

If you ask me...

IF TIME TRAVEL WAS POSSIBLE, TO WHICH YEAR WOULD YOU LIKE TO TRAVEL AND WHY?

PFC JOHNIE F. NORRIS, WM Co., Hq. Bn., MCB —

I think I'd like to go back to Nov. 10, 1776. I think it would be fun to plan the decorations for the first Marine Corps Birthday Ball. I often wonder what life would have been then.

HM3 JIMMY LESTER, Base Dispensary —

In looking back through history, I have often wondered what it would be like to live during the Revolutionary War and understand what it means to fight for freedom and our way of life as they did.

HN LOIS BRYANT, Base Dispensary —

If I had my choice, I'd go back to the "olden days" when everyone had servants. Then I'd give up working. Nobody likes working and naturally I would be willing to pay well for my servants' work. You see, I'd be rich enough.

ACT. CPL. JAMES T. ARMSTRONG, Motor Transport Co., Hq. Bn., MCB —

I'd like to travel back to Civil War days so I could fight against the North. Maybe then we could lick those Yankees.

DN JAMES W. PEARSON JR., 4th Dental Co., Force Troops, FMF —

If I could go back in time, I'd like to change my age, too. I'd like to have the chance to take advantage of the educational opportunities that were available to me a few years ago. Then I wouldn't have to bother with the many hours of off-duty courses I now take to catch up on what I missed.

PFC MARY McCOY, WM Co., Hq. Bn., MCB —

Being a loyal Rebel, I'd like to travel back to Civil War days and fight against the Yankees. It would be exciting to be a spy or a message runner for the Confederacy. Besides, since there were no women's services in those days, I wouldn't have to get up for reveille.

BASE WOODWORKING SHOP CLOSED

Base Woodworking Shop will be closed for several weeks during renovation of building. Opening date will be announced later.

"HAM" PHONE CALL—Pvt. Maggie J. Waley, right, WM Co., Hq. Bn., MCB, talks with her parents in Houston, Tex., by means of the telephone "patched" into the transmitter of the Base Amateur Radio Station, W4LEV. Act. MSgt. Vincent J. Vecchiarelli, station NCOIC, controls the transmitter and patch board, which enables telephone conversations to be transmitted on ham frequencies to points covering much of the world. The station, operated for years by the 2nd Division, was recently turned over to Base.

Base 'Ham' Radio Calls Distant Loved Ones

"This is Double-U, Four, Little Eager" KG4AM, Guantanamo Bay, Cuba, come in please Mrs. Gene Vincens here on phone patch band at Marine Barracks. . . . Are you ready? . . . fire . . . go ahead, Mrs. Vincens." What you is the start of a no-cost long-distance telephone call from a Marine wife to her husband, stationed, possibly on TAD in Cuba. What appears to be rather odd telephone conversation is actually the words of the "ham" radio operator at the Base Amateur Radio Station, W4LEV, calling another ham station at "Gitmo", to make a "patched" telephone call.

Regularly scheduled "ham" operators for either full Operators who work at the station visit W4LEV or their names and they would like asterisks or other tions. Regularly scheduled "ham" operators for either full Operators who work at the station visit W4LEV or their names and they would like asterisks or other tions.

Some of these calls and messages are as near as Vieques, Puerto Rico, or as far away as Okinawa. Others are made to hometowns across the nation.

The system is relatively simple, according to Act. MSgt. Vincent J. Vecchiarelli, NCOIC of the amateur station. "An electrical device attached to our transmitter and receiver," he explained, "enables us to 'hook-up' our telephone to the equipment. The phone conversation is thereby transmitted through the air to the receiver we want to pick up. The receiver, in turn, hooks up to a telephone and what we call a 'patched' telephone call begins."

He further explained that a person can make an appointment at the station for such a call to a far-away location and make that call right in his home here on the Base. Written messages may be left at the station anytime, he added.

For years an operation of the 2nd Division, W4LEV was turned over to MCB in July. It is a Special Services activity and operates from 4:30 a.m. to 4 p.m. daily. Currently the station has only two operators, Sgt. Vecchiarelli and

MCAS Kaneohe Bay Offers Extensive Local Facilities

The Hawaiian Islands, the 50th star in Old Glory's field of blue, are often called the "Pacific Islands of Paradise." This they may well be, for marines stationed at MCAS, Kaneohe Bay. The station, located on Oahu, the third largest of the Hawaiian chain, is 30 minutes' drive from downtown Honolulu. The "on-base" housing has received a shot in the arm with the completion of the new 650-unit Capehart Housing Project which is designed as public quarters.

The new houses are completely furnished except for dishes, cooking utensils and linen; and may be rented for a nominal fee. As an added convenience, an automatic garbage disposal unit has been installed in each kitchen.

A marine may buy a house on the island but a home consisting of two or three bedrooms ranges in price from $18,000 to $50,000. Or, he may build a home. Most land, however, is not for sale and the marine would have to lease it for 55 years. The monthly rental fee for lease-land may run as high as one per cent of the value of the home.

Limited temporary housing is available for marines for a period of two months, or until they have acquired an accommodation for their families. An allowance of $15 per day for two dependents and $22.50 for three or more dependents is provided.

Those eligible for Public Quarters or on-station rental housing must be E-4 or above. Also, one must have at least six months' foreseeable duty at Kaneohe Bay. The waiting period is approximately six to 12 months, depending on the size of accommodations desired.

Prices for gasoline and oil are about the same as those on the mainland, but petroleum products are a poorer grade. U. S.-manufactured vehicles are sold but they will cost a little more because of the added transportation costs.

