

New Housing Policies--This Concerns You

HANDS ON DUTY—But one more is needed at this moment moving into new quarters at Midway Park. Sgt. Carl I. Bernender, his wife, Betty; 2-year-old Vickie; and baby Deborah, were the first families of the lower pay grades to be given a home under the new policy assigning this housing project to the rank of Sergeant and below. Bernender is with the 1st Battalion (Official USMC Photo).

Long-Distance Commuting For Sgt. Bernender

A daily round trip of 10 miles between Lejeune and Wilmington is the daily commute for Sgt. Carl I. Bernender, 1st Battalion, 2nd Marine Division. After a long-distance commute of 10 miles into Midway Park to become one of the first families to move into the new quarters, Sgt. Bernender's family is typical of many who, when they were forced to move to Lejeune because of the lack of living quarters nearby.

Sgt. Bernender, smiling amid a pile of packing cases, expressed his feelings, and those of his wife, Betty, at their good fortune.

"We are overjoyed," said he, "at what we like to call the best Christmas present we ever had."

The children had no comment. Vickie, 2, was too busy exploring her new home, while Deborah, 3 months, merely gazed with what seemed to be delight.

Grids, Speeches Highlight Annual Grid, Baseball Fete

More than 100 athletes, commanding officers, and post members gathered in Marston Pavilion Monday night to open Lejeune's 1951 sports season to a gala close with the Annual Grid and Baseball Banquet.

The speaker for the evening, following a filet mignon dinner, was Lt. Col. J. T. Parris.

He presented the Parris Island Touchdown Club of 1950, D. C. as "Service of the Year."

He hailed the local record and spirit and cooperation by units in freeing their men from limited his blessings in the coming season, with the reservation, "We win every game but one."

rophy Presented—A football-shaped trophy of Lejeune's participation in the Cigar Bowl, was presented by Maj. Joe Donahoe, the Marines' grid mentor, to Brig. Gen. W. S. Fellers, camp deputy commander, representing Maj. Gen. Ray A. Robinson, commanding general.

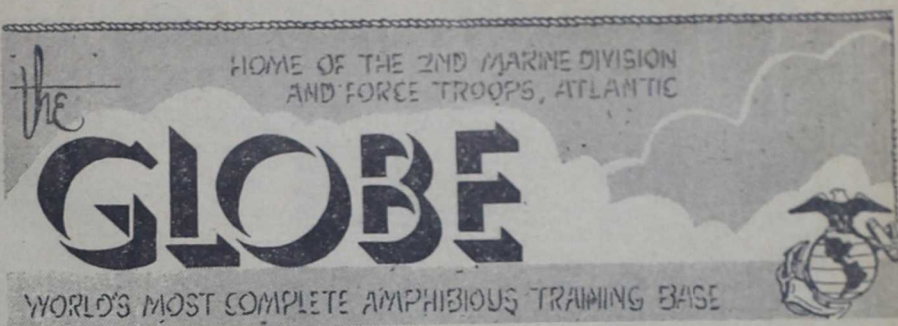

Maj. Gen. Edwin A. Pollock, commanding general of the Second Marine Division, called for the downing of Quantico's football team next season and awarded wrist watches to first baseman Frank Seastrand, pitcher Bob Nankerville, and coach Charles Sweeney, all of Lejeune's 1951 Marine Corps diamond champs.

"It really was wonderful," said

CAMP LEJEUNE, N. C., THURSDAY, JANUARY 10, 1952 NO. 47

Lower Pay Grades Should File Rent Applications Now

Personnel of the lower four pay grades interested in obtaining housing at Trailer Park or Midway Park, or both, should come to Room 143 at Building 1 immediately, and file application, Capt. A. L. Tatlock, Camp Housing Officer, said today. This applies to men who already have their families with them and are living ashore in private housing as well as, of course, to men who have been reluctant to bring their families here because of the cost but who would like quarters at Trailer Park or Midway Park.

Personnel who file application prior to February first will be placed on the Midway Park list as of the date they reported to Camp Lejeune. Position on the Trailer Park list will be according to the order in which applications are received by the manager of Trailer Park. "But in either case," Capt. Tatlock emphasized, "the first step is to come to Room 143, Building 1."

Starting on the first of February, all personnel of the lower four pay grades who have been on the base more than 30 days will be placed on the Midway Park list according to the time and date of receipt of their application by the Housing Office in Bldg. No. 1. "In other words, members of the lower four pay grades who are on the base now and who do not come to the Housing Office before the first of February, will toss away all the seniority they have for Midway Park quarters," Capt. Tatlock pointed out. Personnel eligible for Midway Park who have 30 days or less on the base, after 1 February 1952, will be placed on this list.

Navy Officer, Wife, Traffic Crash Victims

Funeral services were held Sunday in Sarasota, Fla., for Lt. John W. Knox, 31, USN (Dental Corps), and his wife, Mrs. Dorothy Knox, who were killed January 1 when their auto went into a deep ditch at the intersection of Charles St. and Brewster Blvd. at Paradise Point, Camp Lejeune.

