which any family man might possibly have to use someday. With the cost of special teachers and equipment it would be hard, if not impossible, for them to continue unless they have some other means of support. An organization of this nature is about the only chance a retarded child has to learn and to lead a normal life.

YOU HAVE TO RUN FAST
It's all about a doctor who is called upon to treat a badly injured detective by two strange men. When the patient dies, Craig Hill finds himself inadvertently involved in a bizarre situation.
MISTY
It is straightaway for the young folks and the young in heart, and not to be endured for the skeptics or those who poke scorn and derision at the admittedly complex art of children's motion pictures. The two children live with their grandparents, Arthur O'Connell and Anne Seymour, on picturesque Chincoteague Island, off the Virginia coast. (Color, 92 min.)
VALLEY OF THE DRAGONS
No information available on this film. We do know that running time is 88 minutes.
THE PARENT TRAP
It is all about two Miss Hayley Millicens. The pert, spritely and wholly engaging young British star plays twins in a manner to enchant both the parents of teen-ager daughters and the teen-agers themselves. Miss Mills (A), daughter and granddaughter of a proper Beacon Hill family, meets Miss Mills (B), tomboy daughter of a California rancher at a summer camp. They fact they look alike at first makes them bitter enemies, but camp life changes all of this. They soon find out that they are twin sisters. The two girls hatch a plot aimed to bring their parents back together. (Color, 124 min.)
CARTHAGE IN FLAMES
"Carthage in Flames" goes back to the third Punic War when a young Carthaginian warrior, Jose Suarez, is sentenced to death by the group of merchants then in power. He escapes and steals back into the city to get the woman he loves. While there, he finds that Anne Heywood, a Roman who once saved his life, is going to be sacrificed. He saves her and then gets in and out of the spots with the men of his worst enemy while he tries to free with the two women.

TUNES OF GLORY
Running time 114 minutes.
THE FLUTE AND THE ARROW
"The Flute and the Arrow" is about a little nomad tribe living in the jungle regions of India. The Murias, who are isolated in the Bastar jungle area and come to town only to buy food and make their wares. Ginju, a Muria hunter, marries out of his cast and he and his bride, Riga, and their infant are banished and kept from participating in any tribal ceremonies.
GOODBYE AGAIN
The film, a comedy with pathos, will have particular appeal for mature and discriminating patrons. It stars Ingrid Bergman, Yves Montand, Anthony Perkins, Jessie Royce Landis and others. Ingrid Bergman, a Parisienne decorator, SCHOOL BUSES—Drivers for the First Platoon's bus section drive on the average of 5,000 miles a day over nine regular routes and 23 school bus runs, providing transportation for 1,600 school children daily. It takes 18 buses each afternoon just to return school children from the Junior-Senior High School to their homes.

Around-The-Clock Service Is 'Routine' Job For Base Motors

How would you like to have 3,000 Marines and 1,600 school kids in your daily car pool, and use 5,000 gallons of gasoline besides?

That's the daily transportation average provided Marines and their dependents at Camp Lejeune by members of the First Transport Platoon, one of Base Motor Transport's three platoons.

Motor Transport has a fleet of more than 1,500 vehicles from three-wheel scooters to a 60-ton truck assigned in support of Base activities which have to be manned and maintained by drivers and mechanics who know their business. Such men are found among the more than 550 Marines and civilians who perform routine transportation work daily.

Maj. R. W. Hengesbach, the officer in charge, said: "Our parking areas are usually vacant throughout the day. This emptiness shows the tremendous need for the unit more than anything else since every mile a government vehicle is driven must be authorized and its use verified."

Control

Operational control of vehicles for the three platoons is supervised by Capt. S. H. Batchelder. Assisting him in his never-ending job is SSgt. Elbert W. Wright, operations chief.

For the control of so many vehicles there must be a "go-between." This is Sgt. Robert R. Burzinski, chief dispatcher, headquartered in the Industrial Area, where all requests for transportation are authorized.

Since the beginning of 1961 Base Motor Transport drivers have driven over nine million miles. Insuring that vehicles are being driven safely and that proper maintenance is being provided is the job of the roadmaster, Sgt. William Royal, who holds spot checks of vehicles while out on runs.

First Platoon

The 70 or so men driving for the 1st Platoon's bus section have been going by the motto, "Just Routine," for a long time, according to the platoon commander, MSgt. Victor Valessano. He has the facts to back him up.

The section drives an average of 5,000 miles a day over nine regular routes and 23 school bus runs, providing transportation for 1,600 school children daily and some 3,000 Marines during a regular week. On occasion, they add as many as 1,400 more Marines to the weekly total when the Division makes a move. The section's record for safety is even more impressive, averaging only one accident about every 70,000 miles. The section has driven over one million miles since the first of the year.

The platoon is commanded by Lt. Kenneth M. Wilson, assisted by MSgt. J. M. Notenman. Consisting of 140 pieces of equipment, the platoon's rolling stock includes one pickup, five metro-van trucks, 32 five-ton tractors, 23 stake-bodied vans, 14 dump trucks, 32 cargo trucks, 13 vans, nine low-boys, three wreckers, plus an assortment of other vehicles.