The city of Honolulu provides the service man on liberty with fine hotels along the beach-front, or with excellent shopping facilities. There is an Armed Forces Recreation Center where many diversified recreation activities are provided. There is no charge for the use of the center.

There is a commissary on the base which, in addition to providing a source of food for the base residents, offers a barber shop, gas station, PX, ladies' shop, laundry, officers' uniform shop and a beauty salon.

If you are going to Kaneohe Bay, do not take winter clothing.

Financial Burden Eased For Dependents Returning Home

Financial hardships facing military dependents who return from overseas ahead of their sponsors will be eased by recent changes to the Defense Department's Joint Travel Regulations.

Before the change, transportation was provided dependents only as far as the U. S. port when they preceded their sponsors home. This procedure often caused hardships since the kin had to make their own way from the port of entry.

The government will now pick up the tab for travel to the kin's home of record, Navy Times announced. Dependents may request

2nd Division's Intramural Matches Get Top Shooters

Practically synonymous with the term "marine" is the word marksmanship. Since its earliest days members of the Marine Corps have prided themselves on their capabilities in this field of endeavor. Such proficiency has come about through programs which stimulate individual interest through competitive shooting.

One such program is the Intramural Smallbore Rifle and Pistol competition, held on the first three Saturdays of the month, under the auspices of the Division Rifle and Pistol Team. This program is also enlarged to include the large bore rifle and pistol competition.

Smallbore rifle competition is held on the first and second Saturdays of each month commencing at 7:30 a.m. Representatives of the Division Rifle and Pistol Team act in a supervisory capacity at all matches. These members are thoroughly familiar with the current National Rifle Association rules, under which each match is fired. They are also well versed in all facets of marksmanship training, imparting their experience and technical skills to all interested participants.

Each battalion in the Division is represented, with participation open to all interested individuals. Each team fires a total of three matches for score with the small-bore rifle.

Quarterly Champion
A quarterly champion is determined from these weekly matches. Quarters commence on the 15th day of May, August, November, and February. Individual performances in the quarterly matches are the criteria used in selecting new members for the Division Rifle and Pistol Team. Members of this group are entered in the Eastern Division and other approved matches where they are pitted against some of the best shooters in the country.

Appropriate individual and team awards are provided for the first, second, and third place teams in the quarterly competition.

Winter Change-Over

With the recent arrival of colder weather felt by all marines of Camp Lejeune, we naturally had to change our way of dress for obvious reasons.

Winter months here at Camp Lejeune also bring an increased number of visiting foreign officers from all corners of the world; therefore it seems appropriate that a change in personal habits with the accent on military courtesy be exercised, especially when visiting officers tour the Camp Lejeune facilities.

It's an old expression, "First impressions are lasting ones," and as marines we want all visiting dignitaries to depart from Camp Lejeune with an outstanding first impression.

As we make the change-over on our cars, homes, and working areas for the coming cold weather, let's sharpen our personal habits, uniforms and equipment so that we present by act and appearance a good first impression.

Free World Marks Birth Of United Nations Saturday

Saturday marks the 14th year of existence for the United Nations which in New York City. During these years the world has seen many changes—new come into being, its population has increased at an unprecedented rate and concerned with exploring outer space. During this period, one fact stands out in history has one flag represented as many countries and as many people United Nations. Back of it is the support of 82 nations with a combined population of 2,340,000,000 people.

President Eisenhower has proclaimed Saturday as United Nations Day and has called upon Americans to engage in appropriate observances which will demonstrate their faith in the UN and contribute to a better understanding of its aims, problems and achievements.

Representative Colors

In the display of flags at UN Headquarters, the blue and white standard represents all members. Before it in a long semi-circle are the flags of member nations, arranged alphabetically. One flag represents a country with a population of 310,000 and an area of 999 square miles. Another represents a country with more than 200,000,000 population and an area of 8,648,000 square miles.

U.N. Dinner

Quad-Command messhalls will join in the 14th anniversary observance of United Nations Day by serving a symbolic dinner Saturday, complete with printed menu containing a message from the Base commanding general and a prayer by the Base chaplain.

Included in the international dishes will be such dishes as Italian Minestrone soup, German Franconia potatoes, French green beans, Spanish olives, Danish and Swedish rolls, English muffins, Dutch apple pie and India tea.

Chaplain's Corner

Both statements are true — "Man is free" and "Man is not free". Man has been created free to make choices for himself. However when he makes certain choices he is no longer free but assumes certain responsibilities and limitations to his life.

Freedom has well been defined as "the privilege of making desirable bondages." Marriage is one "desirable bondage" made by exercising the privilege of freedom. The bondage of the habits we form, the bondage of bad company we might choose to keep, the bondage of poor attitudes to life are all the result of our exercise of the freedom of choice.

Therefore, as humanity, we should not exercise our privilege of freedom as the stray dog. Having no master, the stray dog will likely follow any passer-by who whistles to it. Many people will fall in behind any passing prejudice or whistling crowd.

Think before you leap! Think before you exercise your freedom to make your own choices, because in choosing you are surrendering your freedom to that which you choose. Is it a desirable bondage?

Catholic Mission

A two-week Catholic Mission is being conducted by the Redemptorist Fathers at the Infant of Prague Church, Jacksonville. The Mission commenced on October 18 and will continue through October 31. Two services are held nightly at 6 and 8 o'clock, and Catholic personnel and their dependents are invited to attend.

Message From The Commanding General

Today we commemorate the 14th Anniversary of the United Nations, an international organization dedicated to the respect for human rights and for fundamental freedoms for all without distinction as to race, sex, language or religion—the United Nations.