Marine Capt. Elroy F. Cronin and 2d Lt. Alexander J. Kavali, both members of the 2d Motor Transport Bn., the other occupants of the death vehicle, were hospitalized at U. S. Naval Hospital following the mishap.

Lieutenant Knox, a native of Mitchell, S. D., and his wife had just moved into the New River Apartments at 2030. They leave a son, eight months old.

Another vehicle, driven by a hospital corpsman, was turning around when its bumper was caught by a stop sign at the intersection. A third car, driven by a Red Cross member, stopped to assist the man loosing his bumper. The car driven by Lieutenant Knox struck the front of the stopped vehicle and careened into the ditch. The accident occurred at 4:15 a.m. New Year's Day.

STRATEGY CONFERENCE—Brig. Gen. William S. Fellers, Deputy Camp Commander, smiles approvingly as two young polio victims have "their day" at the general's office. Beaming into the telephone is Larry Lorton, 12, son of HMC and Mrs. L. M. Lorton of Midway Point. The wistful-eyed youngster at left is Donald F. Tooley, 4, son of Maj. and Mrs. John J. Tooley. Both boys were treated for polio by the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis which is supported by the annual March of Dimes campaign (Official USMC Photo).

Montford Point Units Take Early Lead In Annual March Of Dimes Campaign

Montford Point Marines led the field today in the annual March of Dimes campaign. Lejeune pitched in to put the finger on polio. As the GLOBE went to press, to the 1952 campaign totaled $6,468.97. Of this $632.13 was contributed by the men in the Montford Point area, including Supply Battalion. That averaged at appeal cents for every man at you, at there.

H. and S. Battalion, Marine Corps, was running a class Office to Montford Point. Bathy of units personnel have donated an average of 60 cents a man, or a total of $300. Many Division and Force Troops organizations had not reported when the GLOBE totals were reached.

Beginning yesterday, a camp-wide campaign, designed to bolster funds raised through voluntary contributions, was launched. Tickets went on sale, at battalion level, throughout the camp at 10 cents each.

When ticket sales are closed, gifts will be awarded at battalion drawings. Battalion prizes will include such gifts as radio-clock combinations, portable radios, and radio-phonograph combinations.

Grand climax of the month-long March of Dimes campaign will come February 7 during the Camp Lejeune-Parris Island basketball game at Goettge Memorial Field House. Then the following gifts will be given lucky ticket holders: TV, Radio console, portable radio, table radio, Mixer, and two cabinet radio-phonograph combinations. All ticket holders will be eligible whether present at the game or not.

Following is a list of organizations and the amount they have contributed.

..Common Sense, Pride In Work

What Qualities Do You Like Best In The Men Serving You?

M/SGT. WALTER F. KAPLON,
2ND FLOATING BRIDGE CO. —
First I like men that are conscientious on the job and able to put some of that good old common sense to use. On liberty I like to see them as spick-and-span gentlemen. In combat I prefer to have them with beards, spick-and-span weapons, and able to shoot fast and shoot straight.

CPL. RICHARD COLDREN —
If a man is conscientious about his job and daily contacts, most qualities are included. In the Corps this can be observed if a picture of the whole function and its reason for existence is kept in the mind. A realization of the individual's part and importance may then be gained, making for better morale and more earnest effort on the job.

T/SGT. CHARLES F. WHIPPLE,
MEAT PLT. CHIEF, GALLEY 9 —
In the Corps I like men who do what they're told and take pride in their jobs and organization. We like to say we have the best butcher shop in camp, known as the central butcher shop. With everyone doing his job, it can't help but be the best.

T/SGT. FRANK H. ELLSWORTH, H&S CO. 2ND MARDIV —
Neatness and cleanliness especially in quarters and on liberty is what I most appreciate in my men. Attentiveness to orders and ability to carry them out generates mutual respect between an NCO and his men. That covers a broad field but quality work cannot result from half-hearted endeavor.

T/SGT. AUBREY A. MCSWAIN, H&S BN. MB —
Initiative is the over riding quality that I like in a man. If he can work on his own and be able to master the job and look ahead having been told once what to do he's well on his way to success in any field as far as I'm concerned.

M/SGT. MILLARD E. BURKE, 2ND AMPH TRUCK CO. —
They would do well to have a more realistic view of the world situation as regards their Marine Corps jobs. That would help them realize why they are here. Also a higher standard of education would aid in the rapid specialization we are approaching. Physical standards may be lowered to some extent but the balance of progress would be held.

S/SGT. STTY H. WHITE, SER. CO. H&BN. —
To be prompt and industrious at all times a ruling factor a good Mark. Haircuts clean fingers in my job as cook are especially important tails. A pride in the job and satisfaction gained from it a foundations of all qualities.

