Five trainees from Company C, 3rd Battalion, 10th Infantry Regiment, 3rd Chemical Brigade are among the first to get to zip down the Slide for Life obstacle, which was closed for almost a decade, Feb. 3 at Training Area 97. The five trainees were chosen as a reward for doing well in basic combat training. To conquer the Slide for Life, trainees leap off a 30-foot-tall platform before zipping about 80 feet to the ground. The obstacle is designed to build confidence while negotiating obstacles above 20 feet.

Chemical, Biological, Radiological and Nuclear Response Enterprise Mass Casualty Decontamination Course students practice how to properly decontaminate each other Feb. 6 in Bldg. 684. The course, which falls under Fort Leonard Wood's Homeland Defense Civil Support Office, is for active-duty service members, Reserve, National Guard and civilians who have jobs related to CRE technical support forces. This is the first class taught in Bldg. 684 since being renovated. According to CRE instructors, the building's upgrades allow the entire course to be taught in one location, instead of several spread across the installation.