Using force as a last resort, but functioning as a center where the 82 member-nations discuss their problems and seek out the solutions, the United Nations constantly strives to keep the peace.

Based on respect for the principal of self-determination of peoples, the United Nations works to develop friendly relations among nations and that international cooperation is achieved in economic, social, cultural and humanitarian fields.

The magnitude of the tasks which have been assigned to this most worthy organization since its founding have exceeded by the degree of services rendered the threat of aggression.

I am sure that each of you join me in the continued success and progress of the United Nations.

Brigadier General, U. S. Marine Corps

Polack Brothers Circus Performs Here Oct. 30

It's circus time again! The magic of the sawdust ring will come to Camp Lejeune as Polack Brothers Circus takes over the Goettge Memorial Field House Oct. 30. The star-spangled show will give two giant performances—a matinee at 4 p.m. and an evening show at 8. Ticket prices for both shows are: children, 50 cents; adults, $1, and are now on sale. Tickets may be purchased at Goettge Memorial Field House; MC Exchange; Camp Theater; Drive-In Theater; Central Library; Paradise Point Officers Club; Hadnot Point Staff NCO Club; Division Special Services; Hq. Bn., MCB; Special Services; Force Troops Special Services; MCAF Special Services; Camp Geiger Special Services; Courthouse Bay Special Services, and Jacksonville Chamber of Commerce.

The public is invited to attend and may pick up visitors passes from the sentry at the main gate when coming aboard for the circus. Jacksonville residents may purchase tickets from Roy Stevens at the Chamber of Commerce.

Animal Acts
Chief among the many sights enjoyed by circus-goers are the animal acts. Polack Brothers feature a wide variety of trained animals, ranging from the side-splitting antics of the chimpanzees to the thrilling performance put on Prince El Kigordo's African lions. The show also includes feats of surprising skill done by the huge Besalou elephants and nimble tricks performed by the trained dogs and ponies of Burger's Ken-L-Kade.

High-wire thrills are provided by the death-defying antics of such groups as the Flying Alexanders; the High Wire Circus; Princess Tajana, called the "Indian Goddess of Flight," and Senior Cardona and his airy "cloud swing."

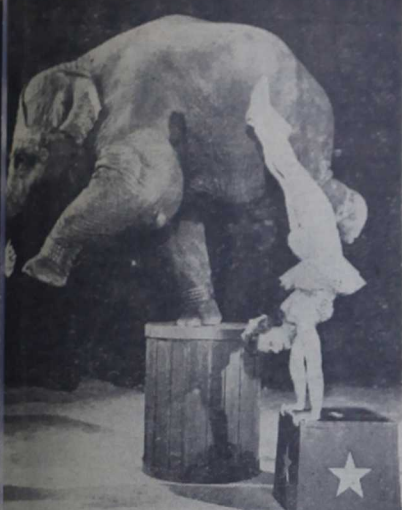

Aerial Acts

Other aerial and balancing acts include the teeth suspension feats of the Latin American Reynoso Trio, and the Aerialvolines. The Georgian Trio, the Five Amantus, the Tong Brothers, and the Ricardos present exciting tumbling and balancing acts. Also lending a skillful hand to the proceedings are the George Hanneford Barback Riders.

Last, but not least in the parade of stars are the clowns, whose pranks and pantomime have become a symbol of circuses everywhere. Barbed in gay colors, the clowns are ready to provide comic entertainment for visitors to the circus show.

REYNOSO TRIO

STANDERS—Opal, star of the Besalou Elephants Polack Bros. Circus, balances on one foot for Mack, a human handstand done by Peggy MacDonald. It appears Friday, Oct. 30, in the Goettge Memorial 4 and 8 p.m.

"I'm a charter member of this Division (as its first G-1 (personnel officer). Consequently, I wanted to command the Second."

Maj. Gen. J. C. Burger gazed thoughtfully out the window overlooking New River. His desire to command the 2nd Division. And he was specific—he will vacate his command to prepare for a larger post: Commanding General, 2nd Marine Amphibious Brigade, Marine Force, Atlantic.

"So," he continued, "when you ask why this tour has been, I can only answer that it has been a highlight."

Most of the general's days have been spent in the Division's reorganization. Equipment, personnel and procedures have been revamped.

His eyes shifting from the river to the horizon beyond, General Burger appraised his newly finished reorganizing. Before making a commitment to the Division structure, however, it is needed for testing.

"Training-wise, we're in a high state of readiness to perform any job given us."

Does the general feel that the 2nd Division's training areas and numerous maneuvers have been a success?

Generals Stumble Over Marines 19-0

Forecast Win Tomorrow In Mitchel Game

A really tough contest is shapping up for this Friday night between the Marines and Mitchel Air Force Base of Long Island, N. Y. The game, being played at Mitchel, should be a victory for the locals if they continue to play the way they did against Bolling and Ft. Lee.

Mitchel will be no easy mark, however. Their 32 record shows some close competition with two teams which walked all over the Marines—Pensacola and Ft. Campbell.

The Mitchel Volunteers started the season against Pensacola, played in a driving rainstorm and came out with a 2-0 victory on the strength of a third quarter safety. Pensacola, playing Lejeune two weeks later, scored three fourth-quarter touchdowns to stop the Marines 19-0.

In their third game this year, Mitchel faced Ft. Campbell and lost by a close 13-9. Lejeune lost to Campbell the following week, 36-13.

Sounds Bad

From these two sets of results it sounds like the Marines will be anything but winners this Friday. Other Mitchel results don't make the Lejeune cause look any better. The Volunteers beat Ft. Belvoir 16-6, lost to Hamilton AFB 7-29 and then walked over Ft. Dix 20-6.