T/SGT. WAIR L. LEITSCH, ENG. SCH. BN. —
Loyalty above most qualities. If you consider a man's feelings the way you'd like your own considered, he will work much harder for you. Of course men who have been in the "Old Corps" and subject to rigid discipline can carry out an order regardless of personal feelings with no two ways out of it. That makes them still to.

S/SGT. ROBERT H&S CO. 1ST BN —
Aggressiveness. Most of my men have volunteered for Korea which shows in my opinion that the old spirit is still here. There has been a lot of griping but that seems to be standard operating procedure and hasn't had any bad effects on

Are You Getting Your Globe Regularly?

Suggestions are very much in order for ways to increase the efficiency of GLOBE distribution. While it is not possible to print enough so that everyone can have a personal copy to set home, there ARE enough—one for every three people on the base—that nobody should have any trouble getting a copy to read.

Outfits or any organizations that do have trouble getting the GLOBE, or have ideas for improving distribution, please call 5522, or 3621. Your suggestions will be welcomed and, if at all possible, acted upon.

Remember, too, that a week-old GLOBE is still new to your folks. So if you run across one, don't throw it away. Make it home.

Prompt Action Seen On Pay Hike Measure

Legislation providing a ten percent cost-of-living pay increase for Armed Forces personnel will be brought up for action in the House this week, the "Army Navy Air Force Journal" reports.

Chairman Carl Vinson of the House Armed Services Committee, which unanimously supports the salary boost, has formally asked Chairman Adolph Sabath of the House Rules Committee to place the bill on the calendar for prompt vote.

As reported by the Armed Services Committee, the pay hike would become effective on the first day of the first month after its enactment. This could result in a February 1 effective date if, after House passage, the Senate were to take speedy action.

In the Senate the Department of Defense is expected to make a carefully documented presentation

Commandants, Old And New, Laud MC

Twin statements by Gen. Lemuel C. Shepherd J., new commandant of the Marine Corps, and Gen. Clifton B. Cates, outgoing Marine head, marked the Corps' change of command January.

Undertaking duties as twentieth commandant in Leatherneck history, General Shepherd stated "It is my earnest prayer that I may find the strength and guidance to give our Corps the leadership which it is so richly deserves as the finest fighting force in the world."

In connection with the command change, General Cates, now commandant of Marine Corps Schools at Quantico, declared "On this occasion, the conclusion of my tour as commandant of the Marine Corps, I wish to extend to all ranks of Marines everywhere my heartfelt appreciation for your splendid cooperation and devotion to duty during the past four years."

pointing to the need for a July 1, 1951 retroactive date, as contained in the original bill which was approved by the Bureau of the Budget and the White House.

Officers In Midway Park

Commandant's Message, Camp Memo

From: Commandant of the Marine Corps
To: Distribution List
Subj: Allocation of rental housing

1. Considerable quantities of rental housing, both on and off-station have been, or are being built for the benefit of personnel at many Marine Corps stations. Besides controlling the rental list for on-station housing, Commanders, by agreement with landlords, have succeeded in many instances in obtaining control of off-station rental lists. Station Commanders have allocated available controlled housing according to the requirements of local situations.

2. In furtherance of this type of allocation, it is directed as a matter of policy, in order to satisfy as much as possible the needs of the ranks, that the lower rental housing be allocated to the groups of military and civilian personnel with the lower income, and that each allocation consider the "group ability" to pay prevailing gross rental for each type of housing.

3. Past allocations have rarely taken into consideration the needs of personnel in the lower four pay-grades. It is considered that as controlled "high rental" housing (such as Title VIII housing) becomes available, staff non-commissioned officers, warrant officers, commissioned officers and well-paid civilians should be moved out of "low rental" housing (such as trailers and Lanham Act housing) and offered "high rental" housing. If such housing is refused, personnel should be denied eligibility for access to controlled units.

4. The specific allocation should be determined by station Commanders according to the relative supply and "ability to pay" at each station.

5. While it is recognized that many individuals will plead "hardship" under the terms of this policy, it must be remembered that many Marines not eligible for controlled "low-cost" housing under present allocations are suffering from high rents and sub-standard conditions.

—C. B. CATES.

In compliance with the Commandant's above quoted directive, effective immediately the rental housing at Camp Lejeune will be allocated as follows:

A. Enlisted Personnel—(1) Enlisted personnel of the rank of Sergeant and below (including corresponding ranks of other Services attached) will be assigned to units at Pine Grove Trailer Park and Midway Park. (2) Enlisted personnel of Staff rank (including corresponding ranks of other Services attached) will be assigned to units at Tarawa Terrace and to New River Apartments within their quota.

B. CWO/WOS—Warrant Officers (including Commissioned Warrant and corresponding ranks of other Services attached) will be assigned within their quota, to units at Tarawa Terrace.

C. Officers—Commissioned officers will be assigned to specifically designated officers' units at Tarawa Terrace and to New River Apartments within their quota.