Third Platoon

The Third Platoon, at Camp Geiger, commanded by WO James N. Lee, averages 125,000 miles a month hauling cargo and carrying about 1,800 recruits to the training areas every working day. The 90-man platoon not only drives and maintains their 170 vehicles but are often called upon to help support the First Platoon.

Marines of today travel on more than just their stomachs . . . they travel in up-to-date and sturdy motor vehicles of the U-Drive-It section, which has a fleet of 220 sedans and pickups.

The Base Motor Transport section has been operating a taxi service for over a year and provides fast, efficient, round-the-clock transportation anywhere in the Lejeune area. This service is for any officer, staff NCO in charge of a section, or civilian in charge of a section who needs local transportation for the performance of official duties. There are 23 radio-equipped taxis at present answering an average of 275 calls a day. This section has answered as many as 500 calls in a 24-hour period.

FIRST ISSUE—General Berkeley hands the first M-14 rifle to the 2d Division to LCpl. Charles W. Zeeb, Company "G," 2d Division, Eighth Marines, most recently activated battalion in vision.

"Everything with wheels, outside of the special stuff for the engineers," is how James R. Kelly, civilian head of the Base Transportation Repair Section, described the variety of work his men take on in repairing the more than 58 types of vehicles in the fleet of trucks and cars used by Base personnel.

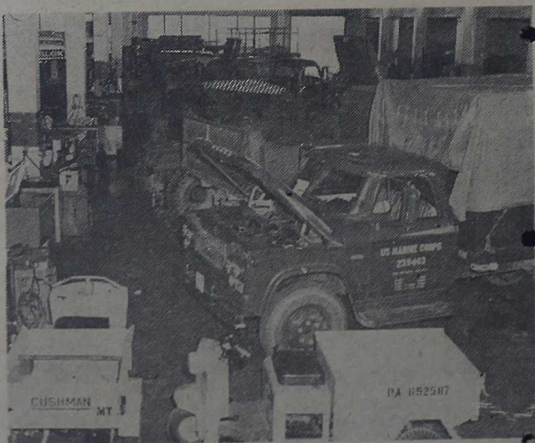

WINTERIZING—Pfc Bruce W. Knowles, a mechanic for the First Platoon, checks the water hose on one of the platoon's vehicles while winterizing them for the coming winter months. All water hoses must be checked and old ones replaced before filling with antifreeze.

CAR 54, WHERE ARE YOU? could be what Sgt. William Royal, left, is saying, but actually he and Cpl. Delfino SanJose are a two-man radio dispatcher team for the round-the-clock transportation taxi service at Camp Lejeune. As the drivers report their location to the dispatchers it is then plotted on a map so that their location is known at all times.

SMALL BUT MIGHTY—"It's not the largest vehicle we have," SSgt. W. Wright, Motor Transport operations chief, said, "but the three-wheel Cushman scooter has a big role in the accomplishment of our mission, as all of our vehicles do."

GASOLINE ALLEY—Everything with wheels is how James R. Kelly, civilian head of the Base transportation repair section, described the variety of work his men take on in repairing the more than 58 types of vehicles in the fleet of trucks and cars used by Base personnel.

Division Is 'Ready' Says Gen. Berkeley

Story by
SSGT. MIKE PITTS
2d Division ISO

"The 2d Marine Division is ready, willing and able to go anywhere, anytime and do anything the President of the United States may designate."

These were the words of Maj. Gen. James P. Berkeley as he prepared to leave the Division and assume duties as Commanding General, Marine Corps Base, Camp Lejeune.

General Berkeley will be relieved as Division commanding general on Nov. 3, 1961, by Maj. Gen. Frederick L. Wieseman, former Deputy Chief of Staff (Plans), Headquarters, Marine Corps.

Joining the Division during Operation TRALEX 4-59 in November, 1959, General Berkeley has seen the Division take part in six separate Mediterranean cruises, three SOLANT AMITY cruises, 10 TRALEX operations at Vieques, Puerto Rico, three BRIGLEX's, four PHIBULEX's, two PHIBEX's and two MEU's, plus an emergency mission to aid the hurricane-stricken Gulf Coast.

All this, in addition to the normal, everyday training of units from the fire team to the regimental level.

He has also seen the Division streamlined and stabilized, as units were put on a controlled input basis, and two de-activated units were re-activated.

When asked about some of the highlights of his tour, the general replied:

"From a non-professional standpoint, I consider 'Operation Oldtimer' as one of the highlights. It was an honor to have commanded the Division during the celebration of its 20th birthday."

During "Oldtimer," eight of the Division's former commanders returned to Camp Lejeune to help celebrate the anniversary, including Maj. Gen. C. B. Vogel, the Division's first commanding general.

"On the military side," General Berkeley continued, "the re-activation of the 2d Battalion, Second Marines, and the 2d Battalion, Eighth Marines, was a high point of my tour."