However, there have been some drastic changes in the Marine lineup, strategy and morale in the last two weeks. These are counted on to bring home the bacon.

Mitchel features a giant line. Their starting left tackle tips the scales at 270 pounds. The rest of the forward wall averages out at something over 220 pounds. This line has been compared favorably with Campbell's which tore Lejeune to pieces.

Marine Punch

But last Saturday the Generals fielded a line against the Marines averaging 220. Though Lejeune lost, the locals had little trouble punching holes in the Bolling wall. That line is figured to be better than Mitchel's.

The Volunteers run from a straight-T. Their most dangerous man is quarterback Bobby Jones who can kick, run and pass. Jones is also a standout defensive player.

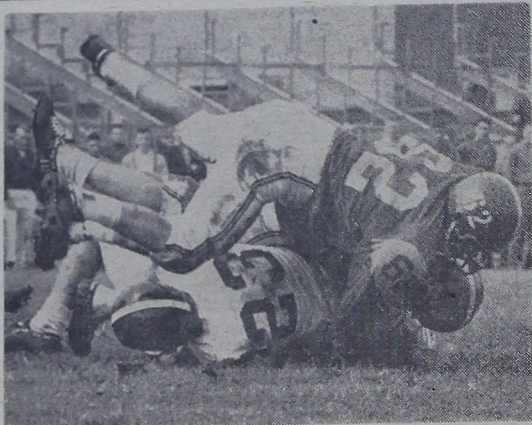

In games to date, Mitchel has depended largely on power plays to the right and has defended mainly against long passes and end runs. If they follow this pattern Friday, they will be running to the strong side of the Marine line—Valentine, Botchan and Mora.

Short, not long passes are Lejeune's aerial specialty. Trap plays off tackle and guard are the big ground gainers for the Marines, not end runs.

However, should Mitchel change tactics, Joe Newman can throw the long pass. Ralph Tropeano and Tom Sacremonone can both get down to catch it, and Tropeano, especially, can speed around end should that route become a necessity.

The game is scheduled to be televised in the New York City area. Results will be available at the GLOBE sports desk Monday after 8 a.m. (7-5821).

ALL LEGS—Guard Tony DeMatteo (62) looks like he had several extra legs as he piles in to help throw Bolling's Dick Felt (23) for a loss early in Saturday's game on Liversedge Field. DeMatteo was one of the Marine defensive standouts.

Fighting Lejeune Grid Hands Big Score To

Camp Lejeune's Marines forced a heavy Bolling Air Force eleven to come from behind to win on Liversedge Field Saturday. Nearly 5,000 spectators to see the Bolling Generals walk away with a game, were captivated by the drive and fight of the Marines.

They held the visitors to minus 10 yards on the first set of plays, then took a punt on their own 24 and marched for a touchdown.

Halfback Ralph Tropeano, big ground gainer for the Lejeune eleven, scored the Marines' six-pointer on a four-yard plunge. Advanced to the starting unit last week, Tropeano carried 12 times in the ball game for 64 yards, a five-yard-per-carry average.

The Marines' first quarter lead was short lived. In the second quarter, Bolling's defensive standout, tackle Bob Davis, recovered a John Ferrari fumble on his own 34 and the Generals started to move.

Temporary Bog

On Lejeune's 17 the Bolling drive bogged down temporarily when Ken Easley and Jim Mora broke through to throw halfback Gene Hill for a six-yard loss on third down.

With fourth and 16 coming up, the Generals tried a field goal. A cheer went up as the kick was Guard Tony DeMatteo's first half defensive stand broke through the Bolling line and nail Bolling runner.

Lejeune moved to the end zone but they kicked off to the Bolling side. The Marines stopped on downs, but a pitch from Newman Tom Sacremonone won the end zone but they were knocked out of the end zone and the back.

The Generals turned their backs to the end zone and scored 94 yards to set up a touchdown. Bob West completed the drive, one yard to halfback Tropeano. The touchdown buckled down and Dan Williams fullback Dan Williams scored two extra points.

Forming Judo Team & Club; Meeting Set

Tryouts for the Camp Lejeune judo team—and at the same time organization of a Camp judo club—will be held in the Goettge Memorial Field House two weeks from tonight (Nov. 5) at 7 p.m.

Capt. Brian Burke, the judo coach who piloted the last two Camp teams to All-Marine titles, made the announcement. Burke will coach the new team and be an instructor in the soon to be organized club. He holds a first grade black belt.

Men experienced in Kodokan judo (the sports variety) are desired for the team. Some 15 to 20 will be accepted. Anyone interested in learning judo—experienced or not—is invited to join the club.

The team, after being formed, will train through the fall and winter for the All-Marine matches next March. Lejeune's team won the 1958 and '59 titles.

World-Wide

Burke said the judo club—first of its kind on the Base—will be non-profit, free-of-charge and will be affiliated with Shufu Judo Yūdansa-Kai which is East Coast headquarters of judo's world-wide organization in Tokyo.

Affiliation with the Shufu will permit members to be recognized on a world-wide basis. Members will also be able to earn belt status in the club.

Anyone interested in judo is invited to watch the judo team tryouts, see just what judo is and learn further details of the club, Captain Burke said.

Kodokan judo, which is what the Camp team will specialize in and the club will follow, is not to be confused with karate or other defensive and killing types of judo and jui-jitsu. It is the sports variety as boxing is the sports variety of fist fighting.

TENSE SITUATION—Marine head coach Jim Quinn reflects the full tension of Saturday's encounter with the Bolling Air Force Generals as he watches from the sidelines. Quinn's change of strategy for the Generals came close to producing the upset of the year.