D. Civilians—Civilian employees of Camp activities will be furnished housing at New River Apartments. Civilians employed in priority positions earning a gross income of less than $3,900.00 per year will be assigned units at Midway Park. Civilians employed in priority positions earning a gross income of $3,900.00 or more per year will be assigned units at Tarawa Terrace.

The assignment of units at Piney Green is not affected by this memorandum, and the present policies will continue in effect.

All personnel who in accordance with the above are ineligible for their present housing should contact the Housing Office, Building No. 1, regarding the availability of units within the project for which they are eligible.

Staff Non-Commissioned Officers (corresponding ranks of other Services) in occupancy at Trailer Park are informed that they should immediately file an application for Tarawa Terrace in the event they have not previously done so. Personnel in this category who fail to file an application within 15 days, or who, upon notification that a unit is available, refuse to accept, will be required to vacate Trailer Park within 15 days.

Officers, Warrant Officers, Staff NCOs and civilians no longer eligible for Midway Park will not, at this time, be forced to transfer to other housing. In keeping with the intent and purpose of the Commandant's directive and the policy established by this memorandum, those affected are requested to avail themselves of the housing allocated to them, and thus make way for those less able to pay the higher rentals. Only by such cooperation can the policy of "relative supply and ability to pay" be successful at Camp Lejeune.

In the event personnel are to be transferred, discharged or released from active duty within the next 90 days, no action need be taken prior to separation. Occupants of Trailer Park who are to be separated within the next 90 days must inform the Housing Officer, Building No. 1, of this fact.—W. S. FELLERS, Brigadier General, U.S. Marine Corps, Commanding.

To Non-Priority Civilians At Midway

The shortage of housing at Camp Lejeune has long been of great concern to me. Inadequate housing and the high rents charged for available civilian accommodations has brought much criticism.

To correct this condition, new units have been built and a sizable construction program is now underway. The basis for the construction of new housing is primarily to provide accommodations for personnel above the low income bracket, with the specific allocation of available units based on "ability to pay".

In compliance with a directive from the Commandant of the Marine Corps and upon the recommendations of the Camp Housing Board, it is my intention to restrict the assignment of units at Midway Park to enlisted personnel of the lower pay grades and certain low income civilian employees in priority positions. This decision is based on the general policy of assigning the lower-cost rental units to personnel in the lower-income brackets.

In keeping with this policy, it is my desire that you should avail yourself of the adequate civilian housing at New River Apartments. By so doing, you will release your present unit for assignment to personnel in the lower income brackets.

It is not my immediate intention to force any personnel to move from Midway Park but to appeal to your sense of "fair play" and request that you, at your own accord, make way for those whose pay prohibits the payment of higher rentals.

You are requested to contact the Housing Office in Building No. 1 regarding the availability of units at New River Apartments, and move to these units when made available to you.

I am sure that you will find the new units at New River Apartments more adequate to your family's needs and more commensurate with your income and position. Sincerely, RAY A. ROBINSON, Major General, USMC, Commanding.

THOUGHT FOR ALL YEAR

Selecting a date for the old year to end and for a new one to begin was actually a pretty arbitrary decision. The earth needs approximately 365 days to complete its long voyage around the sun; the duration of this trip determines the length of the year. But there was nothing astronomical in the decision to have the year end fall on 31 December. Probably the designers of our present calendar, the anonymous 16th Century assistants of Pope Gregory XIII, had some very good non-astronomical reasons for selecting the day they did but they, like the Marine Corps' fiscal year and many business firms, could have taken June 30th, for example.

But while there is little agreement throughout the world about when the year should end, there is great unanimity that it is a fine thing, from time to time, to end one year and begin another. Perhaps it's boredom, or maybe confusion, but Hottentot or Polynesian, we all have New Years Eve.

There are a number of other more solid and solemn reasons for starting a New Year. Perhaps the best of them is that with a New Year we get a chance to balance our own personal books, both moral and fiscal. Just what have we done during the past year to justify ourselves as children of God? Almost as painful to answer, what have we done during the previous 365 days which shamed and disappointed those who think well of us?

The coming of the New Year gives us both the occasion and the time to review our own personal lives, not perhaps with the sharp-penciled diligence of the corporation accountant, but at least with some reflection on last year's deeds and misdeeds. And, yes, some sturdy resolutions to make a little more out of the days ahead.

As Marines this year may hold special responsibilities, special perils. It is certainly well at this time to think about ways to do a better job at our own particular military mission. To give our superiors more loyalty and a higher grade performance. To treat the people who may work for us a little bit more in the way which we like to be treated by superiors. In short, to be better Marines.

Probably most of us would benefit from a few minutes meditation on the ways in which we have failed our families and loved ones during the past year. And, thinking about these transgressions, determine to make ourselves more worthy of them. In short, to be better children of God.