The general also mentioned the issuing of the new M-14 rifle.

"As far as I know, a 2d Division Marine was the first in the Corps to be issued the M-14 on the basis of its being his own 'personal weapon.' Recruits at Parris Island and officers at Basic School are using it, but only for purposes of familiarization and qualification," he said.

On Oct. 9, 1961, General

Berkeley presented the first M-14 rifle to a member of the 2d Battalion, Eighth Marines. Following the initial presentation, the entire battalion received the new weapons.

The general was asked if he had noticed any changes in the average 2d Division Marine since he took command in 1959.

"Yes," he said. "There has been a change and it's for the better. For one thing, he is better trained. This is due, I think, to the controlled input system whereby a unit has a man for a longer period of time. They can thus devote more time to training him without fear he may be transferred. The individual receives more and better training and the unit in turn benefits from a better Marine."

The general also pointed out that since more people are in the Marine Corps for a longer period of time, the quotas on the recruiting personnel have eased, thereby allowing them to pick and choose more carefully among applicants.

"This means," he said, "we are receiving a higher grade of man into the Corps, and subsequently into the 2d Marine Division."

During General Berkeley's tour, the Division has been training steadily to maintain a state of combat-readiness.

"But," he said, "the command has to keep a close eye on the balance between 'boondocking' and barracks command functions such as ceremonies and inspections and the like."

The general likened the training to that of a football team getting ready for the "big game."

"We have to be careful that we maintain the proper balance. It is entirely possible to be overtrained," he said.

On the appearance of the Marine, General Berkeley had this to say.

"I wish both Division and Marine Corps Base personnel would pay more attention to the type of civilian clothing worn on and off the base."

He pointed out that some people have a tendency to get careless in that respect.

General Berkeley stated that he was very proud to have had the honor of commanding the 2d Division for two years.

"I am also very appreciative of the loyal support shown to me during my tour, especially from the staff NCO's," he said.

The general mentioned that he was happy to be able to remain in North Carolina and keep up his friendship with his friends in this area.

In closing, General Berkeley said, "Everyone knows the initials RHIP stand for Rank Has Its Privileges, but never let us forget the initials RHIR — Rank Has Its Responsibilities. This is true of both staff NCO's and officers."

FIELD MESS—General Berkeley eats hot chow in the field with the men of the Division's 2d Reconnaissance Battalion when they were undergoing cold weather training in the Pisgah National Forest last year.

REENLISTMENT CEREMONY—Five members of the 2d Marine Division's Anti-Tank and 2d Reconnaissance Battalion are reenlisted by General Berkeley during ceremonies commemorating the 185th anniversary of the Marine Corps.

CHAMPIONS—The general's office in Bldg. 2 was the scene of many promotions and meritorious masts, but General Berkeley, himself an avid sports fan, was particularly pleased when bobsledders Gary Sheffield, left, and Jerry Tennant, right, presented him with trophies they were awarded for their second place finish in the two-man World's Bobsled Championships at Lake Placid, N. Y.

CMC'S INSPECTION—General Berkeley escorted and briefed General David M. Shoup, Commandant of the Marine Corps, on 2d Division activities during the Commandant's inspection and orientation tour of the Division.

OPERATION OLD-TIMER—Returning the salute of Division units passing in review were past and present commanding generals of the 2d Marine Division, gathered at Camp Lejeune to honor the 20th anniversary of the Division's founding. Part of the day's activities included a parade and review by the Division.

Aroused Eustis Eleven Halts Lejeune Victory Parade, 12-6

An aroused Ft. Eustis (Va.) eleven completely out-played the previously unbeaten Camp Lejeune Marines for most of the first half here Saturday and then withstood a furious second half aerial assault by Lejeune to pull out a narrow 12-6 victory. Eustis now leads the East Coast Interservice Conference with a 5-0 record. The loss dropped Lejeune into third spot in the league, behind Quantico, with a 1-1 mark in conference play. Eight fumbles, six of them in the first half, 20 incomplete passes and two key interceptions helped the Eustis cause. The Marines drove inside the "Wheels" 20 four times during the second half, but an interception and a sputtering passing attack grounded each drive.

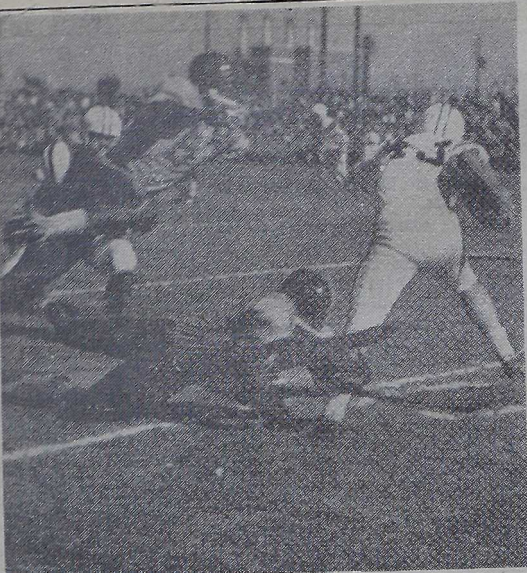

Lejeune also had a third period drive blunted at the Eustis 25 by a fumble. The "Wheels" stopped the Marines' last bid by coming up with a clutch interception of a desperation pass, which almost clicked for a touchdown, in the final 20 seconds of the game.