Tenth Ties Second Marines, Gives Sixth Chance At Crown

After an action-packed week of Division intramural football the Second and Sixth Marines remain in contention for the league title.

The Second Marines qualified for a title-shot as they battled a fired-up Tenth Marine eleven to a 12-12 deadlock. The tie erased any last ditch hopes the Cannoneers had for a chance at the league crown.

Service Bn. came from behind on a fourth period drive to tie a revitalized Group I contingent, 6-6.

The Sixth Marines again moved into a first place tie with the Second coming from behind to edge a hustling Eighth Marine eleven, 12-6.

In their tie with the Second, the Cannoneers unveiled a powerful running attack early in the first period when they drove to the Second's 13-yard line before yielding to a stubborn defensive unit. The initial drive was sparked by the running of halfback Al Davis who carried on seven of 11 plays.

The Second Marines took advantage of a bad pass from center to set up their first scoring opportunity of the day when Tom Chewning, Tenth Marine kicker, was dropped on his own 12-yard line on fourth down. Three plays later George Junod skirted left end for the score. Al Parker's kick for the point after was wide.

Tenth Scores

When John Borgese returned a Second Marine punt 41 yards to the Second's 39-yard stripe late in the second quarter the Cannoneers launched their first successful drive.

With approximately four minutes remaining in the half, the Cannoneers took to the air, completing three successive passes, the third a Feltman-to-Jones aerial which carried for 12 yards and the touchdown.

The Second again took advantage of a Tenth Marine miscue when the Cannoneers fumbled the second half kickoff on their 29-yard line. In two plays Charlie Lee moved to the seven where Emmet Price scored on a quarterback sneak.

Costly Fumble

In the third period the Tenth Marines had several scoring opportunities but were able to capitalize on only one. Ben Gazzola recovered a Second Marine fumble on the 20-yard line and on a fourth down play Feltman fired to Borgese in the end zone for the score.

With less than four minutes remaining in the game the Tenth Marines were again knocking on the door but a five-yard backfield in motion penalty stalled the drive on the Second Marine nine. The game ended minutes later on a dramatic note as the Second's Charlie Lee was dropped on the Cannoneer's 20-yard line after gathering in a 50-yard pass from Joe Carter.

Service Bn. spotted Group I an early first period touchdown, then came back with a late fourth quarter score to even the count. Group I scored early on a pass play to Jim Jeter which caught (See DIVISION FOOTBALL, Page 10)

Sanders Eleven Rolls 12-0; Undefeated In Boys League

Sanders Ford continued on the undefeated trail in the Lejeune boys' grid league defeating Camp Cafeteria Sunday, 12-0. The second place White's Seal Test eleven stopped Marine Chevrolet 19-0. The Sanders team had to work for its win. Just before the end of the first quarter Carl Hegquist connected to John Thomas from 10 yards out. Taking it on the flat, Thomas evaded several tacklers and raced into the end zone standing up. Hegquist's pass for the extra point went begging.

It took the winners nearly three quarters to find another scoring combination. Cafeteria, mounting an excellent pass defense, nearly stopped Sanders cold in the air. The Ford eleven completed only two of 15 tosses.

Beautiful Blocking

On the ground the Sanders team rolled up 177 yards. The final 24 of these, just minutes before the end of the game, scored the second touchdown. Forrest Woolbridge, getting beautiful blocking from Gene Trowbridge and Hegquist, scored the 24-yard tally. The extra point pass by Hegquist again went incomplete.

White's, in their victory over Chevrolet, had a heyday in the air, completing four of nine tries for 120 yards, three of them for touchdowns.

Charley Oehl passed to Jim Whitehead for two of the six-pointers, one in the first quarter and one in the last. The first one was taken by Whitehead on the Chevy 40 and the other, a fourth down play, was hauled in on the Chevy 15.

Tommy Brennan pitched one to Jerry Stevens on the Chevrolet 10 in the second quarter to account for the other Sealtest touchdown. Brennan dove off right tackle following this marker to pick up the only extra point of the game.

The Sealtest team rolled on the ground as well as in the air, picking up 129 yards rushing. The losing Chevrolet squad was held to 33 yards on the ground and eight in the air.

Title Decider

Sanders Ford is the only team which has beaten the Sealtest eleven. That was a 12-7 contest three weeks ago in which the Sanders boys had to come from behind. These two meet for the second time this Sunday at 3 p.m. in a game that will decide the league title. If Sealtest wins, the loop could very well end in a tie.

In the first game Sunday, at 1 p.m., Chevrolet and Cafeteria will clash. Both games are on the field at the entrance to Tarawa Terrace I.

Unauthorized Hunters Pose Problem But First Big Deer Shoot Successful

FIRST DEER—Taking advantage of a new Base Regulation this year that allows a squirrel hunter to bag a deer, Lt. (USN) H. C. DeGrotte Jr., right, made the first official deer kill of the season last Thursday. He was hunting with CWO B. T. Jones, left. Both officers are attached to the Naval Medical Field Research Laboratory. DeGrotte said the six-point buck was about 31 paces away when he fired. The buck weighed out at 125 pounds and was DeGrotte's first, aside from organized deer hunts.

Some 200 hunters participated in the first organized deer hunt on the Base last Saturday, bagging a total of 20 deer. Due to the cooling weather the dogs ran well and more deer were taken than on the first hunt last year.

The biggest problem some hunts came across were squirrel hunters.

All hunters are cautioned: You cannot hunt without permission from the Base Game Protector. Permission will not be granted in any area where an organized hunt is being conducted. Hunters caught shooting game without permission are liable to loss of all hunting privileges aboard the Base.