Hanukkah, Eight Day Celebration, Concluded Monday

Hanukkah, the eight-day Jewish celebration, came to a close last Sunday when the last of the series of services was conducted in Building 67 by Chaplain Samuel Sobel.

This celebration not only coincides with the Christmas season, but is parallel to it in many ways. Like the Christian holiday, it is a joyous occasion calling for religious rites. Both creeds enjoy the common custom of exchanging gifts and greetings, and have the same traditional family gatherings and community get-togethers.

Hanukkah symbolizes the re-dedication of the Temple in Jerusalem in the year 167 B.C., after invaders had desecrated it in an attempt to suppress the Jewish faith. Commemorated, also, is the re-kindling of the temple's Eternal Light. This lamp will be recalled as the subject of one of the biblical miracles, when with but one day's supply of oil, it burned for eight. Julius M. Cohen, Area Director of the USO-Jewish Welfare Board, Fayetteville, was present at the Friday service to distribute "Serve-a-Camp" gifts in the Hanukkah tradition.

This area includes Fort Bragg, Cherry Point, and Camp Lejeune, and each installation has been "adopted" by Jewish people of different cities for the purposes of recreation and morale. Jersey City, New Jersey, is the foster for Lejeune, and each gift distributed by the Welfare Board contained a Christmas greeting card from the donor.

For Mr. Cohen, who has had this territory for four years, this was the last official act. He has been promoted and leaves shortly for the West Coast.

The National Jewish Welfare Board is an agency accepted by the Department of Defense to serve on behalf of military personnel in the armed forces. It is also a agency of the USO.

In addition to the Camp's gifts, which were the Hanukkah services, made a donation to Camp Services.

A luncheon served at evening was furnished by Peck, of Peck's Bakeries, ville, N. C.

Biblical Films To Be Presented

The life of "Simon Peter — Fisherman" and the story of Zachaeus, the tax gatherer, will be presented at two Sunday Evening Protestant Chapel Services beginning this Sunday, January 13. These films are twenty minutes in length and will be presented as the part of the service usually filled by the sermon. The traditional devotional service of Scripture, prayer and hymns will precede the Biblical dramatic films.

The entire program will last one hour, beginning at 1900, according to an announcement by Commander Abbott Peterson, Camp Chaplain. Chaplain Edwin M. Barton of the 2d Engineer Battalion will be in charge of the services.

Gala Monte Carlo Frolic At O' Mess

Under the sponsorship of the Eighth Marines, commanded by Col. James M. Masters, a gala Monte Carlo party night will be held at the Commissioned Officers' Mess January 19 with proceeds from the evening to be given to the March of Dimes.

Those aiming to break the party's "bank" are urged to rig themselves out in their western clothes and enjoy excellent music and dancing. Come one, come all—but check your gun at the door.

Double Talk

This may sound like double talk but Sergeant Sargent is back with Sargent where he started out a year ago as Corporal Sargent.

The fellow's full name is Sergeant Joseph W. Sargent, Jr. The only Marine in the world who gave his name, rank and civilian employer in one word was released to inactive duty this week after a year's service with the Marines.

Sergeant Sargent, former University of Virginia athlete, donned his civvies and headed back to his job with Sargent Lock Co., which he left when the Marine Corps called him a year ago. He is a resident of Villanova, Pa.

By MRS. SAM AMBROSE (Guest Columnist)

Before accepting an invitation to be guest columnist this week, I consulted my six-weeks-old son to see if he could spare me for a few hours. Since his demands at this age are a bit strenuous he didn't seem to be too enthusiastic, but by offering him a few extra ounces of his favorite formula I finally persuaded him to let me gather a few bits of news from officers and their wives residing in and around Jacksonville.

Lt. and Mrs. George McKibbin journeyed to Pinehurst during the holidays, accompanied by their young son, George III, where they visited Mrs. McKibbin's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Eugene C. dePasquale. The main event of their stay was the christening of young George at St. Joseph of the Pines.

The McKibbins were among the guests attending a lovely cocktail party and buffet supper given last Friday evening by Col. and Mrs. William M. Morgan on Paradise Point. The occasion was a farewell party for Major and Mrs. Robert Hammond who have now left for Washington. The guests included officers and wives of the Second Signal Battalion.

On the same evening Lt. and Mrs. George Olzewski entertained at their home on Mill Avenue with cocktails and buffet for several Jacksonville residents, the guests including Major and Mrs. Reuben Stoner, Major and Mrs. Thomas Hyland and CWO and Mrs. Metzler.

Captain and Mrs. A. A. Paulson have as their house guests at their home on Stratford Road Captain Paulson's parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Paulson of Amery, Wisconsin.

Here 'n there: ... Lt. and Mrs. Wheelock Bigelow and infant son will return this week after spending the holidays visiting relatives in Chestnut Hill, Pennsylvania ... Dr. and Mrs. Max Sudhoff spent the holidays visiting his parents in Toledo, Ohio, while Dr. and Mrs. W. D. Holbrook went to Winston-Salem to stay with relatives there.

