Order in the Court! Kinnick High School Mock Trial Teams Complete in 2025 Annual Competition

Story by Cynthia Abel, Journalism Student at Nile C. Kinnick High School

Two teams from Nile C. Kinnick High School claimed first and second place awards in the annual Department of Defense Education Activity (DoDEA) High School Mock Trial Competition Saturday, April 12 at the Yokosuka Naval Base courthouse. Proceedings began bright and early at 8:30 a.m.

Attorneys and legal professionals from Yokosuka and Sasebo joined five teams composed of around 10 students each took to the stand to prove beyond a reasonable doubt that they delivered the best case in the courthouse.

Kinnick's Defense Team 1, led by coaches Charles Moore and John Aguon, took first place in the competition, and Kinnick's Prosecution Team 1, led by coaches Regina DiMaggio and Drake Stobie, took second place.

Part of Defense Team 1, playing not only the case's defendant but also an attorney, high school senior Nicole Cornejo emphasized, "I feel very satisfied to know my team won the mock trial competition. My team had a few setbacks, with some people needing to take on a few more roles at the last minute, but we powered through and had a few more meetings leading up to the competition." Although she had to take up new roles to fill in gaps within her team, Cornejo believes, "our trust in each other is what helped us win!"

Kinnick 11th grader Erick Ricardo, who played a key role as an attorney part of Prosecution Team 1 stated, "Second place is a really big accomplishment considering we won all of our rounds! I'm really proud of my team and the work they put in -- extra practices, lunch meetings, and many trial runs."

On top of the hope of winning the competition as a whole, students participating were grateful for all the things they've gained from the experience.

Freshman and first-year mock trial student Gabby Strauss highlighted, "First year overall, I absolutely loved it. Next year I'll probably want to be an attorney, but I built relationships and now I have a bunch more friends who share the same interests as me, and then next year as an attorney, I hope to build even more skills. But this year as a witness, I think I just focused on public speaking and built so many skills that I never thought I would use."

Senior Samuel Montgomery, who had a role as an attorney part of Kinnick's Prosecution Team 2 added, "I think the best part of the mock trial competition is kind of the way it throws you out in front of a jury and it kind of forces you to grow your voice, you know, you can't talk quietly when you're up on the stand and it really puts you in the spotlight, you kind of become a better talker and presenter through that pressure."

As to what is coming for the mock trial competition next year, lead mock trial coordinator Dominique Lapole underlines, "I hope the students will realize that it's a lot easier than it looks on TV and that more people will go into the practice of law. I think that a lot of people are afraid that it's a profession that, for some reason, they may not be qualified to do or might be too tough. I wasn't a particularly good student in school, and I figured it out, and I think that every student can as well, so, I hope that students will be encouraged to participate more. Next year, I hope to see a lot of new faces in the mock trial competition. It will be stronger than ever, we think bigger than ever, and we're ready to support the needs of the students in learning about the law."

Active Parenting of Teens :)

For Parents of Teens and 'Tweens

The challenge of successfully ushering children through their teen years has always been among parents' hardest-won achievements. But in today's society where children seem to become adults overnight, and where they often make decisions about drugs, sexuality, and violence before they understand the consequences, a parent's job is more important than ever. So how can you ensure that your teens develop the skills and character they need to not only survive but to thrive as they gain independence?

You can create harmony and stability in your family while raising your teens to be responsible, courageous and prepared for independent life. Active Parenting of Teens, a video and discussion program by parenting expert Dr. Michael Popkin, will show you how. In six sessions packed with activities, discussion, real-world examples, and feedback, you'll learn a proven approach to parenting, plus indispensable techniques and insights for overcoming obstacles, that will bring happiness and harmony into your home. You'll leave each session energized and motivated to make positive and realistic changes in your own family's daily life.

Since 1983, millions of families have learned the benefits of Active Parenting. Now it's your turn.

Join us at the next session and see the difference!

Narrated by TV mom Daphne Maxwell Reid ("The Fresh Prince of Bel-Air") and by the author, Dr. Michael Popkin

Active Parenting of Teens will give you the guidance and support you need to turn the challenges of raising a teenager into opportunities for growth. You'll learn:

- Methods of respectful discipline
- Skills for clear, honest communication

...and much more, plus insight into important issues such as teens online, bullying, and depression.