Hunters are also cautioned that they must report all turkey, bear and deer kills. Some instances have been noted this week where kills were not reported. Failure to make a report to the Game Protector will lead to disciplinary action.

The following seven areas are designated deer and bear hunt areas (boundaries are given):

Area 1—Holcomb Boulevard, Highway 24, Smiths Road, Lyman Road and Sneads Ferry Road.

Area 2—Smiths Road, Highway 24, Highway 172, Old Swansboro Earth Road and Lyman Road.

Area 3—Sneads Creek, New River, French Creek, Jumping Run, Sneads Ferry Road, Marines Road and Courthouse Bay.

Area 4—Marines Road, Sneads Ferry Road and Highway 172.

Area 5—Sneads Ferry Road, Highway 172, Mossy Point Road, Smiths Road and Lyman Road.

Area 6—Freemans Creek, Highway 172, Mossy Point Road, Smiths Road, Lyman Road, Bear Creek and Intracoastal Waterway.

Area 7—Sneads Ferry Road, Highway 172, Freemans Creek, Intracoastal Waterway, New River and Courthouse Bay.

starters, obviously beat, couldn't stop an 82-yard drive spearheaded by Bill Austin, an All-America product of Rutgers and a second unit man with the Generals.

Twice during the final Bolling drive a fourth down measurement was needed to determine if a first down had been made. Austin scored the touchdown, going over from the four.

As the clock ticked away the Marines made a gallant effort to retaliate. Going from their own 20 they reached the Bolling 19 as the game ended.

Newman, throwing all Marine passes in the game, completed 17 of 31 for 148 yards. Bolling, with LeRoy Phelps alternating with West in the throwing department, completed seven of 12 for 115 yards, two of them for TD's.

The final offensive figures gave the Marines a nine-yard edge on Bolling.

Staff NCO Wives Bowling League

The Hi-Lows, with a 3-1 win, dropped the Bullets into second place and maintained their first place tie with the Pinspinners this week. The Pinspinners, also winning 3-1, dropped the Bowlettes. A 4-0 victory by the Bowling Bags over the Bob Cats moved the BB's out of the league cellar.

Individual Highs were posted by: Hi-Lows—Delores Johnson, 185, and Charlotte Forbes, 447; Bullets—Ollie McCarvell, 143-403; Pinspinners—Gloria Beth, 167-446; Bowlettes—Shirley Croker, 138, and Gergette Bohula, 358; Bowling Bags—Terry Anzilotti, 190-474; Bob Cats—Dolly Flick, 144-398.

the Service Bn. defenders flat-footed. The game, played in a steady downpour, then settled into a defensive affair with neither team being able to move well on the slippery field.

Service Bn. salvaged the tie late in the fourth period when Fred Prissi tossed to Gerry Dodd on the three. Prissi took it over on the following down on a dive play. The ball game ended with Service Bn. in possession on the Group I five-yard line.

Scare Sixth

The wretched Eighth Marines threw a scare into the front-running Sixth Marines before succumbing in the final four minutes of play on a blocked punt. The game, played on a water-logged field, saw the Eighth score their first touchdown of the season midway through the first period when A. Schmidt swept his own right end for a 20-yard scamper into paydirt.

Playing as if the title were at stake the Eighth Marines defense was superb throughout the early stages of the contest.

Tom Bassano, outstanding Sixth Marine halfback, evened the count late in the first half when he galloped 65 yards through the center of the Eighth Marine line and outraced the secondary for the six-pointer.

After a scoreless third period, the Sixth Marines mounted a scoring drive in the closing minutes of the game. Moving to the Eighth's one-yard line they lost the ball on a fumble.

The Eighth Marines, electing to kick out of danger on the first play from scrimmage, had the punt blocked by George Canty, hard charging tackle for the Sixth forward wall. Charlie Flynn fell on the loose oval in the end zone for what proved to be the margin of victory.

The Sixth Marines met the Second Marines on Wednesday in a game which decided the 1959 intramural title. Both teams boasted a record of three victories and one tie at the start of this week's play.

Pensacola Aftermath: One of the finest year is their battle with Pensacola for the benefit of children. The Pensacola Shrine sponsors the army and turns all profits over to their crippled children.

It is a custom of the Shriners to express their appreciation of the Marines' continued participation in the event by sending the coaching staff and three players a gift. The players are chosen for their performance.

This year, quarterback Marshall J. Newman was as the Marines' most valuable player. He received a watch. Ron Beagle was selected as most outstanding and received a Bulova watch. Tom Sacremone was standing backfield man and received a Benrus watch. The coaches received a lighter.

Because Beagle is still confined to the Naval Hospital covering from a knee operation—he was injured in a sacola game—the presentations were made at Ft. Lejeune this year. Brig. Gen. Sidney S. Wade, Base CG, awards on behalf of the Pensacola Shriners.

Predictions: Sticking our neck out we guess the following football guesses: The Marines will win its next four ball games and go into the Quarterback on Nov. 21 with a 5-5 record.

The Marines should take Mitchell AFB this week. Ft. Gordon, set for Liversedge Field, will be a complete walk-away. The entire bench will and even then the spread will be all in favor of the Marines.

Against the 82nd Airborne at Ft. Bragg—which has been rescheduled from Saturday, Nov. 7, Nov. 8—there will be a real battle but, again, the Marines will pile up at least a two-touchdown advantage.

Ft. Dix, on Nov. 15, will see the Marines win points.

Saturday's game with Bolling proved that the Marines is much better than the record indicates. Also proved the win over Ft. Lee was no fluke.