Others who have recently returned to the "city" are Dr. and Mrs. Jim Johnson who visited at their respective homes in Florence and Orangeburg, S. C., and Dr. and Mrs. Graham Barden who spent several days in New Bern ... Socially speaking, activity is at a minimum right now. Everyone is too busy breaking noble resolutions made at all the gala New Year's Eve parties!

Lejeune Players will start their 1952 program with a meeting and election of officers in the River Room of the O'Club Thursday evening at eight o'clock. All members are urged to attend. Members of the Commissioned Officers Mess interested in theatre activities are invited to join.

By MARIAN LA VOY

Any members of the Officers' Wives' Club who are interested in bowling are asked to attend an initial meeting of the group in the bowling alley at the Officers' Club Thursday, January 17 at 8 p.m.

It is hoped that there will be a large enough turnout to facilitate forming a team within each group of the Officers' Wives' Club.

Mrs. A. Ziegler, 6573, is in charge of the bowlers.

The H & S Bn., Marine Barracks, U. S. Naval Hospital, and Field Medical Research Laboratory groups will meet for luncheon at 1 p.m. next Tuesday in the River Room of the Officers' Club.

Luncheon will be followed by a

White Elephant Sale and each person planning to attend is reminded to bring her donation for the sale. Reservations can be made by calling Mrs. C. K. Higgins, 4-177; Mrs. J. J. Kelly, 8-576; Mrs. F. L. Churchville, 6270; or Mrs. A. V. Hollowell, 6632.

A luncheon will be held in the River Room of the Officers' Club next Wednesday at 1:30 p.m. for members of the Force Troops and Second Combat Service groups of the Officers' Wives' Club.

Entertainment will follow the luncheon. Everyone attending is asked to bring a contribution that can be used by the Opportunity Shop, such as clothing, household furnishings, books, or toys.

Parcel Post Change Not Effective Here

The new parcel post weight and size limit which went into effect January 1 does not apply to parcels mailed at base post offices by military personnel and their dependents, or parcels addressed to personnel, Camp Post Office officials announced this week.

This means weight and size limits of fourth class mail (parcel post) remain at 70 pounds and 100 inches in length. New standards for non-military post offices are 40 pounds and 72 inches for parcels sent within a 150-mile radius and 20 pounds and 72 inches for packages going beyond that radius.

STAFF WIVES ELECT

Members of the Staff NCO Wives' Club will go to the polls tonight as the group holds its annual election of officers at 8:30 in the Midway Park Community Building. All dues must be paid by tonight. Plans for participation in the March of Dimes are currently being formed by the club.

OFFICERS' BOWLING

A meeting of all team captains in the Officers' Mess Bowling League will be held January 21 at 3 p.m. in the Officers' Mess. League officers will be elected and schedules formed. All teams must be organized and have team captains prior to the meeting.

This New Year's eve was a gay and hilarious one for all ranks. Paper streamers, fancy caps, horns and whistles gave color to the crowds of merry-makers that filled the Officers Mess, Staff NCO Club, and Marston Pavilion. Here at the Staff Club, members and their ladies are joined by the general officers to view Bubbles Becker's floor show. Brig. Gen. William S. Fellers (left, rear) got the point of a joke before the rest of the party, while Camp Sgt. Major Charles E. Gillette (left, foreground) seems to have heard it before. Others present include Maj. Gen. Edwin A. Pollock (center, rear); General Leonard B. Cresswell (second man from right); and Sgt. Major Elmer Phillips (right). Courtmen Return After Four-Game Road

Displaying their best basketball of the season, the Camp Lejeune Marines coasted to a 77-62 win over a strong Camp Pickett five Tuesday night on the opposition's court.

The Marine offense, which hit on all cylinders the first three quarters, was sparked by Jack Nichols, Randall Balas, and Smitty Smith, who accounted for 63 of the 77 points. It was the ninth win for the travelling Leathernecks in 11 starts.

Camp Lejeune played its fourth road game at Fort Lee, Va. last night before returning home to meet Cherry Point in the Fieldhouse tomorrow night.

First Post-Holiday Tilt

The first game after the holidays provided a fitting start, score-wise, for 1952 basketball at Lejeune as coach Phil Cohen's charges romped to a 73-46 conquest over Mitchell Air Force Base (N. Y.) last Thursday night at Goettge Memorial Field House.

The Long Island Bombers, who had previously lost to CCNY by 11 points and Long Island University by 19, were listless and faded fast after keeping close behind for nearly three quarters.

Lejeune's half-time edge of 30-26 was promptly widened after the third quarter got under way. Dick Covey chipped in three buckets and a foul in two minutes, but the Bombers stayed in contention until late in the third quarter.

Leading 46-37 at that point, Doane, Nichols, and Jack Lister sparked an 18-point surge while Mitchell was held scoreless.

For a 12-minute period that lasted until the final moment of play, the tiring Bombers failed to connect with a single field goal.