Ft. Eustis got its first two points late in the first quarter after half-back Steve Lomago punted out of bounds on the Marines' one-foot line. Two plays later, end Charles Robinson tackled halfback Chuck Lattin in the end zone for a two-point Eustis lead.

Minutes later, Lattin fumbled and Ft. Eustis recovered on the Marines' 15-yard line. Three plays netted Eustis only one yard, but on the fourth down, tackle Dan Tassotti kicked a 14-yard field goal for a 5-0 lead.

The Marines took the subsequent kickoff and went 62 yards in nine plays for their only score of the day. Fullback John Parrinello went around right end for the last three. Quarterback Bob Schwarze passed to halfback Mel Anderson for 38 yards and to end Jim Knight for 11 yards to set up the score.

However, Eustis immediately got the lead back, Fran Curci, former

Marines Go After Sixth Win At Fort Lee This Weekend

After being knocked from the ranks of the unbeaten last week, Camp Lejeune's Marines travel to Ft. Lee, Va., this weekend hoping to get back into the win column at the expense of the much-beaten Lee "Travelers." Lejeune, with a record of 5-1, will be going against a Lee unit which has yet to win this year. However, the Marines' task may not be as easy as it appears on the surface, according to Lejeune end coach Joe Losack, who scouted the Leemans against Ft. Dix, N. J.

"Lee's been improving game by game and if you can look good while losing, then they looked good

Devildogs To Host 'Hawks In '61 Classic

SAN DIEGO, Calif., Oct. 20—For the first time in the four-year history of the Leatherneck Bowl, the 1961 game will bring together representatives of two large service factions, the Navy and the Marine Corps.

The host San Diego Marines will face the strong Pensacola Naval Air Station Goshawks Nov. 11, in the fourth edition of the Annual service classic in Balboa Stadium.

The Pensacola squad will be the first Bluejacket team the Devildogs have faced since Moffett Field NAS lost to MCRD 46-0 in 1959. This year's Pensacola squad brings with it a reputation as the strongest Navy representatives in service football.

The Goshawks have suffered only two service setbacks in the past two seasons, losing to Quantico 36-6 in the 1960 Missile Bowl and dropping a 17-15 squeaker to Camp Lejeune this year.

To date, the San Diego eleven is undefeated in five starts this year. They have posted victories over U. of Mexico, the Eagle Rock (Calif.) Athletic Club, the Calley All-Stars, U. of San Diego and Cal Poly.

against Dix last week. Then too, like every Army team we've played, they want to beat the Marines, so I look for them to make their best effort of the season against us," Losack said.

Last week, Lee dropped a narrow 14-7 decision to Ft. Dix. Two weeks ago, Dix gave Quantico a hard time before succumbing 13-8.

Coach Phil Monahan, highly displeased with the Marines' showing against Eustis, is working his charges hard this week, polishing a ground attack which could muster only 114 yards against the "Wheels."

The Marines received a boost this week with the return of quarterback Vince Cesare to the active list. The little field general, who guided the Marines to big wins over Pensacola, Ft. Belvoir and Eglin AFB, has been sidelined the past two weeks by a shoulder injury.

Soccer Team Forms For Lant Tourney

A composite soccer team is now being formed here as a prospective representative from Camp Lejeune to the FMFLant Soccer Tournament in November.

Although previous plans for a regular soccer league here have been discontinued, soccer enthusiasts have started a squad which they hope will gain official sanction as the FMF entry in the Atlantic Coast tourney at Norfolk.

More players are now needed to form a strong Lejeune team. Personnel within the Lejeune area interested in trying out for this team should contact either 2d Lt. T. Merlino at Base ext. 7-3282 or LCpl. A. Palmiotto at Base ext. 7-3919 for further information.

Eagles, 'Skins Stay One-Two In Boys' Football Standings

The high-flying Eagles and Redskins maintained their hot pace in the Camp Lejeune Boys Football League last week by notching a victory apiece in last Sunday's doubleheader. In the first game, the Redskins overpowered the out-manned Bears, 21-12, while the Eagles maintained their hold on the league lead by stopping the Colts, 33-6, in the second game.

Carl Wiggins provided most of the Redskins' scoring punch in the "Skins" win over the Bears. The hard-running back tallied three times to pace the Redskins victory. Ricky Likens added a pair of extra points and Moon Mullins one to round out the "Skins" scoring.

Mike Campbell scored once for the Bears and passed to Mike White for another touchdown in a losing effort. Guard Lewis Distefano was a "Bear" on defense for the losers, while Jimmy Reese, Bobby Nelson, and John Bischellia were outstanding in the line for the "Skins."