Coach Jim Quinn has made several changes and that all are for the best. His choice of Ralph Troiano replacement for an ailing Keith Wilson was particularly good. In two games Troiano has become the club's lead and ground gainer. He has 162 yards on 25 carries for a 6.5-yard average. Closest competitor is Ken Easley with 111 yards on 34 carries. Joe Grinrod of the second team next with 80 yards on 15 tries. Tom Sacremone followed with 76 yards on 22 carries.

When the statistics for the first six ball games are compared it is apparent that what the Marines lacked in early games was a good ground offense to back up the team's aerial attack. In four games the locals totaled 100 yards on the ground while opponents were good for 773. In the last two, Lejeune has amassed 349 to opponents' 235.

In the air, the Marines piled up 558 aerial yards in first four contests to opponents' 459. Adding the yards from Ft. Lee and Bolling and we have 897 to opponents' 515.

Newman has accounted for all but some 150 yards. Not counting Ft. Campbell, for which individual statistics are not available, Newman has thrown 113 for 550 yards at a 486 percentage. His most consistent target has been Mora who has hauled in 27 for 254 yards. Beagle has caught 10 for 152 yards. Third in the passing department is Sacremone who has caught seven for 100 yards.

Other changes which the coach has made to improve the Marine attack and strengthen the defense include: moving Botchan from right guard to left tackle, advancing Matteo to starting right guard, putting Frank Yamamoto first unit at right tackle and switching Paul Sharp to serve tackle position to right end on the second down.

SHRINE GAME REWARD—For their part in the Pensacola-Lejeune grid tilt this year, the coaching staff and three players received gifts—an annual custom—from the Pensacola, Fla., Shrine lodge which sponsors the game for the benefit of crippled children. Ghosts, Goblins, Witches Reign At OWC Halloween Ball Saturday Night

Ghosts and goblins, witches, elves and maybe even a pirate crew! Scenes from a child's story book? Not quite; these are but a few of the colorful costumes and characters that will be present at the great spook-festival—the Halloween Dance Saturday night at the Paradise Point Club. The goblins and ghosts and princesses and comic characters who put so much effort into their "party clothes" will not be without their reward. Awards will be given for the scariest, the most original, the prettiest and the most unusual costumes.

A large cauldron of mysterious "Witches Brew" will be the main attraction at the pre-dance social hour, beginning at 6:30 p.m. Mrs. Ronald R. Van Stockum has consented to give her recipe for "Witches Brew," which she will serve from her boiling, bubbling cauldron the night of the "Horror Ball."

WITCHES BREW 2 gals. of Apple Cider 2 qts. of Orange Juice Cinnamon and Cloves Sugar to Taste "1/5 Of A Disembodied Spirit" Stir with a touch of magic, say your own enchantments, and serve this bewitched potion from your own bubbling cauldron, and watch your "victims" fall under your spell.

A Halloween buffet supper is next on the agenda, beginning at 7 p.m., and lasting until 9 p.m. Dancing

At 9 o'clock, the dancing starts, and continues until the "witching hour of 12:30 a.m. The Vagabonds will be on hand to provide music for the ghostly guests in a dance session that promises to be—literally—out of this world.

General Pollock Hosts Party For Final Meet With NCO's

Lt. Gen. Edwin A. Pollock, who will retire Nov. 1, hosted an informal get-together with Quad-Command staff NCO's Monday afternoon at the Hadnot Point Club. The veteran general, who has served with the Marine Corps for 38 years, had indicated he would like to meet as many of Lejeune's senior NCO's as possible before he retired. Many of the NCO's who attended the get-together had served with the general in past years.

Tuesday morning more than 14,000 marines from the 2nd Division passed in review on the Camp parade field in honor of the retiring general. During the ceremony General Pollock received a 15-gun salute and planes from the Second Marine Aircraft Wing at Cherry Point performed a "fly-over." Top-ranking officers from Lejeune and Cherry Point attended the ceremony.

During a 10-minute speech in the Club's mirror room, General Pollock told the senior enlisted men, "You're the greatest people in the Pollock held an informal meeting with the commanders of Camp Lejeune's Tri-Command.

Second Division and Force Troops staff NCO's were hosts to the general at a farewell party at the Hadnot Point Staff NCO Club Monday evening. In a brief address he reiterated his respect for the value of the Marine staff non-commissioned officer. Further, the general stated that after 38 years of Marine Corps service he was looking forward to the relaxation of his South Carolina home. In closing, General Pollock said that he had the utmost confidence that the staff NCO's would support General Burger, the new FMFLant commander, in the same enthusiastic manner in which they had supported him.

Overnight Guest

General Pollock was an overnight guest at the Camp Lejeune Senior Guest House and Tuesday morning was the guest of General and Mrs. Burger at breakfast.

Prior to his departure from the Air Facility at 2 o'clock Tuesday afternoon, General Pollock was honored at a reception and luncheon at the Commissioned Officers Mess at Paradise Point.

General Pollock earned the Navy Cross for heroism on Guadalcanal in 1942, as a battalion commander and was awarded the Distinguished Service Medal as commander of the same division in Korea from August, 1952, to June, 1953. He accepted a commission in the Marine Corps in July, 1921.

SeaBee Unit's Training Well Rounded Here

"Can do," motto of the Navy's Seabees, is clearly being demonstrated by Mobile Construction Battalion Four, from Davisville, R. I., which is currently undergoing training here.

The Seabees are showing their spirit of teamwork in every phase of their six weeks of infantry training. As part of this training the members of MCB-4 attended a two-day first aid and field sanitation course at Field Medical School, Montford Point.