Jack Nichols and Clem Doane led the game scorers with 17 and 16 points, respectively.

The box score:

Quantico Wins

Camp Lejeune's six-game basketball victory streak came to a halt Saturday night on the Quantico court as the host Marines downed Phil Cohen's five 71-62 in a rough game which saw 71 personal fouls called and five players ejected on personals.

The winners led all the way, though spurts by Lejeune kept the visitors in the All-Marine Conference game through most of its length. Jack Nichols, who scored 21 points for Lejeune, surrendered high-scoring honors to Quantico's Jimmy Phelan who caged four fielders and 14 free throws for 22 points.

The Camp Lejeune women Leathernecks remained unbeaten in Marine competition by defeating the Quantico lady Marines 52-30 in the prelim.

Belvoir Bopped

Five last-minute points brought victory for the Lejeune basketball team over the Fort Belvoir Engineers, 65-60, on the soldiers' Virginia court Monday night. Behind most of the first half, the Marines pepped up their last-half performance to cop their eighth win in the season's first ten meetings.

Forwards Clem Doane and Randall Balas sparkplugged the second half surge, although Jack Nichols' 17 points led the Marines, with Lejeune behind 56-45.

The Camp Lejeune girls remained undefeated in service competition with a thrilling 22-21 victory over the Fort Belvoir WACS in the preliminary.

NEW WORKING HOURS

Second Division personnel went on a new work schedule January 1. The work day now runs from 0800 to 1200 and from 1300 to 1630 Monday through Friday and from 0800 to 1200 on Saturdays.

LOST A LADY'S WATCH?

Chief Macy of the Family Hospital called the GLOBE office with the word that he had found a lady's gold wrist watch in front of the Family Hospital on the third or fourth of January. Its owner can have it back by going through the usual process of description.

Boxing Meet To Set Stage For Picking Varsity Squad

Boxing gets off to a rousing start next week with a base-wide tournament which will set the stage for varsity boxing to follow.

Nearly 100 contestants in both open and novice classes will compete, with bouts listed every evening starting at Goettge Memorial Field House at 8 p.m. from Monday through Friday evenings.

An unusual opportunity is open for anyone in the lighter weight categories, including flyweight, bantamweight, and featherweight. MSt. Rex Williams, varsity boxing coach, feels that even men with no boxing experience in these classes may have a future if they're at all interested in taking a try at it.

Personnel who show up well in the tournament will be chosen for the varsity team, which has mapped an ambitious program including dual meets and tournaments from Florida to Massachusetts.

Deadline for entries in the tournament is 10 a.m. Monday morning, at which time all fighters are to report to weigh in. Coach Williams has lined up a preliminary briefing session Sunday at 1 p.m. All bouts are of three rounds of two minutes each, with a decision to be rendered at the end of each bout.

Novices are encouraged to enter the tourney, and it was emphasized that even those with no experience stand an excellent chance to gain recognition, particularly in the lightest weight classes.

Intramural Cage Leagues Hear Opening Whistle

Two of the camp's three basketball leagues began their schedules Monday night, and a third circuit will get underway shortly.

Marine Barracks inaugural games had Naval Hospital opposing Engineer School and Rifle Range Detachment meeting Supply School. Goettge Memorial Field House is scene of both tilts.

Force Troops with an eight-team loop is set to repeat its football success while Second Division quintets are planning a later start.

National Collegiate Athletic Association rules will be followed, with a limit of two officers on the playing court at any one time.

Following the regular schedule, during which each team will meet all its league opponents twice, tournaments will determine the camp championship.

Magazine Plans $4500 In Awards In Rifle Contests

Lejeune sharpshooters can start setting their sights on awards totaling $4500 being distributed this year by "Leatherneck" magazine in a new competition based on annual Marine rifle qualification scores. The contest aims at providing new incentive for better shooting.

The individual shooter will record his score on an entry form on qualification day and will then have it confirmed by the range officer. Following this, the shooter will mail the entry to the "Leatherneck" offices where judging will be held on a quarterly and annual basis in conjunction with the Target Practice Section, Headquarters Marine Corps.

The only Marines not eligible to compete are officers, men with one or more "legs" toward Distinguished Marksman, and members of the "Leatherneck" staff.

Rockets Zoom Over HQ; Engineers Blast Guns on FT Courts

Two games opened the Force Troops Basketball League season Monday. The Force Troops Headquarters' Company met the 4.5 Rocket Battalion at the Tent Camp Gym, while the 155 Gun Battalion supplied the opposition for the 8th Engineer Battalion at Gym 401. Hadnot, both afternoon contests.

At Tent Camp a Sergeant named Sergeant (John) went on a 23 point scoring spree but his efforts were not enough to give his teammates a victory as the 4.5 Rockets edged by Headquarters Company 65-61. The Rockets held a 17 point advantage at half time, but the never-say-die Headquarters boys pulled within one point of the winners with three minutes remaining in the game. A final scoring surge by the 4.5 men was too much for the losers to overcome as time ran out. Al Hill, a ruggedly built center who captained the Rockets' football team this past season, proved himself as adequate on the court as on the gridiron, pacing the winners with 20 points.