In the second game of the double-header Sunday, a 33 point scoring barrage by Roger Keagy, Stewart Graham, Al McClosky and Charles Sanders kept the Eagles on top of the league. The lone Colts' score came in the third quarter on a U. of Miami star, led the "Wheels" 62 yards in seven plays for the go-ahead touchdown in the second quarter. Fullback Cyril Hawkins went the last 11 yards around left end. Curci set up the tally with a screen pass, which carried 40 yards to the Lejeune 32. Tassotti kicked the extra point for a 12-6 Eustis lead at halftime.

Lejeune reached the Eustis six in the third period, but an interception by center Lon Herzbrum stopped the threat. In the fourth quarter, the Marines rolled to the 25, but Schwarze fumbled and Eustis came up with their fourth recovery of a Marine fumble.

Twice Lejeune moved to the Eustis 10 in the final period. On the first drive four incomplete passes by Schwarze killed the march. The second threat ended with Anderson being thrown for a six-yard loss on a reverse after a first down run was stopped for no gain and two passes went incomplete.

On the last play of the game, Schwarze fired a 50-yard pass to Anderson at the two, but just before he gained control of the ball for a sure touchdown that would have tied the score, Eustis' Fran Walton knocked the ball up in the air and teammate Jerry Schweikart came up with the interception as time ran out.

FUMBLITIS plagued both teams Saturday. Eustis, however, had the best of it as the Marines bobbled the ball eight times and lost four. By SSGT. AL GUNKEL

"H---!! We looked terrible. We haven't any excuse. We just didn't deserve to win the way we played Saturday." The speaker is Lejeune's sometimes volatile head coach, Phil Monahan, on the subject of the Marine loss to Ft. Eustis. . . . There can be no doubt by those who saw the game that Lejeune played a bad game, but it's the sort of thing that happens to even the very best at times. . . . Although Eustis was keyed-up for this game (a number of the Eustis players admitted they had pointed for Lejeune), the fact remains . . . on a good day the Marines would have probably taken them by two touchdowns or more . . . keyed up or not . . .

No Arm-Chair Advice

For you arm-chair quarterbacks, who felt Lejeune should have tried to score on the ground during the fourth quarter, comes this sage reasoning . . . who can knock success . . . and it was a sure bet the Marines were having better luck in the air than they were on the ground. Coach Monahan still feels they had to go with what was working best for them throughout the game. . . . Of course, it's an old story, you look great if you make all the right moves, but lousy when you don't. . . . For our money, we still have a great little team and look out, Quantico!!

Challenge Game

How about this, if Quantico tops Eustis this weekend and this corner is betting they will, and Lejeune takes Quantico Nov. 18, the East Coast Interservice Conference could end in a three-way tie. . . . Let's have a show of hands for a re-match with Eustis if this happens. . . . We'd still pick the Marines by 14. . . . By the way, our "Big Brothers up North" stepped out of their class last week and got their ears pinned back by Villanova, 34-0 . . .

Court Season Near

Only the sixth week of the football season and all ready basketball is making its presence felt. . . . The pros have started pre-season exhibitions. . . . Lejeune's hard-wood warriors started turning up last week with a one-week try-out period. . . . Pre-season analysis points to the same problems facing new head coach Jack Whalen as faced Dave Petros in baseball and Phil Monahan in football: A lack of returning veterans. . . . Let's hope he does as well with them as did Pete and Phil Monahan . . .

Area 'Sailors' Begin Series Of Informal Races Saturday

Camp Lejeune sailing enthusiasts will run up their sails this Saturday at Wallace Creek for another in the continuing series of informal sailboat races. All persons interested in entering this race are requested to call the boathouse prior to Saturday, and reserve a boat for the race. A 12:30 p.m. briefing will be held in the boathouse prior to the race Saturday.

Results of the current series of informal races will be reviewed to determine a team to represent Camp Lejeune at the next running

Local Marine Gets A First

A Force Troops Marine last week received the first promotion to the rank of Brown Belt ever awarded by the Camp Lejeune Karate Club, according to Sgt. S. D. Pearson, instructor for the Lejeune club.

Peter L. Musacchio, Hq. Co., Force Troops, was promoted to 1st Degree, Brown Belt here last week. The step up in karate ranking was his 13th promotion in belt rank since joining the club last year.

Also receiving higher ranking last week were: Al Langill, 2d Light Sq., Co., 6th Degree White Belt, Maurice Barras, Truck Co., 2d FSR, 6th Degree White Belt, Al Wilson, 2d Comp. Rad. Co., 4th Degree White Belt, Fred Howing, Comm. Co., H&S Bn., MCB, 3rd Degree White Belt, Jim Lyles, Engr. Maint., 2d FSR, 2d Degree White Belt, Bob Hayes, "C" Co., 2d Pioneer Bn., 2d Degree White Belt, and Gil Camarillo, 2d Comp. Rad. Co., 2d Degree White Belt.