Here they learned first aid and proper sanitation in the field. A class on construction of sanitation devices drew a chuckle from the past masters of construction who listened attentively all the same.

First-Aid

Treatment of shock, artificial respiration, heat disorders, and application of bandages and splints were covered thoroughly in the seven hours of lecture given the Seabees. In the heat disorders class emphasis was placed on the difference between the symptoms of heat exhaustion and heat stroke, and how treatment of each differs.

Atomic warfare has brought about an increase in the amount of training an individual receives in first aid. Due to this, the members of MCB-4 were taught self-aid and buddy-aid; how to administer first aid to one's self and how to care for an injured buddy.

A trip down sanitary trail brought the class to an end. The trail exhibits various ways of building a field mess, showers, incinerators, water supplies, and other field sanitation facilities.

Recon Men Conduct Force Troops Show

Brig. Gen. L. F. Chapman Jr. and staff officers of Force Troops were recently shown team instructional-type operation by officers of the 2nd Reconnaissance Battalion.

"Operation Pegasus" was designed to show the employment of the Reconnaissance Bn. in possible general and special situations. The team was led by the battalion commander, Lt. Col. Charles D. Barrett Jr.

The presentation, based on a tentative standard operating procedure called "Tactical Employment of the Reconnaissance Battalion," is readily adaptable to any unit officers' school.

Illusion

The team considers the use of battalion for an economy-of-force type mission, screening a division flank. Economy-of-force is explained as using the smallest number of men covering the greatest possible area, creating the illusion of a much larger unit.

Colonel Barrett was assisted by Maj. J. C. Schafen, executive officer, 2nd Recon Bn.; Capt. Wendell N. Vest, S-3; communications officer, 1st Lt. Robert Bleiweiss, and the S-4, 1st Lt. Robert Hooper.

CONFUSING SITUATION—Pfc Roy Sorrell appears next to his own mirror image. Actually, the image is twin brother, Roy. The brothers, both members of Bn., 1st ITR, enlisted in June and went through boot camp together. As if one set of twins weren't enough, they claim another set of twin brothers back home.

'Fat Of The Land' Is At Escape, Survival School

Did ya' ever have mountain style porcupine ya' ever slept on a bed of rocks at 11,000 feet, enjoyed it? Or, perhaps, you've tried surviving of the land" for several days at a whack. If you hanker for these or similar experiences, try it at the Cold Weather Training Center's (Bridgeport, Calif.) Escape, Evasion and Survival School.

Some 270 Quad-Command leathernecks are selected each year to attend the school, learning the basic principles of escaping and evading the future enemy and surviving for long periods of time on their ingenuity, the barest of essentials, and just plain luck.

Possible Capture

The school's program is built around the supposition that, in time of war, a marine may have to bail out over enemy territory and may face the possibility of capture and detention in a POW camp. If this happens, knowing the fundamentals of escape and evasion techniques may save his life and spare him from prisoner of war status.

Assuming the marine escapes and evades the enemy, he should have some advance knowledge of the art of sustained survival in an unknown land. This is where the Cold Weather Training Center's survival course enters the picture.

Curriculum

Subjects include traps and snares, shelters, types of edible fish, animals and vegetable life, cleaning and preparation of food in the field, survival intelligence, basic survival, escape and evasion procedures, and prison camp organization and conduct.

Two practical problems, a four-day survival and evasion exercise and a prisoner of war compound exercise, highlight the student's two-week stay in Bridgeport. On both occasions he has ample opportunity to apply the knowledge gained in the classroom.

Bare Essentials

For the field problems, students are usually divided into groups of four. Each team is given a parachute, shroud line, a knife, survival axe, one survival ration (one day's ration for one man), a compass, and best wishes from the instructors.

In a survival situation, the school advises the students to "eat anything that walks, crawls, flies, wiggles or swims" in order to insure getting home. In some field exercises the situation boils down to just that, a typical example being porcupine stew for After living three days in the land, the marines take a circuitous route to a certain point." Here the course ends.

Aggress

More often than not, the marines take a circuitous route to a certain point." Here the course ends.

In the end, tired marines gain their first taste of the hard way—four days. They are units not "with a known," but, rather, for the known."

'ComRats' One Nickel

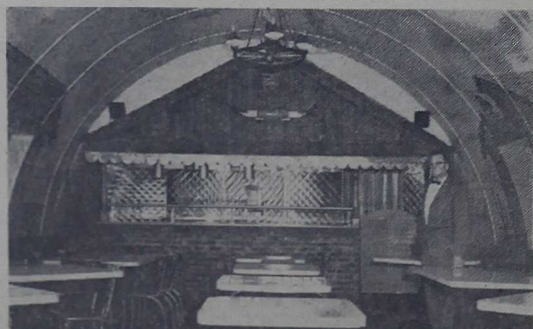

Married Camp I personnel, who are allotted rations, will up to $18 from their 1960 budget.

Department of 1 told Navy Times Jan. 1 the daily cost being drawn by them will be cut a nickel.

The five cent $1.15 to $1.10 per current food services, is expected savings to the government.

The reduction single men who during leave period revealed a meal the nickel apply too. Marine current $1.15 per day for breakfast, 45 cent meal and 40 cents

Marines who roll seldom lose their stripes.

WESTERN STEAK HOUSE—David L. Reynolds, manager, surveys the Camp Cafeteria's newest addition, the Western Steak House. Brig. Gen. S. S. Wade, Base commander, will preside during the opening luncheon at noon today. Designed to appeal to patrons who like to "choose their own" steaks, the restaurant combines Western decor and Western-style cooking methods to please the customer. The new Steak House will be open this evening and every evening from 4:30 to 10:45.