The other game of the afternoon was likewise thrill packed as the 8th Engineer Battalion prevailed over the 2d 155 Gun Battalion by the narrow margin of three points, 66-63. The overall scoring of the game was evenly divided, but Horn was high man for the winners, and the game, as he netted 15 points, followed by Foutch who rang up 14 markers for the losers.

Curtain Falls On Lejeune Football; Release Players, Consider '52 Card

Varsity football quietly passed into oblivion over the New Year holidays, although head coach Major Joe Donahoe is at Cincinnati this week at the NCAA meeting.

An effort will be made at the collegiate confab to schedule some suitable college teams for next fall's Lejeune gridders.

Several of the varsity team members who were eligible for release under the reserve program have already received their orders to inactive duty, including guard Augie Yahn, tackle Frank Lettieri, and quarterback Russ Picton.

Final Game

The season, which started with a screening of over 400 candidates late in July, finally wound up Saturday evening, December 29, with a 20-0 loss to Brooke Army Medical Center of Fort Sam Houston, Texas, in the sixth annual Cigar Bowl charity game at Tampa, Fla.

The bowl extravaganza marked the 15th game of the season, including two full-dress practice games and a practice scrimmage. The Leathernecks won seven of these, lost a like number, and tied one, although the official season's log consists of 6-3-1 for a successful regular season score, to which two post-season bowl setbacks were appended.

Too much weight, experience, and manpower on the side of Brooke's fighting pill-roller grid "professionals" marked their triumph over a stubborn, scrappy Lejeune eleven in the Cigar Bowl.

Defensive Exhibition

The Marines repulsed four goal line threats during the first half with a superlative defensive exhibition anchored by such operatives as Augie Yahn, Harold Brooks, and Bill Milner.

Costly fumbles and pass interceptions, coupled with the incessant and relentless Brooke pounding, resulted in three second-half touchdowns for the Medics.

Lejeune's offense wasn't able to piece together enough gains for a sustained drive, although Bobby Gault and Gene Wisniewski — with their running and pass receiving — sparkled.

effective the date they reported.

Capt. Tatlock revealed another important step in the Marine Corps' efforts both to ease the housing shortage and to achieve greater fairness in the amount of rent paid by Marines. In a few days all unit commanders in the Camp Lejeune area will receive copies of the "Rent Control Compliance Survey" form, developed by the Office of Rent Stabilization. These must be completed by all personnel occupying off-station housing, including Tawara Terrace and New River Apartments, and then returned by the unit commanders to the Housing Office.

"At the present time, information concerning all the rental units in this area has not been made available to the Office of Rent Stabilization. Completion of this important form by tenants will assure 100 per cent coverage of this area, and appropriate Federal agencies will assure 100 per cent compliance with Federal Rent Control Regulations," Capt. Tatlock reported.

For further information, officers from second lieutenant up may report to Room 137, Bldg. 1, telephone 5640 and 3107. All other personnel, through chief warrant officer, may report to Room 143, Bldg. 1, telephone 3646, 3337, and 3107. Personnel should NOT go to the Housing Office at Midway Park.

STAFF CLUB

The top-side den is now divided into two separate sections. Full length tapestry has made a cozy lounge of one half, while the other portion is devoted to games, soft chairs, and Mr. Jones, the barber.

Members and their ladies were amazed on New Year's Eve, when they went topside, to find seclusion; tables for two, four or six; dancing space; band music; and a complete cocktail and beer bar. Best of all, the management provides constant waiter service for both the lounge and the game sections of the den.

Next Monday night Bingo will be resumed. Thursday, too, if the response is great enough.

Dance five nights each week to the band, and anytime to the jukebox — in both the Mirror Room and the topside lounge.

The several bowling teams are shaping up, and the season promises to be one of many close contests. The bowlers get up during off hours and look very professional. In spite of the highly polished deck, there has been no report of anyone firing from the prone position.

More big news (really big!) concerning coming entertainment will be ready next week, announces T/Sgt. Wm. M. Stewart, Club Mgr.

Screen Stars Aired Weekly by WJNC

Top-flight Hollywood talent is being featured over radio station WJNC each week in a new year of entertainment for Lejeune Marines. Tonight Errol Flynn stars in "The Modern Adventures of Casanova" at 8, followed by Mickey Rooney in "The Hardy Family."

Bette Davis, two-time Academy Award winner, takes the lead in "Woman of the Year" at 9:30 p.m. Mondays. "The Story of Dr. Kilgore" presents Lew Ayres and Lionel Barrymore each Tuesday night at 8:30. Rounding out the week is the "MGM Musical Comedy Theater of the Air" each Wednesday from 8-9 p.m.