The local karate club is now meeting in the Sixth Marines Area Gym., Bldg. 115. A new beginners class is slated to begin Nov. 3. Persons interested in karate should contact Sgt. Pearson, Base ext. 7-3473.

of the Perpetual Challenge series at Cherry Point, Nov. 18.

Plans are also now being made for a "Frost-bite" series of races to be held early in 1962. When plans for this series are firm, they will be announced in the GLOBE. The series will probably consist of from eight to 10 races, held on succeeding Saturdays.

Entry in all sailing races held at Lejeune is open to all personnel and dependents at Lejeune who have qualified for sailing licenses.

Sailing lessons are given by personnel at the Wallace Creek boathouse. Persons interested, may call the boathouse for reservations. Three or four lessons are usually required to obtain a sailing license.

With the return of fall weather here, sailing conditions have been reported as near perfect. Winds have been steady, from 8 to 15 knots, with clear, sunny skies.

Loop Now Forming For Troops Keglers

The Force Troops Intramural Bowling League is now organized and five teams have already entered the scratch (no handicap) competition.

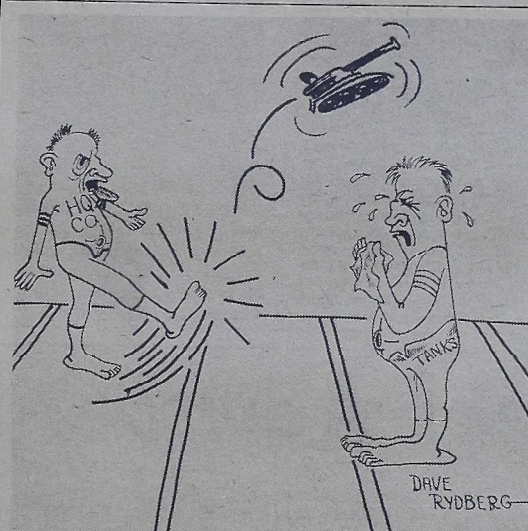

Play is slated to get underway about November 5.

Teams will consist of five regulars and four alternates.

Units which have already entered in the league are 8th Motor Transport Bn., 4th Dental Co., 2d FAI, 2d Topographic Co. and 8th Engineer Bn.

'Pups Post Perfect Record; Now Go Into State Playoffs

Camp Lejeune High's Devilpups this week completed the first undefeated football season in the school's history, finishing the regular season with a record of 9-0. The local schoolboys accomplished this by getting two wins in one week. Saturday, Lejeune polished off arch-rival Quantico, 35-0, at Quantico, and then received a forfeiture Monday from Dixon High, their last regular season opponent. The 'Pups, whose best previous record was a 6-1

DAVE RYDBERG

Clerks Top Tankers 13-7 For Troops' Touch Title

Headquarters Company, behind a stingy defense, used the passing arm of Ken Warman, the pass-catching of Ken Arnold and Des Paden, and the all-around play of speedy Dick Bailey to kick 2d Tank Bn. out of the title picture and capture the Force Troops Intramural Football Championship with a 13-7 win Tuesday. It was the second time this season that the Headquarters squad had subdued the tankers, having handed them a resounding 34-6 licking earlier in the season.

Headquarters wound up the season with a 10-2 record, winning their last eight games in a row.

Base Judoka On All-South Judo Squad

A member of the Camp Lejeune Judo Club has gained a position on the All-South Judo team which will compete in the North-South Judo Championships in New York City, November 19-20.

John Roseberry, a first degree black belt heavyweight, was named to the 12-man squad here last week at the conclusion of the semi-annual judo Shu-fu promotion matches. The Eastern United States contests were held in Lejeune's Goettge Memorial Fieldhouse last Saturday.

Two other East-Coast-stationed Marines have also been named as team members. All-Marine Judo champion Sgt. Ernie Cates and Lcp. Dave Garratt, both of the Parris Island Marine Corps Recruit Depot, will join with Roseberry to form the Marine Corps' contingent on the South Squad.

Others listed on the South team are Ray Hernandez, a former Marine now living in Washington, D. C., Jacques LeGrande, New Orleans, La., former French Champion, Yas Fukuda, Tokyo, Japan, a former Japanese intercollegiate champion now studying in Washington; and Walt Walters, a former Marine Corps heavyweight champion.

The North-South matches will be held at the New York Athletic Club.

This team will represent Force Troops in the Quad-Command Tournament.

The talented tankers used a devastating passing offense from a single wing formation to keep them in the lead most of the season, but, after winning six in a row, they lost a one-point decision to 2d Composite Radio before their two setbacks at the hands of Headquarters.

The tankers had an 8-3 mark at presstime with one game left against 8th Comm Bn. Regardless of the outcome, the tankers are assured of second place.

The communicators' chances for second place went down the drain last week when they were upset by fifth-place 8th Motor Transport Bn., 29-13.

The final league standings will appear in next week's GLOBE.

mark in 1959, will now enter the State Class "A" playoffs as champions of the Waterway Conference. Lejeune's first opponent in the playoff is undefeated Ayden. The playoff game has been set for Nov. 17, however, the site has not, as yet, been determined.

