

U.S. ARMY

U.S. Army Materiel Command Eye On AMC

Wednesday, March 5, 2025

Leaders cut ribbon on first Prichard Place renovations

FORT KNOX, Ky. – Representatives from Centinel (parent company of Knox Hills), Knox Hills and Fort Knox garrison attended the unveiling of the first completed home in the Prichard Place renovation project, Feb. 26. The entirety of the Prichard Place renovation project is expected to be completed by the end of 2025. Following the ribbon cutting, attendees were invited into the home for a tour.

Cavoli's visit highlights commitment to warfighters, families

VICENZA, Italy – Gen. Christopher Cavoli, commander of U.S. European Command and supreme allied commander Europe, visited U.S. Army Garrison Italy, Feb. 27. His visit focused on Army Family Housing construction, schools and the mission of the Southern European Task Force, Africa. During his visit, Cavoli toured construction sites at Caserma Ederle and Villaggio alongside garrison leaders.

New culinary outpost kiosk opens on Fort Drum

FORT DRUM, N.Y. – The 10th Mountain Division continues efforts to promote the health and well-being of its Soldiers while maintaining a focus on Holistic Health and Fitness, which encompasses not only the physical aspect of health, but also mental, sleep, spiritual and nutritional aspects that keep Soldiers in the fight. Culinary specialists are doing their part to support those efforts by offering the culinary outpost kiosk focused on grab-n-go for Soldiers.

413th CSB conducts Pacific Pathways RoC drill

SCHOFIELD BARRACKS, Hawaii – The 413th Contracting Support Brigade conducted a Pacific Pathways rehearsal of concept drill. The event was the culmination of months of planning and forecasting for fiscal year 2025 and 2026 missions. The drill served as a training event for new members of the 413th CSB, allowing them to understand how the brigade supports U.S. Indo-Pacific Command.

Soldiers receive mission-critical training at Tobyhanna

TOBYHANNA, Pa. – The fate of future missions could rest on the skills honed at Tobyhanna Army Depot, where National Guard Soldiers underwent training essential to the Defense Department strategic objectives, provided by the civilians who keep them safe. This collaborative training between TYAD and the Army National Guard highlights their shared commitment to ensuring personnel are equipped with the knowledge and skills.

Students learn about STEM careers at Army educational event

PICATINNY ARSENAL, N.J. – Students from 17 area schools attended an event designed to encourage teenagers to pursue technical careers needed to ensure our nation's future military readiness with a technically proficient workforce. The "Introduce a Teen to Engineering" gathering gave students an opportunity to meet and discuss Science, Technology, Engineering and Math topics with some of the nation's top engineers and scientists from across the Army.

FOCUS ON THE FORCE

Partnerships help garrison take care of warfighters

Sustainment director retires after half century of service

Thomas, DePeters named TYAD Employees of the Quarter

Fort Drum employees recognized for performance

NEWS AROUND THE ARMY

Driscoll sworn in as 26th
Secretary of the Army

Army launches 2025 Tenant Satisfaction Survey

'Zero Trust' architecture could prevent adversary data theft, protect warfighters

New system gives Soldiers more control of PCS moves