Ayden has one more regular game season game to play, Ayden and Lejeune have played two common opponents, Havelock and Beaufort. Both teams played Havelock in their opening game of this season. Ayden topped Havelock by eight points, while Lejeune managed a seven-point victory.

Against Beaufort, Lejeune came off with a 14-7 victory, while Ayden shut out the "Seadogs," 7-0. Lejeune goes into the game boasting a high scoring aggregation which has tallied a total of 227 points in eight games. Ayden, on the other hand, has been tough defensively, allowing eight opponents a total of only 21 points.

In Lejeune's final game of the season last week at Quantico, QB Jim Barrett and fullback Randy Fridley scored a pair of touchdowns each to lead the 'Pups to a 35-0 thumping of the Virginia schoolboys.

Barrett counted from the six and eight for Lejeune's first two TD's. Fridley, co-captain of the unbeaten locals, went across from the one and the eight.

"Dandy" Dick Dube, the 'Pups' leading scorer this year, capped the scoring in the fourth period with a 12-yard burst around end. Dube booted all extra points as the Devilpups racked up their 13th straight win over a two-year period.

Marines Now Third In Conference Play

With their 12-6 loss to Ft. Eustis last week, Camp Lejeune now finds itself in third spot, behind Quantico, in East Coast Interservice Conference standings.

Ft. Eustis, which has an important meeting with Quantico this weekend, continues to be the league pace-setter with a record of 5-0 in conference play. Quantico, which has played only one conference game, is in the runner-up spot at 1-0.

The Virginia-based Leathernecks stepped into the college ranks last week and absorbed a 34-0 thumping from Villanova.

Lejeune, which meets another league foe this weekend at Ft. Lee, Va., is currently tied for third position in the conference with a 1-1 record. Ft. Devens (Mass.) is also 1-1 in league play.

Ft. Dix, N. J., is in fourth place with a 2-3 record, while Ft. Belvoir, Va., is fifth at 1-3 and Ft. Lee is last at 0-4.

Midway Church Holds Halloween

Midway Park Protestants celebrate

"Trick or Treat Social" last Friday night at the Midway Park Protestant Community Center. Costumed couples treated first to a covered dish supper. Chaplain J. H. Phillabaum led the auditorium and on stage to test their nerve on a spook walk. Groping through a cemetery complete with flying ghosts, they were entangled in cobwebs, grabbed by unseen hands, startled by weird and fearsome sounds, and frightened by a monster whose face appeared suddenly out of the darkness.

After all had been thoroughly scared, the lights were turned on and the judging for the best costumes began. Three little girls took for the prettiest costume: Patricia Butler, in an Oriental gown; two tiny flappers, Netta Sue and Debbie McDonald. Winner for the most original was Timothy Russell in a Lucky Strike pack. The funniest was Ronnie Watson, the youngest of four boys, dressed like a little girl. Judges were Frieda Stevenson, Bill McDonald and Ginny Ferrell.

The children bobbed for apples as the community sing began. Mrs. Jack Padgett had prepared song sheets of favorite spirituals. She accompanied on the piano while Sgt. Bud Holzworth led the singing.

Spook night was planned and presented by members of the Midway Park Protestant Chapel Council under the leadership of Chaplain Phillabaum. Members in charge of the dinner and table decorations were Mrs. Marvin Selt and Sgt. Dick Kelton. Chairman of decorations for the auditorium was Mrs. Phil Ferrell who also organized the spook walk. She was assisted by Cpl. O. J. Martin, Sgt. Harold Parsons, Cpl. Bill Dubler and Mrs. Harold Parsons in hanging crepe-paper, bats, witches, and black cats. Sgt. Phil Ferrell designed and made the tombstones. A scarecrow, skeleton, corn shocks and jack-o-lanterns completed the scene.

Knox Residents

The Knox Community Association will hold its regular monthly meeting Tuesday, Nov. 7, at 7 p.m., in the Community Hall. All Knox residents are automatically members of the association and are urged to attend. Christmas party plans and coming social activities will be discussed. An election for new council members will be coming up soon, so all nominations will be welcomed and nominees introduced.

Regional To Attend

The Parent-Teacher Association and Camp Lejeune Junior-Senior High School will combine their November 6 meeting to give schools the opportunity to hear Dr. Woofter, Representative, Office of Education, U. S. Department of Education and Welfare, Charlottesville, Va., speak on "The Role of Federal Government in Education."

The combined meeting will be held at the Camp Lejeune Junior-Senior High School auditorium beginning at 8 p. m. Monday, November 6. Doctor Woofter will participate in a "question and answer" period following his presentation. Refreshments will be served in the school cafeteria following the program.

Dr. Woofter's educational background includes an A. B. degree in English and M. A. and D. Ed. in School Administration.

In December 1950 he joined the U. S. Office of Education as a School Facilities Survey Representative.

Col. N. A. Miller Jr., and Maj. J. W. Marsh, PTA presidents for the High School and Elementary School, respectively, in announcing the combined meeting, urged that all parents attend for what they believe will be a very interesting and informative program. Parents of children in other schools are invited to hear Doctor Woofter speak if they so desire.

Tots Who Taste Toxins Are Really Toying With Trouble

In recent weeks the Pediatric Staff at the U. S. Naval Hospital has noted a "distressing" increase in the number of accidental poison "swallowers." Many of these toddlers have required hospitalization and while, in recent months, only one fatality was recorded, several patients have incurred complications.

Group's Paper Work Cut By MCI Revision

In an effort to improve service to students, the Marine Corps Institute has revised its group enrollment program. All requests for group enrollments are now being processed under this new system.

This new method is expected to cut down the amount of paper-work involved by individual groups. Sponsors of existing groups will receive complete administrative details for the new program.

Highlights of the new program allow the sponsor to submit no roster of students until the final examinations are ordered. Students will get one chance at final examinations and no SRB entry is required in case of failure. In addition, students unable to take the final examinations with their groups may switch to individual enrollments without loss of credit.

Completion certificates for group enrollments (a minimum of ten students) is required to establish a group will not be mailed until tests required for the course are received.

Students who feel they might benefit from group enrollment, rather than individually, should contact their unit education officer or education NCO.

Shooters

The monthly meeting of the Camp Lejeune Rifle and Pistol Club will be held at 7:30 p. m., Nov. 7, at the Montford Point Staff NCO Club. Election of officers to serve during 1962 will take place. All members are urged to attend. A short film entitled "Showman Shooter," 27 minutes long, depicting a famous exhibition marksman, the late Herb Parsons, will be shown. Refreshments will be served.

(1) Check all household chemicals and drugs. Discard or destroy all excess items in a way that neither children nor their pets will have access to them.

(2) Be sure the remaining medicines and chemicals are in their original or distinctly marked containers, preferably under lock and key.

(3) Do not place non-edible products on the same shelves with food.

(4) Never give and never take medicines in the dark. When giving medicine to children stress that it is medicine and not candy.

(5) Read all labels thoroughly. The law requires a list of chemical contents but not all poisons are adequately marked. In many instances antidotes are clearly given on the label.

Allowing for that small percentage of parents or children who don't get the word, the following might save a life after taking a poison:

(1) Speed is essential — do not delay calling the hospital (44306) as to what to do at home and where to bring the child.

(2) Save the remaining contents and bring the 'poison' container to the hospital, or if not available a sample of the vomitus. While only the mentally ill would deliberately poison their offspring, too many "sound" parents provide their children with the elements to poison themselves.

Loan Guaranty Benefits

Under the Servicemen's Readjustment Act of 1944, unmarried widows of eligible Marines are also eligible for loan benefits extended by the VA to honorably separated veterans.

Three years ago this month, they enlisted in the Corps, and their tour lasted through these years, too.

They went through recruit training in the same platoon, received their ITR training in the same company, and were assigned to the same infantry company in the Eighth Marine Regiment. Not even the call of duty abroad broke up their partnership. During the first six months of 1959, they made a Mediterranean cruise together.

In July, 1960, they were both transferred to "D" Co., 8th Engineer Bn., where they have been together ever since.

Tuesday marked the first time since joining the Corps that they couldn't venture a guess, but a matched pair of .44 cal. Magnums alone cost them $300.

The twins, who are both lance corporals, have an unusual collection of firearms that started when they got their first weapons for hunting purposes when they were 14 years old.

The hobby has become an obsession with the brothers, and the array of weapons has reached a total of 114. The collection includes high-powered rifles, shotguns, all types of pistols, and even Civil War muzzle-loaders.

How much money the twins have wrapped up in this hobby, they couldn't venture a guess, but a matched pair of .44 cal. Magnums alone cost them $300.

Genius is often nothing more than an inflamed enthusiasm.

A JOB WELL DONE—The commanding general of Force Troops, Brig. Gen. Wood B. Kyle, congratulates SSGT. Howard D. Wolford, and presents him with a Career Advisory Achievement Award for the period of Jan. 1 to Sept. 12, 1961. While being assigned as the Career Advisory NCO of the 8th Comm. Bn., Force Troops, during this period, Sergeant Wolford obtained 80 extension of enlistments, 30 reenlistments, 200 new enrollments in MCI and USAFI courses, also during the month of August obtained 67% of reenlistments. WHO'S PROUDEST?—It was a proud moment for Capt. Eugene S. Jaczko, Jr., center, when he was promoted to his present rank, but his two small daughters did it up BIG when the time came to pin on the insignia. The new captain's commanding officer, Maj. J. M. Lowder, gets Steffie, 3½, into position to do the honors, while the skipper's wife, Aileen, gives Susan, 2½, a helping hand. Captain Jaczko, who was promoted to his new rank on Oct. 23, is the adjutant of H&S Bn., 2d FSR. (Photo by GySgt. John Babyack Jr.)
